CCW Chapter 7332

The underground city was just as peaceful as ever. Its gentle, bright light was everywhere, and the spiritual energy was so abundant that it was almost unbelievable.

This time, however, Charlie did not immediately take Lin Wan'er through the teleportation formation to leave. Instead, a thought suddenly occurred to him, and he asked her:

"Wan'er, do you think settling down here someday would be a good choice?"

Lin Wan'er's eyes lit up, and she smiled.

"More than a good choice! It would be absolutely wonderful. This place was built by someone with extraordinary divine abilities, and it's so vast that it doesn't feel suffocating at all. More importantly, it's completely isolated from the outside world. Considering how sturdy this place is, I believe it might actually be the safest place on Earth."

As she spoke, Lin Wan'er looked somewhat wistful.

"If we really decided to settle here, we should try to purchase or secure long-term leases for all the land surrounding the areas where the teleportation formations are located outside.

"Although those places technically belong to different countries, I believe that as long as we have enough money, none of that should be a problem."

Charlie nodded and smiled.

"That's right. Most of those places are remote, uninhabited mountainous regions. Even if we can't buy them outright, we could probably lease or acquire long-term concessions over them by spending a little more money.

"If we also modify the exits of each teleportation formation, living here wouldn't become boring at all. We could travel to different parts of the world whenever we wanted, exploring and sightseeing."

Lin Wan’er suddenly sighed somewhat wistfully.

“However, only you, Young Master, can operate these teleportation formations. If many people lived here, everyone would probably have to trouble you to escort them whenever they wanted to go outside.”

Charlie instinctively asked, “Many people? How many?”

Lin Wan’er looked at Charlie and smiled somewhat shyly.

“I have no idea exactly how many there would be. Young Master, you have so many female admirers. If all of them were willing to follow you, this place might actually end up housing quite a large number of people.”

Then she smiled playfully.

“But I certainly have no objections. In fact, I’ve always enjoyed being surrounded by people. It’s just that my father was single-mindedly devoted to driving out the Manchus back then. He married only my mother as his principal wife and never took any concubines.

“Moreover, my mother passed away quite early, so I was the only child in our family.

“However, I grew up in southern Yunnan, where many of my childhood friends came from large families with numerous brothers and sisters. The largest family I knew even had four siblings born in the same age group. It was truly lively.”

Charlie instinctively asked, “Siblings of the same age group? You mean cousins?”

Lin Wan’er covered her mouth and giggled, looking at Charlie with a bright smile.
