

Chapter 228

For ordinary people, the most obvious thing about the strength of national development is the obvious improvement of living standards. After decades of reform, big fish and meat are no longer rare. Although some delicacies are still luxuries, the pressure of buying a sheep for the new year is still small for ordinary people.

The northwest diet has always been dominated by high heat and high fat. During the new year, every family should not eat too little. When the whole family is happy, they eat and drink. The irregular diet is also the main reason for the outbreak of gastrointestinal diseases.

The new year is just a week away. The number of patients in the hospital has dropped sharply. Due to a heavy snow, the temperature began to rise again, the humidity increased, and there are fewer people with colds. At this time, some elective surgery or chronic diseases go home to prepare for the new year. The medical staff can be a little relaxed and can take turns to rest.

The director of anorectal Department shyly took his beautiful young wife out for a trip. It is estimated that he has a full sense of achievement. The beach, sunshine and middle-aged man came with a beautiful woman 20 years younger!

He's gone, and Zhang Fan is going to work. The director of the medical office took Zhang Fan to the anorectal department. When the director changes his wife, the following doctors complain, because changing his wife and changing a younger and more beautiful wife requires a lot of money. The director is also a liver, and Liuwei Dihuang pill also flies!

Originally, the income of anorectal doctors in public hospitals was relatively low. Because there were few consumables, doctors relied on the number of patients and some drugs to increase their income. But the director changed his wife. Although he didn't receive gifts, he changed the Commission of drugs. In the past, half of the patients were in charge and half of the lower level doctors could barely say that in the past, who let others be the director.

But this change of wife, the lower level doctors began to have bad luck. First, they were changed by the director, Sanqi. Of course, more are the directors and less are the lower level doctors. The following doctors really dare not say anything. They can't do the operation themselves, and they have to work in the Department. They can only let it go.

In this way, the work of the Department is not very active, and the patients who can be pushed are definitely pushed out. As long as they are on duty to the emergency or the director is not in, none of the patients in the Department can be admitted.

There is a saying here. The hospital is divided into medical part and non-medical part. Everyone's salary is taken according to the level, title and years. There is little difference. The main difference is the bonus. The bonus taken by the non-medical part is the average award of the whole hospital. It's only seven or eight hundred yuan a month, and the transferred doctor also won the average award.

The bonus of medical departments depends on the number of patients and treatment. Although the total income of some departments is also good, the income is much less than that of other departments, because there is another thing in it, that is, the gray income of drugs and instruments.

For example, the anorectal Department has a good income, but the doctor has no money. Because there are no consumables, the doctor can only pay 30 yuan for one operation. Now the director is peeling badly, and the following doctors begin to silently resist. I can get an average award if I don't work for a month, and I can't get a few money if I work. Then why should I work.

Moreover, there is a special place, which is the private hospital. Here we will give you a general introduction. You can't find this thing when you go to Du Niang. Du Niang is also a group with them.

Private hospitals are divided into three major parts. The largest one is the hospital of someone in a field. They don't work in all departments. The main hospitals they open are male and female departments, infertility and dermatology. The risk is small, the money is quick, and the patient can deceive.

There is a cruel joke that a doctor who works in the Department of Gynecology of a field hospital looked at a junior high school couple who came hand in hand with his opponent, took out lucky money to give the little girl an abortion with his schoolbag on his back, and went to school hand in hand with his schoolbag after the operation! Then the doctor hurried home to see if his girl's lucky money was there!

This can not happen in public hospitals. First of all, this is an operation, which must be signed by immediate relatives, and minor patients must be signed by guardians. Therefore, this kind of thing generally does not happen in public hospitals.

The second is hand and foot surgery. This department has not formed a nationwide hospital system, because it takes years for a doctor to mature and it is not easy to make fast money. Therefore, it is generally some local private hospitals that have accumulated a certain reputation and strength over the years. Without reputation, no one will go. Without strength, the fingers you replant for others are worth dying. This business can't go on.

The third is the anorectal department. Although ten men and nine hemorrhoids are exaggerated, they are the same. There are many hemorrhoids, and no one in public hospitals is willing to do it. The directors of some large hospitals are not interesting. Even if a technical doctor works as the director of the Department, it will be the end. If he is a very good director, he may be able to go to the position of vice president and want to become the president of a third-class hospital, That's too much.

And the president or vice president of a third class general hospital, have you ever heard of someone from anorectal department? No, So the directors of some anorectal departments went to open their own specialized hospitals with their disciples. I can't be the president of a public hospital. I'll get a hospital to be the president myself. It's also beautiful!

There is a unique private anorectal Hospital in chasu city. It was started by the director of anorectal Department of traditional Chinese medicine hospital. He jumped out of the traditional Chinese medicine hospital on the way and did it himself. His private hospital not only did surgery, but also took traditional Chinese medicine bath, fumigation and massage. There are many means, and the business is OK, because Ma Wentao's sudden outbreak is similar to that of some other private hospitals.

Give kickbacks to doctors in public hospitals and send one patient to 500. Therefore, anorectal doctors are unwilling to work. As long as they are in the emergency department or in the absence of the director, they almost push the patients to private hospitals.

Let's talk about the form of hospitals. Which doctors who can work in class III hospitals are not looking forward to a breakthrough in surgery or medical level. Therefore, as long as they are not too excessive, most doctors will work hard to learn and look forward to the time when they can take off one day, because these doctors have a good platform, a high starting point and have expectations for the future.

Generally, there are many patients who prevaricate. On the contrary, some public small and medium-sized hospitals do it or not, and then waste the national resources in vain, waiting to retire to work in clinics or private hospitals! Because the state does not pay attention to the development of this area, these hospitals are half dead, so doctors have no expectations. Every day is a day.

After the director of the medical department took Zhang Fan into the Department, he gave a general introduction, "recently, Dr. Zhang has been responsible for the daily work of the Department. Head nurse, you are the oldest. Help Dr. Zhang more. He spends more money on things he doesn't know." Then he left, because the medical department didn't pay attention to this department.

Zhang Fan felt wrong as soon as he entered the Department. Because the doctors in the Department are not busy, and they ignore the director of the medical department, which is a little self abandoning. The head nurse is very enthusiastic. As long as it is in the surgical system, who doesn't know Zhang Fan.
