

Chapter 265

The sandstorm in the northwest spring is really unrecognized by six relatives. If the wind is a little stronger, it will be flying sand and stones. Visibility, not to mention 100 meters. It's good to have five meters in case of black wind. It is said that the sandstorms near the capital have gone across the sea to Bangzi country and pill country. You can imagine the power of this thing!

Experts in other cities can't count on it. They can only die in the tea vegetable city hospital! The boss of Gangwan is a family business for several generations. According to his magnitude, it should be able to reach the sky. But the family did not like the mainland in their early years and followed Britain wholeheartedly. As a result, Britain failed. The mainland became more and more powerful, and the government did not care about them. If you don't care, you can't expect to pay attention! So money is money, but on the mainland, it's just ordinary rich people.

Today, if the boat King's family tries this thing, it is estimated that experts will come from the sky. There is no way to say this. The frontier boss's energy is not small. He directly contacted Ouyang through relationship.

For this kind of thing, the hospital doesn't need linkage, and it's not a direct order from the superior. Ouyang won't go to war easily. After sending out 120 doctors and emergency doctors, let the director of the medical department contact the experts in general surgery, anorectal, Urology, orthopedics, endocardium and respiration.

"Dean, will Zhang Fan inform you?" Ouyang's order is to inform experts, but is Zhang Fan an expert? It's really hard to define. The level and title are not enough, but the technology is excellent. It's really a wonderful flower.

"Call, of course, let him go to the cave at leisure!" Ouyang said without raising his head. It was to save face. He didn't tell the private hospital directly!

"Good!" The director of the medical office smiled and went out of the dean's office.

In the municipal hospital, Zhang Fan's fame is mainly in orthopedics, anorectal department and liver tumors. Although other surgeries are also powerful, they have not been reflected or unknown. Because I haven't encountered any super difficult surgery yet.

Orthopedics, anorectal and liver are famous because of their achievements. How does this doctor's reputation spread? It's not the patients. Few patients know medicine. It's the doctors and nurses in our hospital. No matter how high or large the hospital is, it's a truth.

Clinicians are different from other industries, especially surgeons, who need to have something to take out. Internal medicine is a little better. If you brush your papers and do some research, you may have a reputation, while surgery depends purely on achievements.

Only with achievements can we have everything. Publishing 500 core papers is no more than a difficult operation. The former can only be a scholar, not a surgical winner.

Surgical experts flying all over the country, which one comes out by brushing papers. They are all experienced and skilled. They first start in the Department and then in the hospital. If the platform is high enough to rush out of the Department, someone will come to invite them. Therefore, the reputation of surgeons is actually held up by word of mouth in the industry.

Although the director of a department in the third class of the provincial capital can't do some difficult operations, he has a clear vision. Whether you are an expert can be known as soon as you go to the operation. If you don't have enough Kung Fu, as soon as you appear, you won't be invited again. There are only a few people in a surgical department who can fly all over the country. Once the work is broken, every minute, doctors at the provincial capital level will know!

Zhang Fan has achievements. If this medical skill is divided into spheres of influence, at present, orthopedics, anorectal and liver tumors have been taken down by Zhang Fan.

In terms of personnel support, in fact, the support of orthopedics and general surgery is not as strong as that of anorectal. First of all, orthopedics and general surgery are major departments in general hospitals. Sometimes the director is better than the vice president.

There will be more top-notch people and greater competition. Although these doctors admit Zhang Fan's medical skills, it doesn't mean they support you. The director is in such a position. Why should I go when you come! Therefore, general surgery and orthopedics, that is, several directors, rare Zhang Fan, but anorectal is the opposite. Zhang Fan gathered the anorectal doctor under his command in half a month!

After the director of anorectal department rushed back in a hurry, they began to be a monk one day, because the director was newly married and short of money! Therefore, the anorectal director is on guard against Zhang Fan, and the following doctors support Zhang Fan.

After 120 met the hiking team, these people quickly changed to 120, because 120 is not as expensive as other cars, but it has first-aid facilities! Then turn on the light and start whining! Woo! Woo! Xiao Li in the emergency department didn't move the wound directly after seeing the situation of the wounded!

The patient is in shock! Look at the posture of the wounded, seven or eight horse herders, Mercedes Benz, ox head, and it seems that there are bodyguards. Xiao Li turns to look at the swollen belly of the wounded! I did a cardiogenic treatment. After oxygen treatment, I really didn't dare to move.

Here's a saying. Let's talk about it briefly. Rescue is a complex and systematic treatment method. Time is urgent and the condition is critical. This is very important to consider the basic skills of a doctor.

In a short time, you have to make some decisions. Often, the rescue can not clarify the treatment criteria. Whether to use this drug and how much it is used sometimes give the doctor thinking time, that is, dozens of seconds. You can't sit down and think slowly.

Therefore, the rescue is generally presided over by doctors above the attending level. Then there is the problem of the current medical environment. Many doctors dare not or will not take the initiative to take responsibility.

If you are not sure about a disease, ordinary doctors will never break the routine to do other actions. If you save it, you should. If you can't save it, maybe this unconventional action and treatment is the last place to discuss. Once you lead a medical lawsuit, it's uncertain that the compassion at the time is the curse.

So now many doctors, especially young doctors, follow the rules. I only treat the diseases I know, and I won't treat the diseases I don't know as long as there is no laboratory support. Life or death, first of all, I'm not responsible!

Because now the court first focuses on evidence. You say he has coronary heart disease. You used the drugs to expand the crown. As a result, the patient died suddenly. You have no color Doppler ultrasound and ECG support. Why do you say that others are coronary heart disease! Why do you use crown enlargement drugs! By symptoms? That's a joke!

Xiao Li doesn't dare to move, especially those who have power and power. Xiao Li doesn't dare to move. My technical level is limited and I can only do this step. No matter how much, I'm sorry, I'm not sure. Please ask for another expert! Really, sometimes it's sad to think about it! The sorrow of patients and doctors! How did this trend come about?

When everyone embraces doing less and making more mistakes, this industry will be ruined! Special circumstances and special diseases need doctors to try boldly and scientifically. No treatment is death, treatment or death or life. When this road is blocked, the people who blow this wind are really harmful!

"Treatment!" The bodyguard roared at Xiao Li with a ferocious face.

"I can only do this! I dare not move the rest! I haven't done it!" Xiao Li in the emergency department is also afraid. It's not that he is not good at learning, but that his injury is complex!

In a hurry, the bodyguard fiercely pushed Xiao Li and hit his head on the car glass, "bang!" Xiao Li can only bear it! Emergency doctors are hard to do, right here! You should not only master both inside and outside, but also be able to Qigong! Emergency department doctors who do not know Qigong martial arts are unqualified.

I can only bear it. Who called you a doctor! Who makes you have no ability to save people? Who makes you do this business!

120 rushed into the hospital. Without a certain level, Ouyang will not appear, otherwise anyone will be welcome and don't do anything.

The wounded entered the emergency department, darling! It's really cruel. The wounded lie on their sides. The nurse holds the wounded and climbs flat. For fear of suffocation, the wounded can only lie on their sides.

The pants have become blood pimples. The green hiking pants are stained with blood and black to the bottom of the pants. The wooden sign with thick arms is directly inserted into the anus. The black blood still flows along the edge of the wood!

"Come on! Blood pressure can't be measured. Sometimes there's no pulse! The venous channel has been opened and the cardiogenic has been used!" Xiao Li helped the nurse to help the patient run quickly. When he saw the expert group, he ran and shouted back. This is the doctor! He is qualified!

Rescue begins!
