

162 Chapter 162

"No need," Henry rejected as soon as possible. The idea was too much for him to stomach. 1

"Aww, but I feel like a good blowjob will make you feel better, Mr. Grant," Erin kept trying to seduce him. "Why don't you try it? Don't worry, I'm very good at giving a blowjob."

"O—Of course, I'm still a virgin! I just learned how to give a good head by watching a lot of porn!" Erin added. She knew that virginity would add more thrill of the conquest. 1

Henry wasn't amused at all.

He took a deep breath to calm his rage and said, "Miss Ross, you should prepare everything tonight, because we will fly to Greenland tomorrow at noon." 1

"Huh? Greenland?!" Erin was surprised. "Where is Greenland?"

"... It's a country up north. It's a cold place surrounded by ice most of the time."

"Ice? Then what are you going to do there? Oh, Mr. Grant, you surely know how to joke, hihi," Erin giggled.

"I have another meeting there. We're going to start another publishing house based in Nuuk, Greenland," Henry said.

It was all bullcrap, of course. But Henry knew Erin was so stupid. She'd just believe everything he said anyway.

"Oh, I see...." Erin wasn't interested in the business stuff that Henry was talking about. After all, why would she care about business, finance, and whatsoever?

She was so beautiful; that was all she needed to have a good life.

She'd marry a man like Henry, handsome, rich, useful, and gave her everything she demanded.

She was a woman. All she needed to do was to be cute and spread her legs wide so a powerful man like Henry could fuck her every day. In exchange, Henry would spoil her for the rest of her life! 3

Erin had that idea in mind, and it was proven true so far!

"So, what's the good stuff in there, Mr. Grant?" Erin asked on the phone. "Is there a mall? I mean, it's a place covered in ice, maybe they still live in that igloo, hihi!"

"They have a mall," Henry replied. "In fact, I want you to follow me because I want to see the northern lights or aurora with a special woman, and that woman is you, Miss ross."

"Whoa, aurora?!" Erin saw an aurora on Youtube before, and it looked so beautiful!

Of course, she wanted to see it in real life, but she didn't like the cold.

"But it's too cold there, Mr. Grant, are you going to warm me up every minute?" Erin hinted.

"Don't worry, we will stay in a warm cabin while watching it, and you know what we will do in the cabin, right?"

Erin's cheeks reddened. She was so excited thinking that she could finally have sex with Henry.

She could vividly imagine the size of Henry's cock, and couldn't wait to have it all inside her pussy.

"So, Miss Ross, do you want to go with me to Greenland or not?"

"Yes! Please take me with you, Mr. Grant! I will go anywhere as long as I'm with you!" Erin said. She was so happy knowing that she'd get even more money after marrying Henry.

Since twenty thousand dollars was like pocket change for him, he shouldn't worry if Erin asked for a hundred thousand dollars daily! 2

"Good," Henry smirked as he knew the plan had been set. "Don't worry, Miss Ross, this time, we will be on the same flight. Though we're not going to be sitting in the same seat, everything has been prepared by Mai beforehand, so I can't change anything, unfortunately."

Erin wanted to get angry at Henry because they weren't together during the flight.

But she felt like she had to be a little patient for now.

After all, if she kept demanding stuff from Henry, he might find her annoying. 2

'I need to act like I'm a good girl. A girl who's all forgiving and loving, so he thinks I'm a marriage material, hihi,' Erin had no intention of marrying Henry before. But after knowing Henry didn't hesitate to spoil her, Erin decided to change her tactic to impress Henry so he'd be madly in love with her, wanting to marry her no matter what. 1

'OMG, we will be like Cinderella and Prince Charming!' Erin thought. But then she quickly rebuked her idea. 'Wait, but I'm not poor like Cinderella. I'm also rich and smart!' 4

"Okay, Mr. Grant! I will see you tomorrow at noon then!" Erin said. "Good night, sleep well, my rich daddy. Lots of kisses, smoooochiee!"

Henry was cringing from head to toe. He would be ecstatic if Kate was the one who said those words. 1

Unfortunately, Erin was the last person on the planet that he wanted to hear saying those words to him.

So he just hung up the call before he died out of cringe. 1

Beep.

"Oh God, I hate that woman so much," Henry said. "But it's good that she's so clueless of everything that's going on in her life. I will allow her to be happy with the money I gave her. After all, she'd be sleeping with seals and polar bears for the rest of her life later, hahah!" 3

Henry was in a good mood as he carried the good news for Kate.

He walked towards the connecting door and knocked on it a few times, "Kate, I have good news for you," he said. "Can I come in?"

Kate's side had the connecting door lock because Henry knew she needed her privacy.

"Come in! It's not locked!" Kate shouted at the other side of the door.

Thus, Henry pushed the door open and was greeted by Kate wearing a white night dress.

She looked exquisite and also alluring at the same time, which stunned Henry.

Kate quickly covered her body with the blanket to stop Henry from salivating and then asked, "What's the good news, Henry?"

Henry snapped out of his daze and replied, "Erin suspects nothing and has agreed to come with me to Greenland. We will go tomorrow at noon, and don't worry, we will be sitting next to each other again in the first class seat."

"And Erin?" ☒

"Economy." ☐
