Chapter 211

With their arms linked, they walked into the hotel, where the staff led them to the banquet hall on the first floor.

Instead of the bride and groom, the Ashton family welcomed the guests at the entrance.

Candace and Zachary were welcoming the guests at the entrance. As everyone knew Patrick's parents were not around anymore, they could understand why there was no one from the Lowen family to welcome the guests.

Zachary, dressed in a silver-gray suit, seemed lively with a broad smile. One could tell he was genuinely happy.

Meanwhile, Candace wore a long white evening gown and gorgeous makeup, making her look elegant.

When they saw Gwendolyn, their face fell.

In a cold voice, Zachary uttered, "She didn't show up when we asked her to come over for gown fitting. So, that's because she's attending the event with someone else."

With a sneer, Candace said, "Darling, both of your daughters are so capable. Fel is marrying the head of the most influential family in Avenport, while Gwen will be marrying into the second most powerful family."

As Zachary glanced coldly at Zayden and Gwendolyn at the front, Zayden walked up to them and said calmly, "Mr. Ashton, Mrs. Ashton, congratulations!"

Although Candace and Zachary were not fond of Gwendolyn, they would still show respect for Zachary.

"Mr. Surrington, this way, please. Your parents are inside. Do you need my help to show you where they are?"

Meanwhile, Gwendolyn sat at the table in the banquet hall. Zayden, who sat close to her, picked up a piece of fruit with a fork and fed it to her.

Gwendolyn was taken aback as she tilted her head back before eating the fruit he offered.

“Zayden, I can do it myself.”

They had been photographed countless times along the way from the entrance to the banquet hall. He made it seem like something was going on between them by sitting close to her and feeding her fruits intimately.

Besides, she could already sense an intent gaze on her, making her feel a chill running down her back.

However, after glancing around, she did not spot anyone staring at her.

The gaze was familiar, but cold and terrifying.

When Zayden saw her blushing, he flashed her a faint smile with his lips quirked up.

“I am willing to serve you.”

With that, Gwendolyn chuckled. A genuine, happy smile spread across her face.

"Gwen, can you not go?"

Due to her money-grubbing personality, Gwendolyn insisted on taking up this job anyway, since she would be paid five times as much for her overtime work.

She patted Zayden's hand and said, "I'll be back real soon. Just stay here and wait for me."

She then withdrew her hand and followed Liam away.

The man upstairs stared at the man below who had grasped Gwendolyn's hand. His eyes darkened.

After all, men would understand other men better. Patrick was very well aware that Zayden liked Gwendolyn very much.

As he had not appeared in her life before that, Zayden was able to get closer to her.

However, now that he was there for her, Patrick would not give Zayden the chance to do so anymore.

Kevin watched as Gwendolyn followed Liam away and felt disinterested after that.

"Pat, you're just too mean to her. Since you're already engaged to another woman, can't you just let Gwen date another guy too?"

Regardless of how odd his words sounded, it was natural and right for Gwendolyn to date someone else if Patrick got engaged to a woman.

She felt somewhat displeased, for she felt as if she was his maid at that moment.

However, Gwendolyn had to suppress her discontent as the thought of earning more money came to her mind. She needed to earn money quickly, so she could buy a house of her own as soon as possible.

With that thought in her mind, a smile flitted across her face as she carefully delivered the food to his mouth.

Patrick then opened his mouth and ate the food.

As he chewed on the food, Patrick's gaze became even more unfathomable while he stared at her.

Gwendolyn was considered a mentally strong person. If it were for someone else, they would not have been able to withstand his intense gaze.

Kevin laughed. "You're being treated like a king now, Pat!"

While she fed him some of the other dishes, Gwendolyn remarked, "Mr. Chavez, since Mr. Lowen offered me five times more than the usual wage for just sampling the dishes, I would certainly treat him like a king now."

With that, she approached Patrick and winked at him.

"Is there anything else you'd like to eat, Your Majesty? I'll be glad to feed it to you."

The two socialites who came in together looked at each other. They felt pity looking at Gwendolyn.

Gwendolyn used to be famous among the socialites, but she ended up like that.

The two couldn't help but look at her with pity.

Suddenly, one of the ladies gave the other girl a gentle nudge and said, "Adeline, look at that necklace. Didn't your brother show you the photo of it?"

The girl named Adeline looked at it seriously a few times and then nodded at her friend.

"Denise, it's that necklace! My brother said someone bought it for one hundred and fifty million."

Denise's eyes widened. "Wow, then she..."

The two ladies didn't dare to belittle Gwendolyn anymore because they felt that her identity must be extraordinary.

After hearing what Felicia said, Gwendolyn replied flatly, "Ms. Ashton, I'm so sorry. I only serve Mr. Lowen."

After saying that, she walked to the dining table and took some dishes. She tasted them first and chose a few dishes of her liking before taking them to Patrick and feeding him.

Of course, Patrick wouldn't refuse. However, Felicia who was sitting next to Patrick became more and more annoyed. She kept glaring at Gwendolyn.

Gwendolyn dropped the fork. "What? How could this happen?"

She stood up and walked at a fast pace.

"Ms. Ziegler, call the police now."

"Gwen, did you borrow money from Tommy's company? They said that if you call the police, Juliette will not be able to come home."

Hearing that, Gwendolyn suddenly remembered.

It's that five hundred thousand! It's been three days, but Lucy hasn't sold the house yet. What should I do?

"Where are Julian and Justin? Aren't they around?"

If Julian and Justin happened to be around, there was no way those people could take Juliette away. Each of them was a black belt in taekwondo. In fact, she had only been able to become a black belt after being trained by them.

"Gwen, they went out just now. That's why those people could take Juliette away."

Camille cried as she spoke. Never in her entire life had she come across such a terrifying scene. It was really frightening. Those violent people had also smashed almost all the things in the house.

Those men looked so fierce and vicious. It was heartbreaking for her to see Juliette cry so desperately.

Gwendolyn pursed her lips and said, "Ms. Ziegler, don't worry. I'll head home right away."

When Hector slapped his thighs, Alice shot him a glance and asked, "Hector, what's wrong?"
Seeing that the old man did not stop hitting his own thighs, Alice was scared out of her wits.
"Help, where's the doctor?" she yelled.

Shortly after, they moved to the lounge and could no longer be bothered with any ceremonies.

Alice had initially wanted to go on stage, yet now, she had given up the thought. She only wanted Hector to be fine.

Felicia stood next to Patrick, waiting for the emcee to announce their names so that they could go on stage.

Never in her life had she felt so nervous. She kept taking deep breaths.

Although she was not getting married on this day, she would officially carry Patrick's last name after the day was over. The man would belong to her, and she would become the envy of every woman.

Moreover, she would also become the leading lady of the Ashton family, and no one would dare to snatch her position away. The more she thought about this, the calmer she became.

I can't embarrass myself later. I absolutely can't.

The emcee said excitedly, "Let us invite the future bridal couple on stage!"

Felicia followed hurriedly behind. Suddenly, she Stroking Felicia's back gently, Candace said, "Fel, your father and I won't let Patrick off easily. Our daughter is not a pushover. We'll make him pay for this."

Felicia cried so hard that her makeup was smudged. She looked at the guests below the stage.

Happiness was written all over their faces as they ate with great relish.

They're really ruthless. Can't they see that I'm so upset? It seems like they're all here to have a good laugh at me. She bit her lip and swore in her mind. I must win Patrick over. By then, this will serve as a slap in everyone's faces.

She believed that she was Patrick's legitimate wife and that she was the only one who was worthy of him.

Meanwhile, after Gwendolyn got into the van, the few men stared at her lasciviously. Every now and then, they would glimpse at her chest as well as her dress which had a high slit.

She blocked their view with her hand as her eyes dimmed.

I was in such a rush just now that I didn't even have time to change my clothes. Later, I have to change them. If not, it will be inconvenient to save Juliette in this dress.

One of the men rubbed his chin and said, "Eugene, this woman looks really gorgeous. I've never seen a woman this beautiful. I wonder what she'd taste like."

The man next to him elbowed him and said, "They only want money. It's better if you don't touch her." receive the money. Whatever happens next Gwendolyn fished out her ID card from her purse. "I have my ID with me, and I've previously signed a contract with you before. They should be proof that I'm the child's mother, so please let me see her."

The man eyed her, then the ID card in her hand, only proceeding to open the door once he ascertained that she was the same person on the card.

The thick, acrid cigarette smoke hovering in the air caused her to erupt in a coughing fit, and a few men were drinking and swinging fists at each other.

"Samuel, the indebted woman is here."

A man seated at the head of the table with a glass of alcohol glanced over.

Before Gwendolyn came upstairs, she had deliberately ruined her makeup to appear less desirable.

Smudges of mascara rimmed her eyes like a panda, and she smeared bright red lipstick sloppily across her lips, giving her the appearance of an insane grin.

He quickly averted his gaze, clearly dismissing her without a second thought.

“Take your daughter and leave after paying your debt,” he said coldly. A scar tugged his face as he spoke, making others feel slightly uncomfortable at the sight of that.

That sparked a loud laugh out of everyone, and the woman chuckled seductively. “Are you just learning about this, Ms. Ashton?”

There seems to be no difference between high-interest loans and robbery, yet people still fall for it, namely me.

Panic flashed in her eyes as everyone roared in evil laughter. What should I do now?

She blinked. I need to see Juliette first.

"I'll repay my debt, Samuel, but could you please let me see my daughter? I'll call my friend to bring the rest of the money once I've made sure she's safe."

"Your friend? Can we trust her?"

Samuel sipped his drink and leveled a dark gaze on Gwendolyn, thinking she was aggravating for knowing the terms and conditions when she agreed to borrow the money but was refusing to pay it back now.

She raised her right hand like a boy scout. "I swear that I'd pay this debt that my friend had incurred to cover her hospital bills. She's currently in the process of selling her house and will be able to pay off the loan once the sale goes through. I only need to make one phone call to her, and she will get the money here," she uttered breezily, but a cold sweat broke out along her spine.
