

Chapter 3

Alena's P.O.V. (Taliyah's Stepmother)

As I walk out of the office, I see Tali walking in to the kitchen. She is my Mate's Daughter and her birth ruined everything for my Mate. I wish there was a way to get rid of her.

"Luna Alena, will Alpha Talon be home for dinner?" an Omega asks as I am still looking at the entrance of the kitchen. She shakes me from my thoughts and I growl at her.

"No, he is away on business for a few days." I say and I make my way upstairs to our room. I need to clean myself up after what he did to me.

I know that Talon cares for no one but himself, but being his Mate gives me status. A status I would never have gotten waiting for my fated Mate. My parents proved it to me in the end, because when my Father died my Mother lost her mind and little by little she withered away.

She was killed by rogues when she wandered out of the house one night, the Pack-doctor said that she had no defensive wounds and there for he concluded that she did not put up a fight.

I swore I would never find myself in her situation and by accepting Talon as my Mate I severed the bond to my unknown Mate. As far as our kind knows the Goddess would have given him a new Mate and he would never know that I was technically his first Mate.

The hot water streaming down my back eases the pain Talon caused me, even though he made me come harder than ever before.

I close my eyes and my hand glides between my legs, I remember the feeling as he pressed against my ass and for a second it felt pleasurable. I thought for a second that he was teasing me, until he started to push harder against my backdoor.

Tears run down my cheeks as I remember the feeling as he kept pushing in, I knew it, the moment his Wolf took over. He and his Wolf are both borderline sadistic and hearing him tell me to scream, I knew he got turned on by my pain.

What I had not expected was to feel pleasure as Talon pinched my clit and I feel myself getting wet again. I pinch my clit and the small amount of pain with the pleasure I feel is enough to make me moan.

I slide down the wall and let my legs fall open. My other hand slides down my body and as I am still working my clit, I shove two fingers in to my pussy.

In my mind I relive the moment Talon's fingers pinched my clit and I keep pumping my fingers, seconds later I scream as I come on my own fingers.

Alpha Roger's P.O.V.

After ending the call with Talon I feel a little bit better, but I know that my Wolf has not settled down yet.

I let the females in my Pack run through my mind, I need to find the perfect woman for me and Talon. A knock on the door startles me out of my thoughts and I am about to get pissed, until I sense who is on the other side.

I tell him to enter and in walks my best Delta. He took a chosen Mate recently, but he told me she is acting out.

"How is your Mate doing?" I ask him and the murderous look in his eyes tells me enough. "Talon is on his way, send her here as soon as he arrives." A smirk crosses his face and he nods his head.

I ask him if there was a reason for his visit and he tells me I already helped him out with it.

Half an hour later Talon is sitting on the couch as a soft knock on the door is heard. "Come in." I say as I smile at Talon, he has no idea of the treat waiting on the other side of the door.

"You wanted to see me, Alpha Roger?" She asks, while she looks at the floor. "Why don't you close the door and take a seat." I gesture at the chair on the other side of my desk.

As she sits down, Talon gets up and I know the same thing runs through his mind.

"Your Mate tells me you have some trouble adjusting to your mated life." I say quietly and her head snaps up. I can tell she had not seen that one coming. Talon takes the seat next to her and asks her what the problem is.

Her eyes return to the floor as she whispers "He wants to do things I don't want." Talon asks if she can tell him what those things might be. The way he is talking I would almost think he actually cares, but I think I know why he is acting this way.

She softly tells him that her Mate wants to share her with his brother, that he wants them to take her at the same time.

My cock hardens thinking about that sight and I know that before the night is over she will know that it would have been easier if she had given in. Talon puts his hand on her knee and asks her why she refused it.

She slowly looks up at him and tells him that she is a virgin, that she can't imagine having two men at the same time.

She tries to move away from Talon as his hand is sliding up her leg and I move to the door and lock it, using my Werewolf speed. It startles her as soon as she hears the click of the lock.

"Sweetheart, you are going to find out, it might have been better if you had given in to your Mate. Because now you will learn that we don't care what you want, we only care about what we want." Talon says as he shoves his hand between her legs.
