

Chapter 383 Helping Him Indirectly

When Ryan heard Michelle say that Adams was the abandoned child of the royal family, his heart was filled with shock.

He had heard his mother say that the people of the royal family were looking for their missing child, but he didn't expect it to be Adams.

Was there such a coincidence exist in this world?

Adams’s men were in a dilemma. They were already worried about Adams’s injuries and now that they heard Adams was a lost prince, their worry increased thousandfold.

After a moment of thinking, the men in the lead finally said, “I can promise you, but if you dare to play tricks, even if we search all of Western Europe, we won't let you go."

Saying that, the man in the lead immediately let the three of them go.

What they said was right. Adams was the abandoned child of the royal family, the boss of Black Rock Gang. They did not dare to let Adams take the risk. If anything happened, they could not afford to take the consequences.

Xavier, Michelle and Spencer immediately came to Ryan’s side. Ryan held Adams as a human shield in front of them as they retracted backwards to their car.

Just as they were about to get on the car, sharp sound of brakes came behind them. Ryan looked over and saw fleet of vehicles coming over.

The cars stopped and a large group of people in black suits came out.

Adams’s men immediately pointed their guns at them when they saw it. The man in the lead shouted. "Leonardo Reynolds, you are playing dirty!"

Ryan looked back. He did not bring anyone with him. Who were these people?

When Spencer saw them, he already knew who they were. It must be James who knew that he was in danger here, so he told his father to come and save him.

Spencer looked at Ryan and said, "They are from the Foster family."

At this moment, Marcus and James came to the front of the crowd. Marcus's face was cold and indifferent. When he saw Spencer was still tied up with a face full of bruises, he instantly became angry. “Spencer, I told you not to cause any more trouble, right? How dare you come to mess here with this Leonardo Reynolds? You have really disgraced Foster family."

Spencer furrowed his brows. This old man was a mighty figure at home. He didn't expect that this old man wouldn't give him any face outside.

James sighed at the side. Spencer came here to save Elena and her child, and he and his father came here to save Spencer. They were clearly people with feelings and loyalty, but they insisted on quarreling endlessly.

Spencer was about to refute Marcus when James hurriedly interrupted him. "Brother, Dad came here to save you. Don't say anything else. "

"Who are you? How dare you come here to mess up?” Adams’s men pointed their guns at these people, afraid that they would attack Adams.

“Marcus Foster, from the Western European Foster family.” Marcus's cold voice was heard.

The man in the lead frowned. He had heard of the Western European Foster family before. They were working for the royal family.

"You kidnapped my son. Of course, I came here to rescue him.” Marcus knew that the four of them were trapped here. If they wanted to leave, they had to bring Adams with them, which wasn’t that easy in the presence of Adams’s people.

Therefore, he brought his people over, to avoid any unfortunate incident.

"You can take your men away immediately. We only want our boss." The leading man swore to protect Adams even if it meant death. If anything happened, all of them would die together with him.

Marcus knew that this was their bottom line, so he didn't need to continue bargaining.

Marcus turned to Ryan and said, "We are here to save my son. If you want to leave, leave now. Otherwise, if you think you have the ability to escape, you can continue to fight with them.”

Marcus was indirectly helping him out. Ryan understood it and nodded. “Thank you for your help, Master Foster. I will definitely return your favor for what you have done today."

Elena was no longer here. Even if they stayed, it would be useless. They might as well go back and think of a way to save Elena and Ian.

"If that's the case, then this Adams is useless." Marcus reminded Ryan to let Adams go as soon as possible. Otherwise, none of them would be able to leave.

Ryan heard it and immediately pushed Adams away as if he was throwing a bag of garbage.

Adams fell down on the ground. Those people quickly supported the unconscious Adams.

Although they were full of resentment, they didn't dare to act rashly because the men of Foster family were here. They could only watch helplessly as all of them left.
