Chapter 47 - Genius girl

“Wow! You must not be Harvard! If Harvard has a student who speaks Hebrew so well, I must have known it for a long time!” She held out her hand and Lv Qiuqian gave it a light grip, the palm was soft and powerful! “Also, please call me Natalie!”

“Well, I’m Princeton!”, Lu Qiuqian shrugged, and she was a smart girl.

“Oh? What are you doing at Harvard? Are you a neon?”, Natalie asked in neon.

“No, I am Chinese, and tomorrow I will play a basketball game on behalf of Princeton and Harvard!”, Lu Qiuqian remembers that she will also have some German, French, and Arabic in addition to English, neon, and Hebrew. So he answered in French.

“Are you going to prove to me?” Natalie crossed her arms across her chest, raised her chin slightly, and looked up at Lu Qiuqian.

“No, just out of the curiosity of a movie fan, I want to see if the rumor is true!” From her reaction, the news about her multilingualism should be based on facts!

“But I can’t see the kind of excitement from your fans!” Natalie snapped her fingers, “Don’t forget what I learned!” She is now studying psychology at Harvard.

“Perhaps your analysis method is not accurate, you know, eye movement psychology is not a mature doctrine at present!” With Lu Qiuqian’s current body control ability, how can he easily reveal his true thoughts.

“I think it’s more that you have a unique ability to cover up your inner real activities!”, Intuitively telling her that the other party may be a very interesting research object, she reached out again, “Under formal recognition, I am Nata Li-Heshler, a Harvard psychology student. “

“I’m Lu Qiuqian, Huaguo Jingshi University, currently working as an exchange student in the Department of Mathematics at Princeton!”, Harvard’s psychology, like Princeton’s mathematics, is the world’s number one dominant subject.

“Do people in the math department also study psychology?”, Natalie found a clean lawn and sat down, then patted the position beside her. “Sit down and talk, I’m always tired with my head held up! “

“Oh, I’m sorry!” She is only one meter six tall, which is indeed a little different from the one meter eighty-six Lu Qiuqian. Lu Qiuqian estimates that if she is holding her in front, her chin can just be put on top of her head; I don’t know that those guys who play center in the NBA to hook up with Avril, who is lower than her, are Shenma psychology! “Psychology and mathematics also have many intersecting fields! Such as statistical analysis, such as the Ebbinghaus forgetting curve ...”

Natalie leaned on her cheek and listened to Lu Qiuqian’s analysis. Mathematical psychology is also one of the courses of the Harvard Psychology Department. However, the professors mainly analyzed from the perspective of psychology. Interpretation of the knowledge she already knows makes her feel particularly fresh and refutes from time to time, “No, no, you may have no problem in mathematics, but not in psychology, because “

“But you can’t deny that there is such a possibility? From the perspective I just pointed out, this mathematical model is fully capable of answering the above questions ...”, the two quickly fell into the fierce academic debate.

Natalie is not angry because someone refutes herself. Compared with her appearance, she prefers others to appreciate her personality charm and intelligence. This is also the reason why she interrupted her acting career and went to Harvard to study, because here and those exceptional classmates are together that she can truly understand herself.

“It’s a pleasure chatting with you, but unfortunately it’s not early, I have to go back!” Natalie stood up but didn’t leave directly. It seemed that she wanted to wait for Lu Qiuqian to take the initiative to obtain contact information.

“I am also very happy!” Lu Qiuqian hesitated to issue an invitation, “If you are not a fan of the Harvard Crimson team, I would like to invite you to watch my game tomorrow in the basketball stadium!”

“Can’t I go if I were?”, Natalie bent her lips, showing a playful expression.

“Because the Crimson team is destined to usher in a fiasco tomorrow, you are now my friend, I don’t want you to be too sad!” Lu Qiuqian replied confidently.

“It depends! If I finish my homework early tomorrow, I will go to the basketball hall!” Is this a date? Is this a date? The girl started playing drums in her heart, and since she had a short affection for Christensen during the filming of “Star Wars Prequel”, she has never been as disturbed as it is now.

“If you appear on the field, I will definitely see you!”, Lu Qiujian and her walked to the fork, waved goodbye and returned to the hotel.

Will you go tomorrow or not? Natalie, who was lying on the bed in the dormitory, looked at the ceiling, tangled in her heart.

“Nat! It’s time to get up! Did you forget to promise me to go to the library to do your homework yesterday?” The next morning, Natalie was awakened by her roommate from her dream.

“What good thing have you encountered? Since answering a call at lunch In just half an hour, you have laughed out of nowhere five times inexplicably!” Nata, who was interrupted again Li angrily threw the pen on the notebook!

“Wow! I can’t believe it, guess who I just received the call from?”, The roommate asked desperately in a low voice.

“Who is it? The school informed you that you won the Rhodes Scholarship? Or is the school football team captain going to date you?”, Natalie replied casually.

“Better than this! Ma Youyou’s agent!” The roommate couldn’t help being excited and told the truth, “He told me that Ma Youyou invited me to perform with him! God, my God, and the best in the world The cellist performing on the same stage, I must be dreaming! “

“Wow! Congratulations! Believe me, your performance is also great, fully worthy of his stage!”, Natalie expressed her heartfelt praise.

“Thank you, Nat!” The roommate hugged her tightly and started to pack things up. “I don’t think I’m in the mood for these homework now. I’m going back to prepare for the piano. Sorry, I’ll leave you alone. ! “

“It’s okay, go ahead! If you need a dress or a makeup artist, remember to find me!”, After the roommate left, Natalie had no intention of continuing to write homework; well, some of my friends performed with Youyou Ma There are cellists, poets who have published poems, and Olympic players, so it seems that there are so many basketball players?

Natalie, who is particularly fond of elite figures, quickly found an excuse for herself. Anyway, this is a group assignment. One person ca n’t finish it. Simply give yourself a half-day vacation and go to the basketball hall to see it!
