Chapter 22: Chapter 22 Eventually Became the Person I Hate the Most

[Time never grows old, we never part]

"Perfect score in all subjects?? Goodness, this is unbelievable!"

"Is this from our province?"

"This is a monster, getting a perfect score in one subject is already amazing, but in all subjects... I wouldn't dare dream about this!"

"..."

As soon as the article was forwarded, there were exclamations of shock in the group chat.

At this moment, Li Bin followed up with a message: "Click it, you guys click it!!"

The classmates, sensing his excitement, clicked on the link instinctively.

But once they clicked in, every single one of them was dumbfounded.

[Today, East Mountain Province's college entrance exam results were announced. Lin Beichen from North Mountain City's North Mountain No. 3 High School scored a perfect 750 points in all subjects, securing the title of the top science student in East Mountain Province in advance, marking the first student in the history of the college entrance exam to achieve a perfect score in all subjects...]

The article first briefly introduced Lin Beichen's status as the top student and the weight of this title, followed by Lin Qian's interview with him, showcasing eye-catching questions such as his choice of university and his reasons for such rapid improvement.

The article ended with a video, featuring Lin Qian's full interview with Lin Beichen.

"North Mountain No. 3's Lin Beichen??"

"Could it be our class's Brother Chen???"

"Isn't there another Lin Beichen in our grade level??"

"Lin Beichen? Is this top student with a perfect score actually named Lin Beichen? Did I read it wrong? Can someone tell me if I'm seeing things??"

"..."

Questions filled the screen!

The group was full of classmates who had studied alongside Lin Beichen for a full three years, and they knew each other's academic capabilities better than any teacher or parent.

Even after reading the detailed information about Lin Beichen, they still found it hard to believe!

It wasn't until...

They clicked on the video one after another and saw Lin Beichen himself appear on the screen, causing a momentary silence in the group chat!

No one spoke!

They were all trying to process this hard-to-accept reality!

Lin Beichen is the top student in the college entrance exam??

Being the top student is one thing, but with a perfect score in all subjects??

No way! How could he be the top student with a perfect score?

He was ranked at the bottom of the class and grade level; how did he become the top student with a perfect score??

He wasn't pretending to be bad all the time, was he??

Pretending for a full three years...

Just to make a stunning debut?

Could this be possible??

At this moment, a message suddenly appeared in the previously idle chat box.

It was from the class teacher Sun Qing!

Sun Qing: "Everyone, don't doubt it. I just wanted to share this exhilarating news with you. This year's top science student in our province, and the only one in the history of the college entrance exam to score perfect in all subjects, is our class's Lin Beichen!"

She had intended to report the confirmed results to Director Zhang and then tell the class, but after the report, a pile of work kept her busy until now!

There was an official release from the provincial education department, and her confirmation as their class teacher.

Despite the thousands of questions in their minds, the students of Class Seven had no choice but to accept this fact.

"I just can't believe it... Lin Beichen is the top student with a perfect score in all subjects, and he used to hang out with me at the internet cafe doing group quests! I scored over 300 points while he got a perfect score? I am never taking him to play again!"

"Listen to Lin Beichen talk, does it even sound human? 'It's a matter of talent'? What kind of talent is this amazing?"

"I just said that our class has little pressure without any top students. Well, I turned out to be the clown? The top student in the province... No, the history's top student is in our class!"

"Brother Chen said, 'With a slight effort, I already know the limits of this exam,' regardless of the upper or lower limits, I can handle them all!"

"No wonder Brother Chen hasn't been active lately. Got it, he became the top student, so the feelings have faded and we're drifting apart?"

"@Lin Beichen, top student, come out and let us admire you!"

"@Lin Beichen"

"@Lin Beichen"

"..."

For a moment, every classmate started tagging Lin Beichen.

In his room, after reading the forwarded article, Lin Beichen initially didn't want to respond, as he didn't know what to say.

But...

With everyone tagging him.

He had to muster the courage to say something.

Lin Beichen: "Well... there is some innate talent, and I was also quite lucky, performed well, you guys don't need to be overly surprised. Let's do this, I'll perform a magic trick to lighten the mood, a traditional magic trick of disappearing!"

As soon as he sent this message, numerous replies popped up.

"Oh wow, finally showing up!"

"Brother Chen, Brother Chen, you turned into the person you dislike the most. The way you're showing off, seriously!"

"Lin Beichen, have you decided which university to attend now?"

"Goodness, you call this performing well? Just 'well'?"

"..."

But soon, someone realized...

Lin Beichen had gone offline!

Only then did they understand how he was going to perform this traditional magic trick.

He just went offline directly??

Of course, Lin Beichen didn't actually go offline; he just went invisible.

While the naive ones were listing his "seven sins" in the class group, the smart ones had started sending him private messages, like Li Yang and Zhang Hao.

He was replying to them.

Suddenly!

There was a knock on his door.

"Knock knock—" freewebeve[.com

"Son, son, come out, hurry hurry!"

Zheng Xia's voice came from outside the door, filled with urgency, excitement, and joy.

Lin Beichen wondered what was happening, put down his phone, and hurriedly went to open the door.

Before it was fully open.

An arm stretched in, clutching a phone.

At the door, Zheng Xia and Lin Xiangdong looked at Lin Beichen expectantly, their eyes occasionally glancing at the phone, gesturing eagerly for him to take the call.

Lin Beichen, bewildered by their actions, took the phone that was already on speaker mode, and said, "Hello."

"Hello Lin Beichen, this is Sun Minghao from the Admissions Office at Imperial Capital University."

It was a call from Imperial Capital University!

Lin Beichen immediately understood the situation; they were competing with other universities to recruit him.

Actually, Sun Minghao had originally planned to directly contact his parents to get them to decide and sign the agreement for studying at Imperial Capital University.

However...

Despite their excitement and thrill, Lin's parents remained rational, thinking it's their child's decision, so they didn't agree immediately and transferred the call to Lin Beichen.

"Hello, Director Sun."

"Lin Beichen, I watched the interview with you on the provincial TV station. I understand you haven't decided which university to choose yet. Given that, I would like to take this opportunity to personally extend an invitation to you on behalf of Imperial Capital University, hoping you'll choose to begin your college journey with us!"

Chapter 23: Chapter 23 The Man Everyone in the World Wants to Have

"I haven't decided yet..."

"Ring ring... Ring ring..."

Lin Beichen was about to say something when his father's phone rang.

Lin Xiangdong didn't want to interrupt Lin Beichen's call with the Imperial Capital University's admissions office, so he instinctively answered the phone and walked to the side. "Hello, who's this?"

"Hello, is this Lin Beichen's father?"

"Yes, it's me."

"Hello, I'm Li Donghua, the director of the admissions office at Huaqing University. I tried calling Lin Beichen's mother, but the line was busy, so I thought I'd try you. I'm glad it worked out, haha!" freewebnovel.com

Lin Xiangdong: ?

Is my son really this popular?

Of course, he knew why Huaqing University was calling at this time.

For a moment, he couldn't help but look at Lin Beichen with a gaze full of joy, excitement, and a lot of pride and admiration. Just over a month ago, he was worried sick about this kid's studies, thinking that getting into a junior college would be a blessing from the ancestors. But now, not only is he the top scorer, but two of the best universities in Huaxia are vying for him!

Life is unpredictable!

Lin Xiangdong replied politely, "Hello, Director Li. Lin Beichen's mother is currently on the phone with Director Sun from Imperial Capital University. Please wait a moment. Once they finish their conversation, I'll have Lin Beichen take your call."

On the other end of the line, Li Donghua's expression changed slightly.

As expected!

It's that old Sun from Imperial University!

He had suspected as much when he found Lin Beichen's mother's phone constantly busy. His worst fear had come true!

Imperial Capital University got to them first!

Wait until they finish talking?

By then, he wouldn't have a chance!

No way!

Li Donghua earnestly requested, "Mr. Lin, could you please let me speak with Lin Beichen now, and let me also talk with Director Sun from Imperial Capital University at the same time?"

"Well..."

Lin Xiangdong hesitated briefly but quickly made up his mind. "Okay!"

This is just like job poaching by big companies - only by openly bidding against each other can the highest benefits be achieved!

It would give his son more options and better offers.

He didn't feel embarrassed about his decision!

"Lin, I understand you haven't decided which university to choose, but please believe me, the resources at Imperial Capital University are unmatched by any other university..."

As Lin Xiangdong walked towards Lin Beichen, he heard Sun Minghao passionately advocating for Imperial Capital University.

When he reached Lin Beichen, Lin Xiangdong put the phone on speaker mode and said, "This is Director Li Donghua from the admissions office at Huaqing University. He also wants to talk to you."

"Hello, Lin. You probably know why I'm calling. I'll be direct. On behalf of Huaqing University, I sincerely hope you choose us."

Having heard what Sun Minghao said earlier, Li Donghua wasn't going to back down easily. "Director Sun, I have to disagree with what you said. What do you mean by Imperial Capital University providing resources that other universities can't? Tell me, what resources can you offer that Huaqing University cannot?"

"Oh, it's Director Li. I'm currently in a conversation with Lin. Isn't it a bit rude to butt in like this?"

Sun Minghao wasn't backing down either.

Li Donghua smirked internally. Rude? This is a top scorer with perfect marks. So what if it's rude? Better rude than losing him!

However, he knew he was in the wrong, so he avoided a direct response and turned to Lin Beichen instead. "Lin, if you choose Huaqing University, we'll offer you a full scholarship, waive your tuition fees, and guarantee admission to our master's and doctoral programs. You can even choose any of our renowned professors as your mentor!"

"Is that all Huaqing can offer? It seems a bit stingy."

Sneering, Sun Minghao added, "Lin, if you agree to come to Imperial Capital University, we'll match Huaqing's offer and add a signing bonus of fifty thousand yuan!"

"Lin, I forgot to mention, Huaqing University also offers a signing bonus, just twenty thousand yuan more than Imperial Capital University."

"..."

For a moment, Lin Beichen couldn't get a word in. The two top universities' admissions directors were at each other's throats, constantly upping their offers, neither willing to back down!

Open competition between Imperial Capital University and Huaqing University for talent was nothing new.

But they at least maintained some courtesy on the surface. It was the first time it had gotten this contentious!

After all...

Top scorers are common, but a top scorer with perfect scores is a rarity in the history of college entrance exams!

No one wants to miss out!

"Directors, could you both please pause for a moment?"

Just as Sun Minghao and Li Donghua were about to get into another argument, Lin Beichen interrupted them.

With a mix of amusement and exasperation, Lin Beichen looked at the two phones on either side, his head throbbing from their bickering!

"Here's the thing, directors. I haven't had a chance to seriously consider which university to attend yet. I need some time to think it over calmly before making a decision. Could you give me some time?"

All Lin Beichen could think of was whether the "expansion" he'd observed earlier had fully recovered. He had no time to worry about which university to choose. He also didn't want to make a hasty decision, considering the implications for where he would be in the coming years and the environment needed for his cultivation method creation. So, he opted for a delaying tactic.

Seeing Lin Beichen's stance, neither Sun Minghao nor Li Donghua wanted to pressure him further. They only repeated their offers and then said their goodbyes before hanging up.

However, just as Lin Beichen was about to return to his room to continue his visualization practice...

The two cell phones that had just been hung up rang again simultaneously.

His parents exchanged glances, having the same thought—

Another one trying to recruit him!

They answered the calls.

As expected!

One was from Shanghai Jiao Tong University, the other from Fudan University.

The scene was like a replay of what had just happened, ending once again with Lin Beichen delaying the decision.

Then...

The phones rang again the next second!

Universities like Southeast University, Imperial Capital Normal University, Huaxia University of Political Science and Law, Huaxia University of Science and Technology, and any other well-known universities in the country were all calling to try to recruit him. Even those that didn't really expect to succeed still gave it a shot. After all, you never know.

What if this perfect scorer ended up choosing their school?

Calls kept coming for over an hour before they finally subsided.

Lin Beichen's mouth was dry from declining all the offers. He shook his head and said, "Dad, Mom, no more answering numbers we don't recognize. I've got plenty of universities to choose from!"

With that, he headed toward his bedroom. Thinking about the visualization practice he could soon return to, he felt a little thrill. The fatigue from over an hour of phone calls faded away.

But he hadn't taken more than a few steps.

The phone rang again.

"I already told Dad and Mom!"

Lin Beichen muttered to himself. He knew how reliable his parents were, so he didn't worry about it and continued to his room.

As he reached his bedroom door and touched the handle!

At almost the same time—

His parents called from behind.

"Chenchen, it's your second aunt!"

"Chenchen, it's your elder aunt!"

Lin Beichen: ...??

Seriously?

Is this never going to end? How is anyone supposed to cultivate!

Ugh!

Chapter 24: Chapter 24: A Slight Attempt Reveals the Limit

The seventh and eighth aunts of Lin Beichen found out about his achievement in becoming the top scorer in the college entrance examination so quickly, thanks to the power of the internet.

At this moment, the internet is already flooded with reports about Lin Beichen!

On TikTok.

The top trending topic on TikTok is [The first full marks scorer in the history of the college entrance examination appears], click into it, and you find various TikToks...

Some are card-style, with a black background and either white or red text introducing Lin Beichen, accompanied by particularly uplifting music.

Others are short clips edited from Lin Qian's lengthy interview with Lin Beichen.

On Weibo, the scene is much bigger than on TikTok.

Besides the similar topic [The first full marks scorer in the history of the college entrance examination] topping the trending list with a boiling point stance, there are another three or four topics about Lin Beichen out of thirty in the hot-searched list.

And among these trending topics.

The most popular, most liked, and most commented Weibo post is the full version video of Lin Qian's interview with Lin Beichen, released by the official Weibo account of the East Mountain Province Education Department.

"Amazing, incredible, full marks in all subjects, too strong!"

"The first full marks scorer comes from East Mountain Province, worthy of being the educational powerhouse!"

"I was thinking about watching the interview video to learn study tips, but damn, turns out he's purely gifted, how can one learn from that?"

"Hey, does anyone really know our full marks scorer personally? He was at the bottom of the class a month ago, but now he's the top scorer with full marks? Why do I find it hard to believe?"

"Guess which university he will choose in the end? Huaqing, Imperial University, or maybe my great alma mater— Liao Province Advanced Vocational College?"

"Is there a chance, like in mystery novels, that Lin Beichen has a hidden genius twin brother, and it wasn't Lin Beichen who took the exam, but his brother? Think about it, doesn't this seem more plausible than a bottom-dweller becoming the full marks top scorer in one month?"

"How can I enroll my child in North Mountain No. 3 High School? I want my kid to go to North Mountain and study there!"

"Does anyone know where Lin Beichen lives? My son's grades are also horrible, and he'll take the college entrance exam next year. I want to visit and learn from him!"

The comment section is filled with variety.

Soon...

A comment posted by the ID [Fancy] quickly became the top comment —

"Is this Lin Beichen the same Lin Beichen who always handed in his exam papers early during the previous tests?"

As this comment got bumped to the top, more people saw it, and those who watched the previous interview immediately remembered, while those who didn't also went to search for more information.

"Yes, yes, it's the same person!"

"Damn, I thought he was showing off back then. Who hands in their papers early every time claiming it's not challenging at all, but now I see, it wasn't him showing off, it was me being an idiot!"

"So strong, seeing him so relaxed, even handing in each subject early, it only shows he wasn't just scoring 750 out of 750, but the exam papers only allowed him to score 750!"

"Sorry, I apologize. I saw the news at first and even criticized him online. Now looking at this... I'm the real clown!"

Even the comments under the top comment were comparable to those under other trending topics, showcasing the tremendous influence of the full marks scorer.

At the center of this media storm, Lin Beichen just returned to his room, collapsed onto his bed, his face full of exhaustion.

"The complexity of human relationships is terrifying."

Thinking about the incessant calls from his seventh and eighth aunts, bombarding him with questions, he felt a wave of fear.

After a brief rest, he quickly began his visualization practice!

"It appeared!"

The first thing Lin Beichen did was to focus on the "swelling" position, finding that it was no longer indistinct but could be visualized clearly.

"Next, I need to visualize the emergence of the two mysterious forces within my body!"

This step-by-step process had been contemplated countless times in his mind, his thoughts were crystal clear!

Let's do it, visualization started!

One second...

Two seconds...

Three seconds...

It was unknown how much time had passed.

In the Illusion Becomes Reality world.

Besides the visualized "swelling" position, it was empty!

"Is it not possible?"

Lin Beichen was unwilling to accept failure, just at that moment, suddenly, he thought about the lightning he saw on the mountain summit, and all at once, the tingling sensation of tiny electric currents coursing through his body reappeared!

"The initial ability to generate electricity in my palm didn't come from the imagined chaos, but from finding Yin and Yang Qi within my body and finally merging them into chaos."

"What's needed now..."

"Is just to visualize the initial scene!"

"That sensation..."

The feeling was real.

In the visualized world, Lin Beichen suddenly sensed two familiar yet strange forces appear out of nowhere.

"It appeared!"

"My idea is correct!"

Lin Beichen felt a surge of joy.

He immediately began to guide the two mysterious forces toward the "swelling" position.

However, as soon as he started.

He felt...

These two mysterious forces gave him a sense that following them would lead directly to the "swelling" position!

"Then I'll leave it to them!"

Lin Beichen chose to trust his instincts.

Just focus on working hard, and leave the rest to those two mysterious forces!

Soon, unexpectedly smoothly, they met at the "swelling" position, collided, and disappeared.

While the "swelling" position...

At this moment became even clearer!

"Clearer, it's becoming clearer!"

Lin Beichen felt immensely relieved, the shadow cast by his seventh and eighth aunts' concern lifted completely!

He increasingly believed in his Heaven-defying Comprehension talent, never once failing him, and not making a single mistake thus far!

"Continue!"

Lin Beichen did not slack off, he aimed to deepen the "swelling" position.

He wanted to see how deep the "swelling" position could go, what the limit was!

Visualization started!

In the Illusion Becomes Reality visualization, the two mysterious forces appeared again, letting them do their work, finally reaching the "swelling" position and colliding to disappear!

Twice...

Three times...

...

Repeating this process over and over.

The "swelling" position kept deepening!

It's unknown how many repetitions.

After the two mysterious forces collided and disappeared once again, Lin Beichen felt that the "swelling" position seemed to be engraved in the visualized world, also sensed, this must be the limit!

"Then next..."

"It's time to completely master generating electricity in my palm!"

Chapter 25: Chapter 25: Genius or Madman?

Lin Beichen was filled with anticipation. Everything was progressing too smoothly, and he didn't feel the slightest bit tired or wanting to rest. He immediately began visualizing again.

In the fantasy of "Illusion Becomes Reality," two mysterious forces emerged from the position of "swelling," and then drove them towards his palms!

"Da da... da da... da da..."

In the pitch-black bedroom, tiny flashes of light flickered, making crackling sounds.

Electricity came!

Lin Beichen wasn't surprised by this result. After all, this was only the first time; previously, the first attempt at generating electricity with his palms had never failed.

"Now let's see what happens next!"

He didn't waste any time and immediately began the second attempt.

He repeated everything he had just done.

"Da da... da da... da da..."

The familiar sound rang out.

If it weren't the middle of the night, Lin Beichen would have burst out laughing. This feeling of everything going smoothly was simply... too exhilarating!!!

One more push!

He tried again for a third time, a fourth time...

Every time he heard the crackling sound, his body and mind would experience a joyful uplift!

"It's just that the power of this electricity is still too weak!"

"Now that I've completely mastered generating electricity with my palms..."

"Is it time to move on to the next step?"

"Perhaps study how to enhance the power of this electricity? At least to the legendary level of Palm Thunder!"

By the sixth attempt, Lin Beichen had begun to ponder the future and what lay ahead!

However, before he could think further.

Suddenly!

The bright smile on his face immediately froze!

It failed!

A mysterious failure!

The familiar crackling sound was gone too.

Lin Beichen: ?

"What's going on???"

"How did it fail???"

He temporarily stopped thinking about the future and quickly began visualizing again. The "swelling" position, while not as profound as before, was still clearly felt.

"Why did it fail???"

He couldn't help but visualize again. However, this time the result was unexpected.

"Da da... da da... da da..."

The electricity returned to his palms!

Lin Beichen: ???

"Why did it succeed this time?"

"Is it playing tricks on me??"

This piqued his curiosity about what was happening, so he visualized again.

The eighth time was a success!

The ninth time was a success!

The tenth time was a failure!

He visualized another dozen times in total, and although he succeeded most of the time, there were occasional failures!

"What's going on??"

Lin Beichen checked all the situations he could think of in his visualized world, and there were no problems.

"Could it be..."

"It's like when you look at a Chinese character for a long time, it stops making sense?"

Thinking of this, he felt he might need to take a break. Just as he finished his last visualization, he noticed that the "swelling" position was already on the verge of becoming blurry.

Enough is enough!

Learning from his mistakes, Lin Beichen wouldn't make the same one twice. Tonight, oh wait, it was almost 1 a.m., so technically early this morning, he decided not to continue generating electricity with his palms. He planned to deepen the "swelling" position and then go to bed.

"But..."

"Which university should I go to?"

After deepening the "swelling" position, Lin Beichen had been ready to sleep, but then he suddenly thought of this question. He pondered it for a while, and eventually fell asleep, deep in thought.

When he opened his eyes again, it was broad daylight.

He wasn't waking up naturally, but was disturbed by the notification sound of a text message from his phone, which he had turned on last night.

He glanced at his phone; the time was 7:54.

"Who could it be?"

"Who sends a text this early in the morning?"

Lin Beichen opened the text and found it was from Li Yang—

[Chen Bro, we set the time for the teacher appreciation banquet yesterday. It's three days later, at Joyful Grand Hotel, 7 pm. I noticed you were offline the whole time, so I sent you a text to inform you. If you see this, let me know. I'm going for a morning run now. Bye~]

Lin Beichen: ...

Couldn't you send this text after your morning run?

Though he grumbled in his heart, he still sent back a text saying he got the message.

However, just after he sent the text.

An almost instant reply came back.

Li Yang: "Oh wow, the top scorer is up so early and even replied to my text. I'm really honored!"

Lin Beichen: "To hell with you!"

"..."

He was joking around with his good friend, completely unaware that the internet, which had praised and admired him yesterday, was starting to turn against him!

However...

He seemed to be unaware of yesterday's praise and admiration as well.

At this moment, on Weibo.

[First Full Marks High School Graduate in History] was still at the top, but it made the second trending topic even more glaring—

[A Genius or a Madman?]

The topic was still heating up, with the potential to reach the top spot!

Within this topic, there were no official accounts posting, only non-official media accounts and some big influencers looking to ride the wave and gain more views.

Peach Video: "East Mountain Province, on the North Mountain, full marks high school graduate Lin Beichen was caught in a bizarre action. The filmer claims it looked like he had a mental breakdown."

Chaopai News: "Yesterday, a young man with odd behavior was found on the North Mountain's summit. He claimed to be there to experience a lightning storm and made strange celebratory movements. Netizens confirmed it was the all-subject full marks high school grad—Lin Beichen!"

Professor Dong: "Genius or madman? Based on my experience, this may be a classic case of going from one extreme to another. Lin Beichen's overexcitement has overstimulated his neurons, causing this situation. Future treatment might be complicated, and a prodigy might just end here!"

Expert Gou: "Indeed, genius and madman are two sides of the same coin. Lin Beichen might have exerted his brain to the limit during the exams, now showing aftereffects. It's truly a pity!"

"..."

These Weibo posts included not only their opinions but also attached short video clips.

Though the content of the videos varied, it was clear they were edits combining two or three videos.

And those two or three videos...

Were taken by people hiding from the rain in the pavilion, using their phones!

In fact, the original uploaders didn't intend to defame Lin Beichen. They merely shared clips on their social media like WeChat Moments and TikTok as a way to document their lives, and there were no reports about Lin Beichen at the time!

But unexpectedly...

Those videos were dug out by internet sleuths and shared online to gain traffic!

Given Lin Beichen's current popularity...

The spread was incredibly rapid!

One person shares, ten share, then a hundred...

In an instant, it led to the current situation!

"No way, has Lin Beichen gone mad???"

"Looks like he's really gone mad. Who would act like that normally?"

"Oh my god, this isn't just a young prodigy failing, he went crazy right after becoming the top scorer?"

"What's the big deal? He is, after all, the first full marks high school graduate in history. His thinking can't be like ours. A genius always has unexpected behavior; he mustn't be mad!"

"Hmm? What's with these comments? Just because someone goes to the mountain top to watch a thunderstorm, they're crazy? Don't your consciences hurt?"

"I sensed something was off in his interview—so-called innate talent? That's pure madness!"

"..."

Unlike those news accounts and influencers who chose the most attention-grabbing way to post on Weibo, many reasonable comments could be found in their comment sections. Though outnumbered by those eager to watch the controversy unfold, it wasn't a one-sided scenario.

The arguments in the comment sections were intense.

After ripping into each other, in the end, both sides were wondering...

When will Lin Beichen come forward and explain?

And slap the opposing side in the face!

Slap them bagpipes!
