179 Chapter 179

Henry's gentle eyes instantly turned sharp when he heard the last sentence. He tightened his arms until Kate had no way to escape him anymore.

He had been calm and collected the whole time because he didn't want to scare or force himself on her.

But she kept pushing his buttons, and her last sentence was the straw that broke the camel's back.

"Scrap that idea. You're not allowed to find someone else other than me," Henry said. His eyes were deep and full of possessiveness, much to Kate's surprise. "You really think that you can escape me after I pour all of my heart into you."

"H—Henry?" Kate didn't know what happened to him. She thought he'd just stay there and allow her to vent.

"You don't know how far I am willing to go just to embrace you, Kitty," Henry said. "You own my heart now, why can't I own yours as well?

Do I lack something? Why do you keep doubting me?" 1

"It's just... I don't know what I should do with this growing feeling," Kate said. "You are too much for me, Henry. I don't want to fall in love, only to get hurt later. I can't trust you and I don't know how to trust you."

Henry began to get swayed by Kate's emotions as well.

He knew he was partly guilty because his first intention wasn't out of love.

He wanted to make Kate a scapegoat and get the baby to get his father's approval. He was cruel and had always been so until he met Kate and somehow developed this strong bond with her and their unborn baby.

He knew it'd be hard for him to gain her trust, but he didn't expect her to be so conflicted about it even though Henry had done his best to convince her he was in love with her.

"What should I do to make you trust me, Kitty?" Henry asked.

Kate went silent for a while, and then murmured, "Promise me one thing, Henry. Promise me that you will never find another woman after you have me. I will hold to your words, and if you break your promise, then you will never be able to see your child for the rest of your life." 3

Kate knew that promise was very heavy, and she knew she was being selfish.

But for once in her life, she wanted to be selfish. 2

She wanted Henry all for herself, and if he wasn't willing to do it, then it was better to get this over with.

Henry stared deep into Kate's eyes as she looked over her shoulder. There was no hesitation as he opened his mouth, "I promise that I will never find another woman, you're my only one. But you have to promise me the same, Kitty."

Kate chuckled as she found that ridiculous, "You think that I can emotionally recover after two failed attempts of finding love? I'd live the rest of my life as a nun if we crash and burn."

Henry had a sense of ease after Kate had the same idea.

Because all in his mind right now was settling down, despite his young age, Henry thought that Kate would be his only one and they would build a happy family together.

'You will be the mother of my children, the mistress of my house, and the love of my life, Katherine Woods,' Henry swore in his heart.

Kate began to calm down once they made the promise.

Though a promise could be broken anytime, Kate still wanted to believe him.

'Please don't break my heart, Henry. My heart is fragile,' Kate said in her heart.

They were staring at the northern light in silence. Henry embraced her tightly, allowing Kate to sit comfortably in his arms while he embraced her.

They were in this position for a while until Kate felt the big stick under her ass. Henry must've been horny right now, but because of her emotional outburst, he had to stop himself from getting his reward.

So Kate took a deep breath to prepare herself and then put her hand on top of his strong and big hand.

She guided his hand down and said, "Touch me, Henry."

Henry paused for a moment before he used his middle finger to hook the lingerie away and exposed Kate's pussy. He began by fiddling with her clit while kissing her nape repeatedly.

Kate bit her lower lip to hold her moan, but the constant stimulation finally washed her away.

"Ahnnn..." Kate moaned as Henry continued to play with her clit. She instinctively rubbed her thighs together, but Henry used his other hand to spread her legs open, making sure that he had full access to her dripping pussy.

"H—Henry, more... I want more..." Kate said.

"Yes, my lady," Henry used two fingers to enter her, in and out. He then realized that her inside was already wet. She was ready to get fucked just with a quick touch from him. Henry couldn't help but tease her for it, "You're much more honest down there, Kitty."

Kate was so embarrassed by how horny she was, but there was no turning back at this point, so she looked over her shoulder again and said, "What are you waiting for? Just fuck me already."

Henry licked his lips as he kissed Kate on the cheek, "This is the best reward you could give to me, Kitty."

Henry pulled his brief to finally release his fully erect cock. Henry sighed as he was relieved. His dick had been hurting because it hadn't been released.

Since Kate was still sitting on his lap, he positioned his erect cock in between Kate's inner thighs, directly rubbing against her wet pussy lips.

Kate stared at the huge, veiny cock that would ram inside her anytime soon. She swallowed her saliva. No matter how often they did it, his cock was still magnificent and somewhat scary.

She still couldn't believe that she could eat that thing completely.
