Chapter 38 - , Coach I want to play

It took a week for Lu Qiujiang to hand over his article on number theory to Prof. Gales. Prof. Gales turned it aside. "I do n't have much research on number theory. Let me put it here first. Ask Professor Stein for help. He is an expert in this area; but I would like to persuade you that you still have to choose a field for research. After all, human energy is limited. If you are too scattered, you will not achieve much! "

Gals 's words may make sense, but Lu Qiujiang does not need a certain in-depth study, but makes progress in various fields related to his own plan; this is like Shaolin 's 72 stunts, each stunt It takes the learner to spend decades, but there are also thirteen priests such as monks and Jumochi.

Tao Zhexuan 's research involves harmonic analysis, partial differential equations, combinatorial mathematics, analytic number theory, and arithmetic number theory, which are close to 10 important mathematics research fields; and the research of the former Soviet Union 's greatest mathematician Kolmogorov is almost all over mathematics. In all fields, and has made seminal contributions.

It is said that Kolmogorov wanted to study history when he was studying at Moscow University. Once he wrote an excellent article on history. His teacher just read it and told him that in history, he wanted to think It takes a few or even dozens of correct proofs to prove your point of view. Kolmogorov asked where he needed a proof. His teacher said it was mathematics, so he started his mathematics life.

At that time, the Department of Mathematics of Moscow University required students to complete a research in a certain field, or take fourteen different branches of mathematics. Almost all students chose the first item, and Kolmogorov heard this rule incorrectly. He wrote fourteen novel articles with different directions, which became a myth!

Professor Gals gave him a positive answer within a few days. The paper was successfully sent to the "Annual Mathematics", which is also a benefit in Princeton. If it is a manuscript from another school without a reputation, it may be missed.

Abel spent his entire life in poverty, sending his manuscript to Cauchy, lost by Cauchy, and sending it to Gauss, and Gauss did n't read it until a paper was published and caused a sensation. Abel has been dead for two days, at the age of 27; this tragedy is the best proof of this.

As soon as the paper was sent out, Lv Qiuqian began writing a new paper. This time he chose the goal of combinatorial mathematics. When he handed the paper to Professor Gales, the last game of the preseason was also to begin, this time the Princeton Tigers will go away to challenge the NCAA giants-Duke Blue Devils.

Duke University Blue Devils has won three national championships and six runner-ups since joining coach K, and has entered the national semi-finals nine times. It is the best NCAA team in the same period. Their most recent championship was the year before. That year, under Shawn Battier and No. 2 pick Williams, they defeated Arizona to win the championship. Battier also won MOP honors.

Now Duke's camp includes Chris Duhon, the point guard when he won the championship, as well as JJ Redick, Dengtai Jones, Daniel Ewing, Shelton Williams, Shafrick Lan Dove and other stars who entered the NBA in the face of such a powerful opponent, even the consistently rough nerve Patrice also tense, but Lu Qiuqian still leisurely leaned on the bus window turned over a book on mathematical physics books.

"Aren't you nervous at all? That's Duke!" In order to relieve his nervousness, Patrice started to chat with Lu Qiuqian.

"What's so nervous about me? I don't have much playing time anyway!" If there is no surprise in this game, he will be pushed to the bench by Coach Thompson.

When the bus entered the Duke campus, it slowed down. Suddenly, familiar Chinese came out of the window. Lu Qiuqian, who was very sensitive after the transformation of his body, looked at it and saw that somewhere in the Duke campus, a group of uniquely dressed The yellow men in costumes sang and danced around an ugly banner, while another group of Chinese people formed two distinct groups with them, and Duke's security guards held their arms and watched the excitement.

What that flag meant to the Chinese was that Lu Qiuqian was very clear. At this time, the bus stopped at the gate of the stadium not far away. Lu Qiuqian frowned and wanted to get off to see what happened. .

"Wait a moment, there seems to be something below. Let's wait a moment!" Thompson stopped the driver from opening the door, and he didn't want the player to have an accident.

At this time, several people in the Chinese team tried to rush over to pick up the disgusting flag. The two of them squeezed together suddenly. Seeing that they had a conflict, the security guard hurried over to separate them.

Just when the two sides were arguing, a girl of obvious Chinese appearance wrote words supporting the party holding the flag before and after his white classmate's T-shirt, and then the two went under the flag and She seems to have said something inappropriate, and the Chinese are more excited.

Hehe, it is another kind of politics that wants to be speculative. Lv Qiuqian will not believe that she does not know what that flag means, if she knows it, she just wants to accumulate some capital. Similarly, Lv Qiuqian would not believe that Duke did not understand what it meant for this flag to appear in his school. They knew and agreed to prove their position.

“Okay, let's go down!”, Coach Thompson saw that the number of security guards seemed to be enough to control this matter, so he took them into the stadium.

Lv Qiuqian got out of the car and stopped, and finally followed them in. Now that he was not conducive to solving the problem, it is difficult to wake up a group of people with ulterior motives.

But since Duke did this kind of thing, he must be prepared to pay the price. After changing the jersey, Lu Qiuqian went to coach Thompson, “Coach, I want to play!”

“No problem, you will get a chance in the second half!” He also wanted Lu Qiuqian to feel the strength of the top NCAA point guard.

“No, I mean I want to start!” Lv Qiuqian said solemnly, “And if there are no surprises, I want to play the whole game!”

The smile on Coach Thompson's face froze, “Why? Lu, you are our secret weapon, I don't want your strength to be exposed prematurely!”

Other players in the locker room also discovered the abnormality of Lv Qiuqian today, and gathered around.

Well, because it is an eccentric plane, sometimes the timeline is different. Do n't be too obvious about the comments in the book review area, otherwise you will delete the post
