

Back To 2005

Chapter 26 – Very Ordinary Beginning

“Okay, let’s go back and prepare first.”

After distributing 500 leaflets, Zhou Anan checked the time, and took a taxi with Ying Chengcheng to the barbecue stand.

As for Wang Rong and Xu Wenwen, the speed of distributing leaflets is a bit slow, and they are still on the third floor of the mall.

“Boss Xu, I’m in trouble.”

Back to the barbecue booth, Zhou Anan had already seen Boss Xu’s tricycle.

“I want to thank Boss Zhou.”

Last night, when he heard that the other party had ordered a hundred catties of crayfish early in the morning, Xu Feng was so excited that he fought fiercely with his wife several times.

It has only been a few days since the crayfish was unsalable to sell hundreds of catties a day, and from being humbled at home to being proud now. Life is really full of ups and downs, which is too ordinary.

“Then I have to make an agreement in advance, if it is not sold out, you need to pull it back.”

Not knowing what to do, Zhou An’an reconfirmed the previous agreement between the two.

Although the current crayfish only costs two yuan and five pounds, two hundred and fifty yuan is not a small amount, and it is worth half a day’s profit. If the takeaway business is not going well, then these crayfish can’t be kept here forever.

Business that loses money can’t be done.

“Don’t worry, I, Xu Feng, do business and say one is one.”

Regarding this point, Xu Feng has no objection. Crayfish are very deadly, so it’s okay to take them back and raise them.

The mood of this big customer must be taken care of.

Even a little loss is nothing.

“It is good.”

Without further ado, Zhou An'an and the two began to deal with the crayfish.

It's already half past ten, and the time for lunch is very short.

If there is business, then hurry up, after all, it is only lunch time.

“Ah ah.”

“Hey”

“ah”

Listening to the girl's shouts, even Zhou Anan's soul, who was an uncle in his thirties, became a little restless.

Dealing with a crayfish, do you need such ecstasy?

Looking at the washbasin in front of Ying Chengcheng again, there were only three crayfish crawling there intact, Zhou Anan had an urge to rub each other under it.

“I'm in charge of repairing, you can open the back, and clean up these redundant things.”

Putting on the gloves, Zhou Anan drove the girl aside, and quickly processed the crayfish's head three times a second.

Woman, heh.

“An'an, why do you know everything?”

Looking at the boy's extraordinary hand speed, Ying Chengcheng said with adoring eyes.

She found that after graduating from high school, boys can do a lot of things.

“.Practiced out.”

Originally wanted to talk about the hand speed developed by being single for 30 years, but Zhou Anan abruptly stopped talking.

For female students, it is better not to flirt.

If you touch it, you are afraid that you will not be able to stop the car, and unimaginable things may happen.

Hey, chatting is so difficult these days.

“Am I doing this?”

“I teach you, be careful when using scissors.”

“Oh.”

When Wang Rong and Wang Rong came back at 10:40, Zhou Anan entrusted him with the responsibility of handling the crayfish and burned them himself.

Because of the shortage of his own skills and chefs, in the leaflet issued by Zhou Anan this time, the crayfish set meal only includes crayfish and fried noodles.

After removing the head, about half a catty of crayfish, add a portion of dried fried rice noodles, and a portion of seaweed soup, only fifteen yuan, the price is quite affordable, comparable to the S County snacks and yellow stew that have been rampant for many years Chicken rice.

Well, a little bit more expensive than S county snacks.

Zhou An'an has made a plan. If the takeaway is done well, the business can also be developed into a shopping agent and running errands.

This is also the reason why he adjusted the original price of 20 yuan to 15 yuan. Time is running out, and it is the last word to open up the takeaway market quickly.

Although I don't know if it will be possible, it is always right to do it first.

Only when the plate is bigger can it be sold at a good price.

“Hi, hello, here is Thirteen Fragrant Lobster. Yes, how many copies do you want? Where is the address? Okay, I will deliver it to you in half an hour.”

While chatting with a few people, Zhou Anan received a second takeaway order, two crayfish set meals.

The first order was three servings of crayfish for the fat lady that had been ordered earlier.

Filled out the crayfish with about the same time, quickly fried the dried noodles, asked Ying Chengcheng to prepare a small box containing seaweed, Zhou Anan handed the packed bag to Wang Rong, and asked him to send it.

As for the means of transportation for food delivery, bring your own bicycle.

These days, where is there such a good job, and I want to get an electric car worth thousands of dollars to deliver a takeaway.

Of course, the delivery distance has already been calculated before, and Zhou Anan specially set the range of leaflet distribution today to Times Square, pedestrian street business district and shopping malls. In hot weather, cycling is still very tiring, and the stalls are not suitable for spreading too big.

The most important thing is that there is no high-end business district in Lizhou now, and it will take a few years for the city government to spend huge sums of money to build a headquarters center before there will be a slightly taller commercial center.

Originally, Wang Rong, the main force of pulling lobsters, shouldn't leave, but Zhou An'an still thinks it's better to let boys go for the food delivery job, safety first.

Students came to work for him, and Zhou Anan always wanted to ensure everyone's safety.

Otherwise, no matter how much money he makes, he will not be happy.

I don't know how effective the other handouts are.

"Remember to collect the money."

"Don't worry, I won't forget."

After asking Wang Rong to send away the first takeaway meal, Zhou Anan continued to process the crayfish in the first process, in case there was no time to wait.

"It's too hot, let's take a break."

"But there are still so many flyers, it's almost lunch time."

"It's okay, let's put a few more in a store later, and send them out faster."

"That's not good."

"If there is something bad, let's not throw it away."

When Wang Rong came back from delivering the food, the rest of the friends who were going to distribute the leaflets rushed back.

Taking advantage of the absence of takeaway orders, Zhou Anan asked everyone to go to a fast food restaurant not far away for lunch.

It's not that Zhou An'an won't cook fried rice noodles for everyone, but that he wants to conserve his strength to deal with the possible takeaway orders that will come next.

To be honest, Zhou An'an didn't have much confidence in his decision.

A certain group's takeaway business in Lizhou will appear in about 2017, and then set off a national takeaway craze, directly causing instant noodle companies to lose half of their country. However, many fast food restaurants now provide food delivery services, Zhou Anan can only use the novelty of the crayfish set meal to open up the situation, and then integrate the takeaway business to earn a little money.

Thoughts, Zhou Anan is still very clear.

There was no hot start, nor was it sluggish. On the first day of the takeaway business, the barbecue stall received a total of 12 orders, and sold a total of 28 crayfish set meals.

The cost of a crayfish set meal is about 2 yuan for crayfish, 70 cents for dried powder, 10 cents for seaweed, and 80 cents for a packed box, a total of three yuan and sixty cents.

Adding the 2 yuan commission for each takeaway to the delivery staff, and a crayfish set meal, Zhou Anan can earn a profit of 9 yuan and 40 cents.

In one noon and three hours, Zhou Anan got a net income of 295.2 yuan, which is still a bit worse than the supper business.

It's a pity that the nights in Lizhou City are not very safe recently, and the takeaway business can only be done during the day, noon and dinner.

After the "big cleaning" after the 10th, the takeaway business of supper can also return to normal.

Chapter 27 – Too Young

Chapter 27 Too Young

"Boss Chen, what do you eat so delicious?"

In Shop 056 on the first floor of Times Square, Xiao Fang, who just went out to buy a fast food, smelled a scent, and asked curiously the owner of the stall next door.

“The crawfish set meal tastes good. I ordered one for everyone in the store.”

Picking the shell of the crayfish, the beautiful stall owner took a sip of the gravy and replied in a leisurely manner.

Although the business of many shops in Times Square is not very good, the quality of her clothes is good, there are still many regular customers, and the money for food is not bad.

To be honest, it's much more delicious than fast food. I can't stop eating this crayfish.

“The one who delivered the leaflets in the morning? I thought it was not delicious. It seems that I can order one for dinner.”

Smelling the moving aroma, Xiaofang looked at the fast food in her hand, and reluctantly put off her plan to eat crayfish until dinner.

To Zhou Anan's surprise, around five o'clock, a large wave of takeaway orders came, 80% of which came from around Times Square.

The business hours of the mall are from 8 am to 5 pm, but the newly opened Times Square is open until 8:30 pm.

While quickly frying the noodles, Zhou Anan occasionally looked at the gradually darkening sky and thought about the development of the takeaway business.

“An'an, there is a takeaway delivered to Sanma Road.”

Ying Chengcheng, who was in charge of answering the phone, wrote down the takeaway order, ran to Zhou Anan and said, passing a bottle of mineral water at room temperature by the way.

Since Zhou Anan said at noon that drinking ice water is bad for your health, Ying Chengcheng remembers it very clearly.

“It's so late, let's push it.”

Looking at the completely dark sky, Zhou Anan said helplessly after taking a sip of water.

If it's a takeaway on Nanyuan Road, you can still do it, but on Sanma Road, it's really unsafe to go back and forth for such a long distance.

Making money is important, but safety comes first.

“Okay, I’ll call back and talk about it.”

As a ‘little secretary’, Ying Chengcheng was very considerate.

“Ok.”

At this time, Zhou An’an’s hands were already sore, and he had been burning for more than an hour, and the supper business was about to start, so he had to put the task of finding a chef on the schedule.

I earned 295.2 yuan for the takeaway at noon, and 1125 yuan for dinner and supper.

As for the recycling of the crayfish that he had discussed with Boss Xu before, Zhou Anan found that it was unnecessary, and the extra dozen catties of lobsters were collected by the students for free.

On this day, Zhou Anan’s daily income broke through the 1,400 mark first.

Calculate the monthly income, and the proper income of 40,000 yuan will instantly enter the upper level of the entire Lizhou City.

Reborn people are so awesome.

For the novelty crayfish set meal, shopkeepers in shopping malls and Times Square erupted into a huge craze. Only at noon on the 28th, Ying Chengcheng’s two mobile phones were about to explode.

During the two hours from 11:00 to 1:00 pm, there were a total of 45 takeaways, and a total of 71 crayfish packages were delivered.

“An’an, you are tired, drink some water.”

Taking advantage of Zhou Anan’s break, Ying Chengcheng immediately handed over the normal temperature mineral water with the lid opened.

She is not good at repairing crayfish, but she is still very skilled in doing this.

“thanks.”

Drinking most of the bottle of water in one gulp, Zhou Anan, who took a breath, felt that his hand was almost not his own.

According to this hot trend, it is imminent to find a second chef.

The work of crayfish is not very tiring, but fried noodles, Zhou Anan thinks that it can be handed over to others.

Who should I look for?

Auntie?

The first name, Zhou Anan immediately thought of the eldest aunt who cooked dinner for his tutoring class for a while in the previous life.

The eldest aunt who cooks in the elementary school cafeteria is undoubtedly a good candidate for the chef.

Anyway, during this summer vacation, the eldest aunt has nothing to do.

But thinking of the big spitting mouth of the eldest aunt, Zhou Anan immediately dismissed the idea.

These days, Zhou Anan, who is busy, finds time to go home from time to time to fool his parents. He must not fail at this time. Otherwise, he may regret it for the rest of his life.

But looking for someone from outside, Zhou An'an was a bit out of line.

The operation of this crayfish set meal is simple and easy to use, and it is easy to be imitated.

It was related to the first pot of gold in his own business, Zhou Anan didn't want any additional changes.

If you ask your classmates to help, Zhou Anan can't help but laugh at this idea.

Although their generation was not born with a golden key in their mouths, they are living in an era where conditions are improving rapidly. Many people do not touch Yangchun water with their hands, and they don't even know how much rice to add to cooking, let alone fried noodles and don't burn the pot. It's good to drop it.

Don't look at Zhou An'an's proficiency in frying dried noodles and roasting crayfish. Those are all forced out of his single life after graduation.

If it were a seventeen-year-old boy in his previous life, Zhou Anan would only add water to cook a meal, and he would not even pay for scrambled eggs.

No way, this generation of post-85s is just so willful.

"An'an, what are you thinking?"

Just back from delivering food with another classmate, Ying Heng looked at Zhou Anan who was in a daze, looked around, and quietly stepped forward to ask.

“I want to hire a cook?”

When asked by a classmate, Zhou Anan replied casually.

Although they were not familiar with each other in the previous life, after two days of getting along, everyone has become a little familiar.

“Chef? Oh.”

Hearing this topic, Ying Heng, who couldn't pick up the words, was bored for a moment, not knowing how to continue.

Ying Heng was quite interested in Zhou Anan, who suddenly changed after graduation. After all, when everyone was looking forward to college life and using the summer vacation to play wildly, Zhou An'an had already embarked on the path of self-employment and earning money to support himself.

It is normal for a boy who is so self-reliant to take a high look.

Like Ying Chengcheng, his eyes are almost glowing when he looks at the boy, but unfortunately he is thin-skinned.

It's just that, with the courage she finally summoned up, she was still a little speechless when facing the boy. After all, she has never had a boyfriend.

“It can be done like this.”

After being interrupted by the other party, Zhou Anan had an extra thought in his mind.

Without waiting for the two to continue chatting, Ying Chengcheng who received the new order ran over quickly, and Ying Heng also walked slowly back to rest under the shade after seeing this.

This matter, keep a low profile.

After two o'clock in the afternoon, the fast food orders finally decreased, and Zhou Anan patted some sore hands and called everyone over.

“Do you know anyone? I'm going to hire a chef, and I want fried rice noodles to be delicious. The monthly salary is two thousand.”

As for the chef's requirements, Zhou An'an thinks that the first one is to pass the skill of fried noodles, and the rest are not so important.

After a while of silence, Zhou Anan could only wave his hand to let everyone go back to rest, he was still too young.

Chapter 28 – Open A Shop

Chapter 28 Open a store

Lunch sold a total of 52 crayfish set meals, with a net income of 488.8 yuan.

Sold 45 crayfish set meals for dinner, earning 423 yuan.

Supper income is 891 yuan, a total income of 1802.8 yuan a day.

That night, Zhou Anan dreamed that he became a shareholder of the world's top 500, with confidante friends all over the world, and reached the pinnacle of life.

“Zi Zi Zi”

Woke up early in the morning by the vibrating ringtone of the phone, Zhou Anan picked up the phone with his eyes closed, and swipe, swipe.

Forehead.

Squinting his eyes, Zhou Anan remembered that this was not his Apple XX, and depressedly pressed the answer button: “Hello.”

“An'an, do you still need a chef in your barbecue restaurant? My cousin asked me to ask.”

A female voice rang on the phone, and Zhou Anan turned his mind a few times before realizing that it was the voice of his female classmate Chen Qiulu, a slightly tall girl.

Well, the face is a bit big, it's not that he likes local vegetables.

“What did your cousin do before?”

Rubbing his eyes, Zhou Anan asked.

Speaking of this important matter, Zhou Anan's mind suddenly became clear.

“My cousin used to run a restaurant. He has nothing to do now. Let me ask for help.”

When Zhou Anan asked about it on the spot yesterday, Chen Qiulu thought of her cousin who had a good relationship with her family, but she was too embarrassed to ask because there were so many classmates present.

When she went home and talked about this with her parents, her parents called her cousin, but no one answered the phone. This morning, when she received the call, my cousin rushed to her house and asked her to call ask.

Unlike a few years later, a good chef can easily earn a salary of seven to eight thousand or even tens of thousands. Today, when housing prices are only around one thousand, a monthly salary of two thousand is enough to make most people excited.

“Okay, let him come over at ten o’clock this morning.”

Pressing his eyebrows, after Zhou Anan finished speaking, he rushed to the bathroom.

Relaxed for a while, Zhou Anan washed his face and brushed his teeth, looked at himself in the mirror, took out the razor and hung up his newly grown beard.

This little fluff grows really fast after being shaved once.

Zhou Anan once read a health report, saying that a man’s life expectancy is closely related to the frequency of shaving.

After having a little money in the previous life, the life-saving Zhou Anan really delayed the frequency of shaving from once a day to every three days.

It’s a pity that no matter how much he spared his life, he died in the Internet cafe after staying overnight.

Fortunately, in his previous life, at least he had a good character, and he was looking for a girl out of his heart, otherwise, how could the heavens give him rebirth as a reward.

Kinds of good causes come with good results, good deeds will still be rewarded.

So, young people, you should do more good deeds.

“Not bad, but it’s a little salty, and we need to put less soy sauce. Brother Chen, we already have crayfish in our set meal, and the powder should be a little lighter.”

Tasted Uncle Chen Qiulu’s craftsmanship, and Zhou An’an made a comment.

In order to prevent the other party from being uncomfortable, Zhou An’an also specially explained.

Respect for others is to respect yourself.

“The boss promised me to come that week?”

After listening to the other party's words, Chen Qi asked a little nervously.

Since the restaurant closed down, the family's debts have all been borne by his wife's salary as an accountant. Chen Qi urgently needs this job.

“Well, brother Chen can go to work today, right? The monthly salary is two thousand, and he needs to work until eleven o'clock in the evening every day.”

Wiping his mouth with a tissue, Zhou Anan asked back.

After experiencing yesterday's toss, Zhou An'an really didn't want to go through it again.

If this continues, his arms will get thicker, okay?

One hand is thick and the other is thin. What will you think when you find a girlfriend in the future?

Furthermore, the first pot of gold he wants to earn is not less than two thousand monthly salary.

As a reborn person, this is a must.

“Can, can.”

Hearing what the little boss said, Chen Qi froze for a moment, then nodded repeatedly.

As long as there is a suitable job, no matter how tired he is, it is worth it.

“Okay, that's it, let's go to work now.”

Seeing the other party's honest appearance, Zhou An'an made a final decision on the other party's job.

Quickly liberating your own coolies is the first problem.

“thank you boss.”

Didn't expect to get this high-paying job so easily, Chen Qi was somewhat excited.

Symbolically gave a large bag of snacks as a reward for classmate Chen Qiulu to recommend a chef, and Zhou Anan was finally able to easily cook crayfish.

“Son, come back tomorrow morning.”

“Okay.”

Receiving a call from his mother, Zhou Anan took a break for a while and looked at the date on his phone, guessing that his admission notice was almost here.

“An’an, the money for five tables. And, the list for the next table.”

“Ok.”

Receiving the money from Ying Chengcheng, Zhou Anan took the list and looked at it, increased the charcoal fire, and quickly grilled the skewers.

No gangsters came to make trouble recently. At the request of this little girl, Zhou Anan agreed to the other party’s request to work at the supper stall, and increased the other party’s salary from 700 to 1,000.

Xu Wenwen’s salary, which was originally set at 800, also rose to 1,000.

As for Wang Rong’s high salary of 2,000 and the commission for food delivery, Zhou Anan didn’t mention the salary increase.

After a hearty morning run, Zhou Anan returned to Wang Rong’s house and took a nice bath. By the way, he washed his clothes and dried them before going out to buy breakfast.

Sitting in the car back to the countryside, Zhou Anan’s thoughts naturally wandered.

“Mom, where’s Dad?”

Back home, Zhou Anan still saw his mother knitting woolen shoes.

Because of the management of the quarry’s finances, my mother’s working hours are very free. It’s good to go to the quarry around 6 pm every day to count the income and expenses, but I’m a little busy at the end of the year.

“Your father went to the quarry to take a look, and he will be back later. Have you had breakfast? Shall I cook you noodles or fried rice with eggs? Look at yourself, you have lost so much weight.”

Seeing his son come back, Wang Jingyu said with some distress.

She supports her son’s idea of earning pocket money to experience life by himself. But seeing her son suffering, she still couldn’t help feeling distressed.

“Mom, I’m not thin, but strong.”

Seeing his mother cry, Zhou Anan raised his arms and bulged, showing a trace of muscle.

After half a month of unremitting exercise, Zhou Anan's figure has changed, and the originally sore and soft flesh has begun to firm up.

Moreover, I don't know if it's my illusion, Zhou An'an, who often goes to the body measuring machine that costs 1 yuan a time, finds that he has grown by one centimeter.

This is good news.

"Okay, just be strong."

Going to the kitchen to cut some watermelon, Wang Jingyu put the plate in front of his son and watched him eat with a smile.

"Mom, you are so empty at home, why don't you open a Taobao store."

Recalling his thoughts of emptying the car earlier, Zhou Anan wiped his mouth and made a suggestion.

Chapter 29 – Cheery Dad

Chapter 29 Cheerful Dad

To be honest, for my mother's generation, they can definitely be regarded as educated people who have completed high school. It's not a problem to stay at home all day and settle accounts.

I don't know how my dad who was educated in elementary school married my mom, cough cough

If you have something to do, it is best to open a Taobao store part-time at home. Now at this point in time, it is the best time for Taobao stores to make money by selling any product.

If the Taobao store is successful, it is absolutely safe to find an OEM manufacturer in the future and make money.

In this era, it is not difficult to earn a few houses by following Ma Dada.

In this way, Dad will not be cheated by friends for looking for projects after the quarry is closed, and he will not go all the way to Hainan to be a dealer in order to make money.

“Taobao store? What’s that?”

Wang Jingyu, who often stays at home, spends most of his time on TV dramas except for accounting and growing vegetables, and knows nothing about the Internet.

“Mom, let me tell you.”

When Zhou Anan gave his mother the knowledge about the Taobao store, at some point, his father had already quietly stood behind.

“dad.”

After taking a breath, Zhou Anan, who was eating watermelon, turned around and saw his father, and hurriedly called out.

Taobao is easy to say, but even easier to drive. He’d better let his mother open one by himself.

“Well, Jingyu, I think the Taobao store Xiaoan mentioned can be done.”

Nodding with his son, Zhou Youliang started talking to his wife.

My son is going to college, so it is good to have multiple sources of income at home, not to mention that my wife is bored staying at home all day.

“Okay, then An An, you can help your mother create an account, and I will go to the Internet cafe to have a look.”

Seeing that her son and husband were so encouraging, Wang Jingyu was also very moved and decided to set up this Taobao store.

“What kind of Internet cafe do you go to? Since you want to open a shop, you should buy a computer and do it at home. An An also went to college, so it’s not a problem if you don’t have a computer at home.”

Zhou Youliang expressed full support for his wife’s career.

Zhou Youliang did not buy a computer because he was afraid that his son would be distracted from his college entrance examination.

Now that my son is in college, it is right to spend thousands of dollars to buy a computer to reward him.

Of course, the most important thing is that buying a computer for my son to play with and now buying a computer for business are not the same concept at all.

With an investment of several thousand yuan, is there any business that is more economical than this?

“Husband is really nice, come, eat a piece of watermelon.”

Unexpectedly, her husband’s support was so strong, Wang Jingyu handed him a piece of watermelon with a smile on her face.

Zhou An’an didn’t feel much about his father’s three-minute enthusiasm, but the time to buy a computer at home was half a semester earlier.

It seems that in the previous life in 2009, my mother also worked as a Taobao store for a while, but unfortunately, I only ordered one or two orders a day, and was directly despised by my father who thought it was troublesome to deliver the goods, and finally let it go.

Nowadays, the time to open a Taobao store is earlier, and the Taobao store that can quickly ‘accumulate’ reputation is frantically searching the wallets of buyers, and the way of making money is definitely different.

“By the way, son, I discussed with your mother and plan to set up a few tables for you to celebrate at the Lingfeng Restaurant over the old station. As for the time, it will be tomorrow night.”

Recalling the matter of calling his son back, Zhou Youliang notified his son in a positive tone.

Having received the admission notice, the deal is done, and Zhou Youliang has completely given up on letting his son repeat his studies.

Although my son is studying a secondary school, he is still an undergraduate, so it is common sense to invite guests to celebrate.

So many years of hard training, it is for this encounter.

“OK.”

Zhou An’an didn’t have any opinion on his father’s decision, anyway, his opinion wasn’t any opinion at all.

It’s just that the barbecue stall may be closed for one night, and the loss will be at least 1,000 yuan, which makes my heart ache.

After chatting for a few minutes, Zhou Anan headed to Digital City on his father’s motorcycle.

It cost 6,000 oceans to buy a Lenovo brand machine with 1024M memory. Zhou Anan spent more than an hour teaching his mother how to operate the computer, and finally caught up with the bus to the city at 10:30.

As for getting the goods, of course I have to leave it to my mother.

He has to do everything, what will happen when he goes to college.

Just transferred to No. 1 bus, Zhou Anan received today’s lunch order on his mobile phone, and hurried back to start work without stopping.

On the evening of August 2nd, it was cool and breezy, and it was a good weather for barbecue.

Zhou Anan, who was wearing Adidas short-sleeves, accompanied his father to welcome guests at the door of Lingfeng Hotel, the smile on his face almost fixed.

What seven aunts and eight aunts, I don’t have much contact with each other on weekdays, and today they all come here to eat and drink. Of course, Zhou Anan received a lot of red envelopes, except for the thicker ones from the older and younger uncles who were a little closer, there were not many others.

Compared to his previous life, Zhou Anan feels that his appearance is definitely much more handsome.

When he was in college in his previous life, Zhou An’an’s taste was almost within the scope of his mother’s cognition, the classic models in the mall, and the earthy ones are very distinctive. Now I am wearing a casual Adidas style, no matter how I look at it, I look like a young man, full of vigor.

Just look at the nymphomaniac of my father’s friend’s daughter, Zhou An’an feels less distressed about spending hundreds of dollars on last year’s Adidas, it’s worth the money.

, It’s not like my parents, they just think it’s not bad, they don’t know the value of the brand at all, superficial.

“The teacher is here.”

“Hello, teacher.”

A middle-aged man with gray hair came, and Zhou Anan and his father hurried up to meet the class teacher who had been in high school for three years.

“An An, it’s a pity. However, I still want to congratulate you. University is the first step in life.”

Pan Fusheng still felt very sorry for this student who fell into the second grade because of a mistake in science and comprehensive studies.

“Thank you, teacher.”

Meeting the class teacher again after many years, Zhou Anan was still very emotional.

His deepest memory of Ah Fu still stays in the light flashing from time to time on the small glass window at the classroom door in the third year of high school.

Years later, at the class reunion, I accidentally heard that he had pneumonia after retirement, and he was reborn without a chance to see him.

Working in the industry of tutoring institutions, Zhou Anan, who works part-time as half a class teacher, understands the psychology of this old class very well, and he has less complaints about him, and the rest is just respect.

Ah Fu suffers from many illnesses in his old age, all of which are caused by students being angry at him when he was young.

At 6:30 in the evening, most people are here, hot dishes are served, and the familiar banquet mode starts.

It’s just that, as the protagonist, Zhou An’an had to pay respects at the table, and helplessly listened to the congratulations from the elders.

Chapter 30 – The Man Who Holds The Timeline

Chapter 30 The Man Who Masters the Timeline

After the school entrance banquet, Zhou Anan’s life became regular again.

Run in the morning, cook lobster at noon, cook lobster for dinner, and cook barbecue at night.

With the help of a chef, Zhou Anan’s work is much easier. The efficiency of Brother Zhen’s barbecue stall is also increasing rapidly, and the daily turnover is steadily increasing.

On August 8th, a typhoon hit, and Zhou Anan gave everyone three days off.

As for why it was three days, Zhou Anan, who is a fortune teller, reluctantly gave up the urge to show off and buried the secret in his heart.

It is an unspeakable depressing feeling to be in possession of a secret, but unable to speak to outsiders.

“Mom, how is the Taobao store doing?”

Zhou Anan, who rarely went home to rest, looked at several large boxes in the computer room. From the boxes, he could see the packaging of each cup, and there were many packing boxes and tapes on the floor.

Looking at it like this, I can't tell whether the business is good or bad.

“Son, after I lowered the price, the business really improved a lot. At the beginning, I ordered every two days, and now I order every day. Moreover, it is much more convenient for me to watch TV series on the computer, and both things are right. “

Placing the cooked peanuts on the computer table, Wang Jingyu clicked on the Taobao store to have a look, then clicked on the suspended TV series, and watched them with gusto.

Zhou Anan had a black thread on his mother's act of showing off her business.

In this age of Taobao's booming development, it's unimaginable to have one business a day.

It seems that it is time to take advantage of these two days to show off a wave of operations.

These days, few people look at Taobao stores without diamonds and crowns, but crown stores are not uncommon these days. If you want to buy it, you can buy it, but my mother must be reluctant to spend that money.

Since this is the case, Zhou Anan clearly knew a shortcut that everyone knew by heart, so he secretly helped his mother.

Let mom cook something to eat, Zhou Anan took over the computer.

After searching on the website, Zhou Anan clicked into a store, asked about the price casually, and compared the quotations of the three stores, and chose a store with a suitable price.

Buy, pay, and wait for the crown to appear in the store.

It took less than ten minutes before and after, and my mother just cooked the rice cakes and brought them over.

“Son, is this all right?”

Wang Jingyu was still a little uneasy about his son spending a high price of 100 yuan to upgrade the store.

She didn’t know that her son spent eight times the price quoted.

“Mom, if you invest, you will gain. If we want to open a store, we must open it well.”

Seeing that his mother was a little worried, Zhou Anan gave a word of comfort.

The reason why I didn’t use my own bank card to pay for everything, and paid 100 yuan with my mother’s account, is also to make my mother pay attention. For my mother, the degree of care is definitely different between the shops that have spent money and the shops that have not spent money.

After all, this Taobao store is opened, and it will definitely be a money collection machine in the future.

According to Zhou An’an’s memory, in the small Lizhou City alone, there are quite a few millionaires and multi-millionaires because of Boss Ma, which indirectly promoted the skyrocketing housing prices in Lizhou City, catching up with ordinary second-tier cities.

Of course, if you tell your mother that you need 800 yuan now, Zhou Anan, who has not yet become a billionaire, feels that he needs to be counted down for at least a month.

“Okay, listen to the young man.”

Patting his son on the shoulder, Wang Jingyu had a gratified smile on his face.

Before she knew it, her son was able to help her solve her troubles.

To be honest, she is a little bit unconfident when looking at the business of this store.

“By the way, Mom, let’s add some more beautiful glasses. If they sell well, let’s go directly to the manufacturer to get the goods.”

After looking at the goods my mother brought, Zhou Anan added a sentence.

These days, as long as they look good and are cheap, anything can be sold online.

Well, you can also ask how much the category page recommends.

Problems that can be solved with money are not problems.

For Zhou Anan, whose monthly income is about to exceed 50,000 yuan, he is not short of money.

The wind howled, Zhou Anan looked out the window at the grove that was bent over by the blow, as if he saw his own situation soaring with the wind.

After the typhoon went away, Wang Jingyu prepared the parcel with a smile on his face. In two days, a diamond was placed. The daily turnover in the store increased by four or five, and the number of people who consulted increased several times. I imagine that when the store turns into a crown, the transaction volume will definitely increase significantly.

Helping his mother pack the package, Zhou Anan took a bag and packed it, ready to take the car to the city to deliver the goods.

“Son, why don’t you post it tomorrow?”

Although the wind has subsided, Wang Jingyu is still a little worried.

“Mom, the weather forecast has said that the typhoon has passed, and I have to go back and help clean up the barbecue stall. After all, I got a high salary of 2,000 yuan from my classmates, so I can’t be lazy.”

To Zhou Anan, today is an important day, how can he waste time at home.

“Then pay attention to safety, do you have enough money?”

“Enough is enough. My classmate gave me five hundred yuan, which is enough.”

Sitting in the car to the city, Zhou Anan kept perfecting today’s plan in his mind.

This plan, once something goes wrong, there is no room for regret.

“Xiao Ke.”

After sending a few packages, Zhou Anan walked to Taoyuan Internet Cafe on Taoyuan Road, and found Dragon Club No. 2 who was surfing the Internet.

“An’an, here we go, let’s go eat.”

Seeing Zhou Anan approaching, Zhou Xiaoke stood up with a smile, and walked out pulling the other party’s shoulders.

“It’s really embarrassing to ask you to treat me.”

Somewhat unaccustomed to the other party's enthusiasm, Zhou Anan walked forward with his shoulder tilted.

"It's me who is sorry, I wanted to treat you to dinner a long time ago, but you actually wanted to eat KFC."

Thinking of the other party's request, Zhou Xiaoke felt that the meaning of his treat had been completely devalued, and a KFC meal was only a few dollars.

However, the classmates here still like children's food, which shows that it is a time worth making friends with.

Young people are pure.

"I haven't eaten for a long time, I think about it very much."

Unaware of the countless twists and turns in the minds of elementary school students, Zhou Anan was worried about whether the next plan would go wrong.

As a reborn person, a man who masters the timeline, how can he be played by reality.

"All right, all right, then next time I'll take you to have a big meal."

Patting the other party's shoulder, Zhou Xiaoke laughed and said, very bold.

Under Zhou Anan's choice, the two went to the KFC on the first floor of Hualian, and the arrogant Zhou Xiaoke directly ordered a family bucket.

Looking at the high-spirited elementary school classmates, Zhou An'an really had a hard time connecting him with the depressed, reticent young man in his previous life.

Find a seat by the glass window and sit down. Zhou Anan squints and can see the rising water under the Jiulin Bridge. The time is almost up.

"Boom"

Twenty minutes later, the roar of the engine came, even Zhou Anan, who was sitting in KFC, could feel it clearly.

"coming."
