

Chapter 7307

Ever since meeting his great-grandfather Steve and being reminded by his girlfriend Rachel,

Robert Routhchild had fully realized that no one was as close to him as his parents.

When Steve called to invite him and Rachel to Harvard,

He accepted without even consulting Rachel.

He then excitedly called Rachel,

Eagerly sharing the good news that his great-grandfather was inviting them to Harvard.

Although Rachel already knew all this,

She still pretended to be very excited and said happily,

"That's great!"

"This is absolutely wonderful news for you."

"I wonder when he wants us to go?"

Robert happily replied,

"Tomorrow! His private jet will be waiting at the airport."

"We'll leave directly after we arrive."

"The time is up to us."

"Do you want it earlier or later?"

Rachel smiled and said,

"It's definitely better to go earlier."

"After all, it's still a few hours' journey."

"The earlier we arrive, the more it shows how much we respect him."

Robert agreed, "That makes sense."

"Then we'll head straight to the airport after breakfast!"

Rachel agreed and said, "Okay."

"I'll wait for your call tomorrow."

All of Rachel's conversations were under Youngheart's surveillance.

After hearing these conversations,

Youngheart's mood immediately improved.

He said to his wife,

"Oh my! This time we've secured a great opportunity for our descendants!"

His wife was a relative of the Wu family for hundreds of years.

Although she didn't have the surname Wu,

Her family had been bound to the Wu family for centuries and knew the secrets of the entire Warriors Den.

Only a family bound to the Wu family for hundreds of years could marry someone like Youngheart,

A core member of the Wu family.

Seeing her husband's agitation, she couldn't help but ask,

"Why are you so interested in the Routhchild family?"

Youngheart shook his head and said,

"It's not that I'm interested in them,"

"But rather that I hope to find a new direction for our descendants."

He then sighed, "The Queen's lifespan is running out."

"I predict that in the next few decades, the Warriors Den will undergo tremendous changes."

"The Queen will become even more extreme about her impending death."

"I feel that after a while, the life and death of everyone in the Warriors Den will be completely insignificant to her."

"If necessary, she will sacrifice everything she can for the chance to live forever."

"If she finds the path to immortality, everything will be fine."

"If not, nobody knows what she will become."

"Perhaps she will come up with some brain-dead, extreme ideas and cause the entire Warriors Den to perish."

"She has no children, but we do."

"We must find a way out for our descendants."

"In the future, if the Warriors Den encounters great turmoil,..."

"Each family is fighting its own battle; we must have enough capital!"

His wife said doubtfully,

"Even if the wise ruler dies in the future,"

"Won't the Left Army Commandery still be ours?"

"At that time, the entire Left Army Commandery's assets will be under our control."

"All the income will belong to us."

"And we won't have to pay tribute anymore."

"We should only live better!"

Youngheart shook his head and said coldly,

"Then you don't understand the wise ruler at all."

"Once her lifespan is about to end, no one knows what decision she will make."

"If the American military has a pill that can make her live for another five hundred years,"

"She will spare no effort to let the Warriors Den launch an attack on the American army."

"The Five Armies Commandery's garrisons are all over the world,"

"But in the end, they are all under the control of various governments."

"Once exposed, in the eyes of various governments,"

"We will be complete terrorists, or even unprecedented super terrorists."

"Countries around the world will do everything they can to eliminate us."

"In that case, let alone protecting assets,"

"We should be grateful to be able to save our lives!"

His wife's expression suddenly became extremely serious.

The current apparent lack of significant risk is based on the premise that Victoria remains a normal person with sound decision-making abilities.
