Chapter 98: Internet Idol

Sakayanagi Arisu seemed quite satisfied today. Not long after finishing her meal, she strolled leisurely down the street.

Though the girl petite frame was delicate and dainty, her slightly rounded chest still carried a youthful allure. At such a young age, it was hard not to imagine how captivating she would become in the future. Her slender waist seemed as if it could be held with just one hand, and the subtle curve of her hips connected to her slim, well-proportioned legs.

The white garter stockings hugged the soft flesh of her thighs, and beneath her skirt, her skin was a radiant, snow-white hue, so tender that it drew frequent glances.

However, her movements were aided by a cane, and her steps were slow, adding an extra layer of fragility to her already delicate beauty.

Kaoru Mitoma thought about his reward again, wondering if it would have any effect on Sakayanagi Arisu.

"Do you want my reward?"

Though unsure why Sakayanagi Arisu suddenly brought this up, Kaoru Mitoma replied honestly.

"I'm a pervert, so please don't hold back. You can reward me as much as you want."

"Heh, such a straightforward answer." Sakayanagi Arisu chuckled softly, as if teasing him.

"Well, your birthday is in a few days. If you perform well, I might just reward you."

Kaoru Mitoma had already figured out this little princess. She talked a big game, but in reality, she wouldn't let him touch her. Even Kamuro Masumi had allowed him to touch her thigh.

"How should I perform?"

"I'm also troubled by that. If we end up fighting again, Katsuragi-kun might get even more upset."
Sakayanagi Arisu smiled.

"Do you know how to play chess, Mitoma-kun? If you do, we could make a bet."

"Bet on what?" Kaoru Mitoma asked.

"Whatever you want to bet on, I'll bet with you." Sakayanagi Arisu smiled faintly, exuding an air of confidence.

It seemed she was particularly skilled at chess.

Kaoru Mitoma pondered for a moment. He didn't know how to play chess, he usually only played Go and Gomoku. But he wasn't in a hurry to decline the invitation.

"I'll think about it. There are too many things I want you to do."

"Heh, are you still thinking about licking?"

"Not just licking."

Kaoru Mitoma deliberately glanced at the girl's small chest. Though modest in size, the shape was slightly perky, and both the feel and appearance would likely be excellent.

"I have to say, Mitoma-kun, you really know how to provoke a girl's temper." Sakayanagi Arisu glared at him fiercely, his gaze far too direct!

Kaoru Mitoma was about to say something more when his eyes caught sight of a suspicious figure lingering around an electronics store, seemingly hesitant about whether to enter.

Noticing his change in expression, Sakayanagi Arisu immediately followed his gaze. Not far away, there was a student wearing a mask and a hat, making it almost impossible to see their face.

"Is that someone you know?"

Kaoru Mitoma had a strange expression on his face, unsure of how to respond to Sakayanagi Arisu words. He had seen her before, but they had never exchanged greetings. At most, it was a chance encounter on the street, followed by recording her wishes.

Just like now, she was surrounded by numerous wishes, standing out prominently in the crowd like a conspicuous boss marker.

[Secretly threaten Sakura Airi—you wouldn't want everyone to know you're an online idol, would you?]

[Play stalker games with her]

[Beg her to send more risqué photos]

[Lick Sakura Airi delicate feet until they're ruined]

[Help Sakura-san take some cosplay photos]

[While looking at her risqué photos, ask her for a favor]

[Pretend to be Sakura Airi obsessive fan and go crazy over her]

...

This suspicious figure was Sakura Airi, a student from Class D, who seemed to be an online idol. However, Kaoru Mitoma had noticed that she was often alone, and the students in Class D didn't pay much attention to her. It was likely that no one knew her true identity.

"I don't know her. I'll greet her some other time."

If he were alone right now, Kaoru Mitoma might have already started following her. Unfortunately, there was a girl with a cane beside him, making it too conspicuous.

"Are you sure you're not going to greet her?" Sakayanagi Arisu looked at him with a teasing smile.

"Or is it because I'm here, hindering your chances with women?"

"I promised to accompany you today. No matter what happens, I'll only have eyes for you" Kaoru Mitoma replied nonchalantly.

"Hehe, as expected of Ikemen-kun. You're quite good at handling girls," Sakayanagi Arisu said, her eyes filled with amusement. The term "Ikemen" she used meant "handsome guy."

"Let's not talk about being an Ikemen. The words I hear most often are 'creepy' and 'pervert.'"

"Perverved Ikemen-kun?"

"..."

As they chatted, Kaoru Mitoma noticed that Sakura Airi didn't enter the electronics store but instead hurriedly left.

How strange. What was she afraid of?

A while ago, Kaoru Mitoma had actually followed Sakura Airi, but for some reason, the wish hadn't been fulfilled, even though Sakura Airi had never noticed him from start to finish.

Later, Kaoru Mitoma suddenly realized that it wasn't about the actual act of following but the playfulness of it, so he temporarily set Sakura Airi aside.

After a while, Kaoru Mitoma bid farewell to Sakayanagi Arisu and returned to his dorm. As Sakayanagi Arisu had guessed, the dorm was indeed sparsely furnished, with only the most basic necessities.

He had bought them and then left them untouched. Well, he hadn't even cleaned the floor more than a few times, and many areas remained the same as when he first moved in.

Kaoru Mitoma glanced at his rewards. He had accumulated a ten-draw from Horikita Suzune, Amikura Mako, Ichinose Honami, and Kushida Kikyo, with half of them being from Ichinose Honami.

[Ichinose must be the main heroine]

[Lick Ichinose Honami delicate feet until they're ruined]

[Take a look down there]

[Want to be stepped on by Ichinose]

[Teach her more knowledge]

...

After all, as the official girlfriend, she was more valuable than Horikita Suzune, who shirked responsibility.

[Drawing the corresponding rewards now...]

[Congratulations! You have obtained the reward—「The Marauder's Map」!]

["Marauder's Map": By casting a specific spell, the current location can be projected onto the map, with an effective range of one kilometer. It can also monitor the positions of everyone within that range.]

...

[Congratulations! You have received the reward—"Auto Hunter"!]]

["Auto Hunter": Though small in size, its hunting range extends far beyond the visible world. It can operate 24/7 without interruption until it runs out of power.]

...

[Congratulations! You have received the reward—"Time-Space Camera"!]]

["Time-Space Camera": It can capture images from any period within the past 100 years, including the present, past, and future.]

...

[Congratulations! You have received the reward—"Dragon Maid: Cleaning Dragon"!]]

[Congratulations! You have received the reward—"Pal Sphere"!]]

[Congratulations! You have received the reward—"Sleepy Black Tea"!]]

[Congratulations! You have received the reward—"Energy Soup"!]]

...

As the rewards appeared one after another, the thrill of the gacha draw suddenly vanished, and Kaoru Mitoma felt an inexplicable emptiness.

Fortunately, today's ten-draw yielded quite a few good items.

In the past, he often ended up with strange things, so he was slightly looking forward to his retirement life.
