

Concubine 36

Chapter 36: He Seemed to have Seen Her Before

“Detian Organic is your milk?”

The corners of Pei Huai’s eyes twitched.

It was really f*cking weird for her to say that.

...

Should he answer ‘yes’ or ‘no’?

After a few seconds of silence, he said, “what do you think?”

“...”

Su Ji, “I guess...”

The two of them always met in strange circumstances. Shen Mu happened to come back at this time and explained everything.

In the afternoon, Shen Mu heard the PR department discussing who should be the ambassador for tonight’s show. He had a flash of inspiration.

He thought that Ms. Su was a boss, but she turned out to be a cute newbie in the entertainment industry.

It seemed that the CEO still liked cute ladies.

Heh, men.

Pei Huai turned and motioned for Su Ji to enter the room, and then gave Shen Mu a look, “you made your own decision?”

Shen Mu’s back was instantly drenched after hearing those cold words. He had started thinking about how to start writing his self-reflection when he saw the boss suddenly smile. “That’s a good idea.”

Shen Mu was speechless.

Was he complimenting him?

**

An hour later, Zhou Xuefang and the other two girls returned from the auditorium, drenched in sweat.

Pan Lian: “I still have to do my makeup later. Time is tight.”

Meng Na: “This is a great marketing opportunity for “Hello, Sunday”. How can we relax?”

Zhou Xuefang caught up with them. She had just finished her rehearsal and “coincidentally” bumped into the program director, so she had a “casual” chat with him.

“I heard that the owner of Detian Organic is also coming tonight. The episode is going to explode.”

Just as the three of them were about to return to the dressing room, they saw Su Ji walking over from the opposite side, wearing a beautiful white dress.

Under the light, her makeup was exquisite, her lips were bright red, and her face was pale and delicate.

The three of them were stunned at first, but it took them a few seconds to realize that the beautiful woman was Su Ji.

Zhou Xuefang's dazed expression was instantly tainted with a slight disgust. "What are you doing here?"

Meng Na was a little awkward, "didn't Ms. Jing tell you yesterday? You're not in tonight's performance."

"Oh." Su Ji unhurriedly pulled up the collar of her dress. "I'm not performing tonight."

?

The three of them were even more confused.

Zhou Xuefang looked at Su Ji's outfit. She was dressed so splendidly that she couldn't possibly be a staff member.

The organizers of the show invited them and not Su Ji, but it was not their fault. Was Su Ji here to ruin the show?

Just as Zhou Xuefang decided to call for the staff to drive Su Ji away to avoid chaos, Shen Mu came out of the VIP lounge, waving a billboard with their company's logo.

Shen Mu: "Ms. Su! You forgot the sign in the lounge!"

As soon as he finished speaking, the three instantly fell silent.

Pei Huai came out after her. When he saw Su Ji, who had changed her clothes, his eyes were fixed on her.

The young lady was smiling, and the corners of her eyes were bright and slightly upturned.

Looking at her smile, Pei Huai felt something in his chest.

He seemed to have...seen her before.

"Ms. Su is so beautiful! Boss, don't you think so?" Shen Mu asked with keen eyes.

Pei Huai collected his thoughts and was not stingy with his praise this time. "Not bad. The white matches our brand color."

Zhou Xuefang could not believe what she had just heard.

What did that mean?

Su Ji is tonight's ambassador for Detian Organic?