

Chapter 1153: Counting on You

When Xia Xibei stopped, the looks on Tang Luo and Mo Bonan's faces were inexplicable.

Tang Luo's face was almost burning up.

Goodness, this whole dual cultivation thing was just so...

Mo Bonan felt slightly embarrassed too. After all, it wasn't entirely appropriate to discuss such private matters in the open.

However, he felt like taking a leap of faith as he thought about what Xia Xibei said.

"Well, I'll go back first to check things out. As for the two of you...

"Do your best in the cultivation."

Xia Xibei stood up without hesitation.

"Luo, have a good rest at home for a couple of days. I'll have someone send the medicine over from my end. When the time comes... You both know what to do."

To obtain the best possible outcomes, the regimen must be supplemented with medicines.

If they were to purely cultivate, it would take them quite a while to see the results.

With her help and the medicinal supplementation, however, they could expect an improvement in no time.

By then, Tang Luo would no longer have to stay in bed.

“Alright then...”

Tang Luo bit her lip. Her face, which was somewhat pale moments ago, was looking almost as red as a strawberry now.

Mo Bonan got to his feet. “I’ll see you out.”

“Okay.”

Xia Xibei shot him a glance and nodded in response.

“Alright, I’ll see you around,” Xia Xibei waved at Tang Luo.

Mo Bonan walked Xia Xibei to the door and couldn't help but ask, "Do you know what happened to Luo?"

"I'm not sure," Xia Xibei shook her head. "It's not like she tells me every little thing."

She smiled, "You should be able to tell that she's very insecure."

"Hmm," Mo Bonan nodded, "I can see that."

Tang Luo was awesome enough with her current achievements. Hardly anyone out there could have such accomplishments at this age.

The market value of God Luo's Streaming TV and God Feng Short Videos combined had amounted to nearly a hundred million yuan by now.

No youngster at her age could have achieved such a worth if they hadn't inherited it from their family.

Even if these things were to be divided equally between her and Xia Xibei, it would still be an unrivalled accomplishment.

If she was still insecure, even with her remarkable success...

It could only mean that what she had been through had left a huge impact on her.

“As you know, she grew up without a father, and lost her mother in her teens. After all that, she had to live with people that she wasn’t entirely close with... The psychological impact must have stayed with her till this day, and I’m counting on you to make a change,” Xia Xibei said in a serious manner.

Only with enough love and care could these emotional scars be healed.

“I understand,” Mo Bonan nodded.

Although he hadn’t been through all that, it was understandable that Tang Luo’s upbringing had made her insecure.

“However... I remember that your circumstances weren’t much different from hers,” Mo Bonan couldn’t help but say.

The environment where Xia Xibei grew up in was a lot worse than Tang Luo’s!

At the very least, Tang Luo was under the care of her own mother for the first decade or so of her life.

Even after that, she was well taken care of by his family, where she didn’t have to worry about basic needs.

On the other hand, Xia Xibei spent her early years in great misery!

Nevertheless, she had never shown the least bit of vulnerability to the world, only strength and confidence.

Xia Xibei cast a glance at him and laughed, "I sure have been through things. Don't worry about me, just take good care of Luo."

Her experiences at the Land of Fantasy was the exact reason why she was way stronger than Tang Luo.

Moreover, she had lived two decades more than Tang Luo had!

It would be a shame to her efforts if she was still the same vulnerable person!

Mo Bonan nodded, "Okay, I got it."

"Alright, I gotta go. Have a good time cultivating."

When the car came to a stop at the gates, Xia Xibei opened the door and got in.
