

Concubine 35

Chapter 35: You're the Sponsor?

"You have work?" After Su Ji hung up the phone, Su Cunyi asked with concern, "leave after you eat. Don't go hungry."

In fact, Su Ji did not intend to leave immediately. Of course, she had to finish her meal before leaving. "Yes, there's no hurry."

Su Cunyi smiled lovingly and turned to ask Su Qianrou, "Rourou, when will the results of your exam be out?"

...

"I think we'll be able to find out this Sunday morning," Su Qianrou replied.

"Dear, our daughter has been working so hard recently." When the results are out, won't you throw a big party for her?"

"Alright, I'll take care of it when the time comes."

"Aiya, there are only a few days left. We can't wait until then to invite the VIPs. Anyway, Rourou did so well this time. She'll definitely be in the top three. You should start preparing now. Who knows, she might even rank first. That'll make you proud."

Su Qianrou: "Mom, we can't know for sure."

"Dad, I know of a great place!" Su Junye said.

They surrounded Su Cunyi and chattered nonstop. On the other hand, Su Ji couldn't care less and continued eating. She whistled and got up to leave.

Outside the door, Wang Zhicheng was on standby. When he saw her coming out, he immediately waved. "Miss, are you going out? I'll send you off!"

**

An hour later, Chen Jing finally saw Su Ji at the entrance of the TV station.

"Why are you so slow? Hurry up and follow me!" Chen Jing said angrily.

She really didn't know what the sponsor saw in her. It was such a good opportunity for her, but she didn't appreciate it at all.

Su Ji followed her unhurriedly.

That's the fastest she could since she called her when she was eating.

Chen Jing led her through the back door and went directly backstage. They passed through the common resting area and stopped in front of a VIP lounge. Chen Jing gave her a stern warning. "You're in luck.

Today, the boss of the main sponsor is here personally. Go in and greet them properly. Ask them what is required of you. If you dare to mess it up, I'll..."

What?

Su Ji looked at her with a smile, waiting for her to continue.

Chen Jing wanted to say something cruel and vicious, but the moment her eyes met Su Ji's, she suddenly became timid.

She had forgotten what she wanted to say and added without any conviction, "I'm going to hit you!"

Damn it, why did she feel like she was tazed?

Chen Jing cursed under her breath and rushed to the front stage to keep an eye on the rehearsal.

She didn't have time to care about Su Ji. The people at the rehearsal were her real money makers!

Su Ji had already learned about today's work on her way here, so for her, there was no challenge.

However, the appearance fee was really high!

It didn't matter anyways, she liked being a vase.

The door sign of the VIP lounge was different from that of the other rooms. It was gold in color and exuded a sense of luxury.

After knocking on the door, Su Ji waited patiently for about half a minute before the door finally opened.

However, when she saw the man who opened the door, she paused.

Pei Huai held the handle, a piece of tissue between his hands.

He was dressed neatly. His trousers were ironed without a single wrinkle insight. He looked sexy and uptight at the same time.

Su Ji looked at the door sign of the VIP lounge and then at the man standing in front of her. After a long while, she suddenly asked, "you're the sponsor??"
