

Chapter 7311

Steve's attitude was resolute;

Now was the perfect opportunity to prove his loyalty,

And he couldn't let such a good chance slip by.

A mere few hundred million dollars—if it could win Charlie's favor, it would be well worth it.

So he readily agreed, saying to Charlie,

"Mr. Chen, if there are any similar matters in the future,"

"You can rest assured and leave them to me."

"I'll take care of everything!"

Seeing his insistence,

Charlie said nothing more, nodding slightly in agreement.

He then said, "Okay, then you'll be in charge this time."

"Try to make it as realistic as possible."

After saying that, he turned to Rachel and said,

"Rachel, tonight, find an opportunity to report to your superiors."

"First, reveal that Steve is planning to manipulate cryptocurrency."

"Say there will be at least a threefold profit."

"The Left Army Commander's Office will definitely be very interested and will urge you to find more information,"

"Perhaps even hoping you can get entry opportunities directly from Steve."

"These next two days..."

"We'll slowly set them up,"

"Letting them crawl into it little by little."

Rachel immediately replied respectfully,

"Okay, Mr. Chen, I'll follow your orders."

Charlie nodded and sighed,

"After this, we need to think of a highly credible project to attract him to invest all his savings."

"I estimate it will be at least several billion US dollars."

"Steve, do you have any good ideas?"

Steve thought for a moment and said,

"Several billion US dollars isn't a huge amount,"

"But it's not a small amount either."

"If we use a brute-force approach, we can continue to attract their investment with cryptocurrency,"

"And then immediately launder the money after they invest,"

"Making the value of the currency zero."

Charlie asked, "Can the cryptocurrency issued by the President be wiped out?"

"Sure," Steve said nonchalantly.

"If he and his family want, they can liquidate all their assets at any time."

"The value might not be zero."

"But it could drop by 99.9% instantly."

"The only problem is that his cryptocurrency has been lukewarm."

"No one's investing."

"Once someone's willing to buy,"

"He'll be the first to run."

Charlie nodded and smiled,

"That would be perfect."

"Let him and his family handle the scamming of my target."

"Even if he's furious, he'll have nowhere to vent his anger."

"He can't exactly go to the President for money, can he?"

Steve laughed and said, "That's simple."

"If they can really invest billions of dollars,"

"I believe the President will be envious."

"Let him just take it all."

"He'll definitely be tempted by that much money."

Once all of Youngheart's assets are taken,

Youngheart will be extremely angry with the perpetrators,

And might even resort to desperate measures.

Charlie had a decent impression of Steve.

At least the old man was sensible and knew what he was doing.

Therefore, Charlie didn't want to drag this big trouble into his hands.

In the end, Youngheart's assets would all be handed over to the Grand Commander to harvest.

Even if Youngheart was arrogant,

He would have no choice but to suffer in silence,

Otherwise, he might drag the entire Warriors Den into an abyss.

So, Charlie immediately said to Steve,

"Since the Grand Commander is the best candidate,"

"Let's quickly devise a plan."

"First, let Youngheart make a fortune through cryptocurrency,"

"And then lure him to bet all his chips on the Grand Commander."

"No problem!"

Steve agreed without hesitation.

Although he wasn't quite sure who Charlie was going to scam,

He enjoyed the feeling of doing bad things and scheming against others with Charlie.