

Deadly Alpha's Cursed Luna

Chapter 2

Tears streamed out of Jennifer's eyes. She lost her voice and became speechless.

Nathan looked stunned; he immediately wrapped the bed sheet around his waist and was about to go to her, but Christina grabbed his arm and stopped him.

"Why are you even trying to explain anything to her? She is just our slave. By the way, she is no match for you."

Jennifer was only looking at Nathan with a disgusted feeling in her heart. She shook her head and stepped back.

As she turned around, she could not dwell on the shattered fragments of the plate. However, to her surprise, a few of the broken pieces pricked her legs, causing blood to stream from her feet. Despite the pain, it paled compared to the feeling of betrayal she had just experienced.

As she was exiting the room, Christina's deliberate loud talking with Nathan was audible to her.

"Don't worry, baby; when you mark me, you will become the head Alpha of our pack. You don't need to think about that cursed omega anymore."

Indeed, Nathan wanted that too. He wanted the throne and could sacrifice his mate for that position. So he did not come after Jennifer.

"You are right; let's go for another round, Christina."

Jennifer bit her lips to stop crying loudly.

"No, no. I can no longer live in this pack; no one I can call mine. I want to leave this hell right now."

She did not go to her room; instead, she went directly to the main door.

However, some maids stopped her.

"Where are you going, Slut?"

She closed her eyes, and more tears poured out of her eyes.

“Let me go now; I am not in the mood right now.” She said to them.

She was already broke. She could not take more. Even maids called her names here. Where would she go? She could not stay here for a minute.

“Stop showing your attitude and go to Luna. She called you.”

Jennifer did not want to go but could not make her stepmother mad. Otherwise, she would do something to her that she had never imagined.

Last time she called Jennifer to do some work. Jennifer was late, so Nicole told her to strip in front of some guests.

Jennifer was so afraid that she almost passed out. Nicole forced her and told her that she would strip Jennifer by herself in front of others.

Luckily one of Jennifer’s relatives turned out to be her well-wisher. He saved her and did not let Nicole do that.

“I am going,” Jennifer said to the maids.

Her legs were shaking as she glanced upstairs. She looked away and went to her stepmother’s room, which was downstairs.

Jennifer knocked on Nicole’s door. Nicole opened the door with a bright smile as if she were just waiting for her.

“Y-You called m-me?”

Jennifer was stunned by her delighted face.

“Pack your bag,” Nicole ordered her.

She frowned when she heard Nicole.

“Why?”

“You are going to the Blood Stone pack.”

She was confused again.

“Why would I go to that pack?”

Jennifer asked her stepmother, but she was not ready to hear what Nicole was going to reply.

“I sold you to the Alpha of the Blood Stone pack, who offered to pay me one million on the condition that you marry his son.”

As if the sky had fallen over Jennifer, she stepped back. She felt someone push her from the edge, and she was about to fall.

“I can’t believe this.” She let out.

Nicole chuckled and nodded, “Exactly! I also can’t believe that someone is buying you with such a big amount of money! You are not worth it. But I am lucky enough to have it.”

Jennifer fell to her knees, losing all her hope.

“Why are you acting like this? You should be happy that you are going to be someone’s wife, although it was for a few months.”

Jennifer shook her head. “No, I won’t go there.”

She was aware of the Blood Stone pack and their upcoming Alpha, who was currently sick and unresponsive. His health was deteriorating rapidly, and his death was imminent.

Nicole came close to her, bent down, and grabbed her hair, while Jennifer hissed in pain.

“I have already sold you to that old Alpha. Now even if you don’t want to go, he will come and take you forcibly for his son. So it’s better if you go by yourself without any trouble.”

Jennifer’s eyes were on the floor. How much could she cry?

Just how much?

All of her life, she only had to cry. She could never get a mother’s love. Her father somehow died, and she lost her father’s shadow too. Now her boyfriend cheated on her.

“T-That Na-Nathan-”

Nicole let go of her hair and grabbed her jaw tightly.

“He is an eligible Alpha. My daughter likes him, and he also likes her back. So stay away from my daughter’s path. If you don’t go happily to the Blood Stone pack, I will send you to the brothel, and after that, you will realize what you have missed.”

Jennifer closed her eyes when she heard about the brothel. She knew Nicole could do anything, she was this pack’s luna, and no one would come to save a cursed omega.

She had no other way to save her life now. She could die but did want to be a plaything for male wolves.

She wanted to leave this pack anyway, then why not become someone's bride who would die soon?

At least she could have a better life than this.

Her mate backstabbed her, so she had no hope left in this pack.

She thought about what other people always talked about that Alpha to whom she was going to be sold.

After a while, she looked up at her stepmother.

She took a deep breath and said, "I will go to the Blood Stone pack."
