

Chapter 377 A Sadistic Man

Ryan immediately left after the phone call.

Xavier and Michelle rushed out to follow behind the man without a word. They couldn't leave Ryan's side no matter the situation.

Spencer was worried and wanted to follow them. But he was pulled back by James who stopped him. "Brother, where are you going? Adams had just said that he wanted Ryan to go there. If you follow him there, you will undoubtedly cause trouble for yourself. "

James was also present here and heard the conversation between Ryan and Adams. From his words, that man named Adams Redmond didn't sound like a normal person at all.

Would a sane person leave a six-month-old child to die because he had some grudges with her father?

Spencer going to Adams's place was like inviting trouble for himself.

Spencer's face was unusually serious. "I am also responsible for Elena's kidnapping. I can't just turn my back and let Ryan go alone. Although I have some conflicts with Ryan, now is not the time to care about those matters."

Although Elena only treated him as a friend, Spencer's feelings towards Elena was very complicated.

Whether it's love or something else, he didn't know. But what he knew was he couldn't let Elena go, nor could he let Ryan face the danger alone.

Therefore, he could only follow Ryan and try to rescue Elena together.

James wanted to stop him again, but Spencer broke free and quickly caught up with Ryan.

Ryan paused for a second when he saw Spencer rushing over. But he didn't say anything. Four men took a car and quickly left for Adams's place.

No one knew where Adams's lived. Although Skylar had given some information about Adams's whereabouts before, Adams frequently changed places and moved to some unknown places before they could track him down.

Moreover, it didn't matter where Adams lived, as long as Ryan knew what he was doing.

For today's meeting, Adams had sent a location for them to come. It was a place in suburbs, quite far from the city centre where the KING headquarters situated.

They had to use navigation to find that place.

Sitting at the backseat, Spencer glanced at the city lights which was gradually fading from their line of sight and at the dense forest by which they were passing by. He couldn't help shaking his head. "This lunatic. . . Is he a gorilla or something? Who lives in such a remote place?"

"He's in mafia. It helps him to escape at the right time." Michelle answered from the front seat.

"What a psycho!" Spencer shook his head in disgust. In his opinion, Adams was a complete crazy person.

Ryan sat quietly at the back seat. His face was hidden in shadows and couldn't be seen. He was unaffected by the conversation inside the car.

He looked cold and aloof on the surface, but his clenched fists revealed his true emotions at this moment.

Although Adams agreed not to hurt Elena, Ryan was not very confident that Adams would keep his words, given his character.

He didn't know where Elena was or how she was at this moment.

Ryan rubbed his hand over his face. He had to find Adams before Adams did something to harm Elena and the child.

It took them nearly three hours to reach the place Adams mentioned. It was already midnight by the time they reached their destination.

Ryan got off the car and looked over at the place.

They were now at the top of a low mountain, surrounded by dense forest. It was the location where Adams's residence was but there was not a single house on the flat ground. There was only empty terrain.

The others got off the car and looked around the place in confusion.

Xavier couldn't help but mutter. "Did we come to wrong place?"

There was no building or house around this place. How could someone possibly live here?

Michelle immediately checked his phone. "No. It's the location they sent."

"Could it be that he lives in the forest?" Spencer went over to the edge of the mountain and looked down at the dense forest beneath it.

"It's underground." Ryan said calmly at this moment.

The three men turned to look at him in surprise.

Ryan took a few steps forward and propelled the ground with his foot. "The house had been built underground. This entire mountain is his dominion."

As soon as he finished speaking, some rustling sound was heard. A man with tattoos all over his body appeared at the corner the mountain and walked over towards them.

He sized the four men up with an unfriendly gaze. "Which one is Leonardo Reynolds?"

"I am." Ryan expressionlessly walked in front of the tattooed man.

"My master has been waiting for you for a long time. Follow me in." The tattooed man led the way in front.

Ryan ordered Xavier and Michelle to stay in the car while he went together with the tattooed man.

The tattooed man had just taken a few steps forward when he saw another man following behind Ryan. He instantly stopped and said sternly. "What are you doing? Only Leonardo Reynolds is allowed to enter."

Spencer looked over in surprise. "Why? Is your Master afraid of me?"

Just as he finished speaking, a gun was pointed at Spencer's head.

Spencer instantly held his hands up. "I have no other motive. I just want to follow and see the fight between your master and this man."

Ryan's face was cold as he watched Spencer's act. He didn't care if the tattooed man would shoot Spencer.

The tattooed man was unconvinced. Spencer said again, "I'm Spencer Foster. Your Master also know me. I've heard a lot about your master so I want to see him. Anyway, with so many people inside, what I can possibly do?"

The tattooed man pondered for a moment before finally nodding. He put the weapon down and led the way.

In any case, his master was going to eliminate Leonardo Reynolds today. It didn't matter if they had to finish another person.

At the corner of the mountain, they saw a flight of stairs leading to an elevator. Ryan and Spencer followed the man silently.

The tattooed man took them inside the elevator.

There were fingerprint sensors in the elevators and only a few people could access through it.

No one could enter or leave the building offhandedly.

The tattooed man gave his fingerprint and the elevator started to descend.

Ryan glanced at the numbers flashing at the top of the elevator. They passed a total sixteen floors underground before stopping at the seventeenth floor.

Ryan was a little surprised. He didn't expect Adams to be so vigilant and meticulous.

Adams had built his own world underground.

Coming out of the elevator, they followed the tattooed man and passed through the basement of the seventeenth floor.

As they arrived at the eighteenth floor, Spencer could not help frowning when he looked at the surroundings. "Is this man a pervert?"

Ryan looked around. The surroundings were deep red where various things were placed. And these things were adult furniture which were probably used for sexual plays.

"Is he a sadist too?" Spencer saw the things and gasped in surprise.

Ryan immediately shot him a cold look. He felt Spencer was talking too much.

Spencer did not say anything else.

The two of them passed another long corridor, before finally stopping in front of a transparent room.

The tattooed man pushed open the door and motioned them to go inside.

The two of them came to the transparent room. Ryan found a man wearing red clothes sitting inside.

The man had long hair which fell over his shoulders leisurely. He was leaning on a big couch which was placed opposite to them and his face couldn't be seen. Holding a cigar in his hands, he was taking deep puffs.

Spencer's eyes widened when he saw this. "Although I have never seen Adams before, I have heard a lot about him. But I didn't expect him to be such a feminine man."

Which man would wear such a bright red robe and keep such long hair? It's simply too disturbing to watch!

Ryan didn't say anything. He wasn't in the mood to care if Adams was feminine or not. He only cared about his wife and child.

Adams heard the sound and turned around. Ryan and Spencer finally saw his face.

With just one look, Spencer was again surprised. He had heard people describing how ruthless and cruel Adams was, so he naturally imagined Adams as a very robust and masculine man.

However, when they really saw him, it turned out that Adams was very effeminate. Not only his attire was feminine but he looked very ladylike too.

Contrary to Spencer's astonishment, Ryan remained expressionless. He stared at the man in front of him gloomily.

"You're finally here." Adams put on a bright red bathrobe which exposed his naked upper body. He had a charming smile on his face when he looked at Ryan.

Ryan looked at him coldly. "Where's my wife?"

"What's so hurry? Take a seat first." Adams pointed at the sofa with a smile.

Ryan glanced at Adams and his face clouded over. He raised his leg and kicked away the sofa that Adams pointed.

"Where is my wife?" A terrifying aura appeared in the man's features.

Adams's face froze. The smile on his face gradually disappeared as he stood up. His loose hair fell to his chest and he walked over.

"You're indeed the same as I heard. Cold and gloomy. This is the first time we met and you are so cold. This makes me very unhappy." His tone was carrying a deep grievance.

Spencer's nose wrinkled in disbelief when he heard Adams's coquettish tone. Was this man really a mafia?

If not for the fact that Adams and Ryan were enemies, Spencer would have thought that Adams was seducing Ryan.

"You kidnapped my wife and child. Do you think I should have a good attitude towards you?" Ryan heard Adams's voice and felt very disgusted. He was clearly a man, so why did he have to suppress his voice to speak?

Adams paused. He then snorted. "Of course. But don't forget what you came here for today. As long as you beat me, I will let go of your wife and child."

When he said this, Adams raised his hand to touch Ryan. He appeared extremely abnormal and twisted.

Ryan immediately took a step back as if avoiding a deadly disease. His face immediately revealed a disgusted expression.

Adams's expression changed. "Do you hate me?"

"I don't have so much time to waste on a perverted man like you." Ryan sneered. He felt uncomfortable the moment he saw this man. He did not know what had gone wrong with this man's brain.

"Hahaha, Leonardo Reynolds, do you know that no one would dare to say such words in front of me?" Adams stood up straight. He turned around and went to his bed which was placed at the centre of the room. He laid on his side and smiled. "You are courting death."
