She staggered forward and sat by the bed. Her hand trembled as she reached out and touched his face very lightly. His handsome face was also injured. It was scratched by glass and had a lot of blood. At this time, it was wrapped in gauze. His hands and feet had wounds, but the most serious one was his heart.

The glass was so close to piercing his heart. Fortunately, the stab was off. Otherwise, Qingqing might not be able to continue lying here.

It was all her fault.

The car had a problem and she should have driven it for repair earlier. How could she give him the car keys and let him drive it?

Originally, she should be the one in trouble. Why did she have to make PEI Munian suffer in her place? She would rather be the one lying here!

"Niannian, I'm here."

Her hand fell and held his hand, holding it hard. This man's hand had always been warm and strong, but at this moment, it was soft and let her hold it. Su Wanwan sniffed, suppressed her tears, and tried to smile: "Do you know how worried I was about you? Don't continue sleeping and wake up quickly. I've been bullied to death by mother and Xi Zhiwei. Don't you feel bad? If you feel heartache, then quickly get up and help me take revenge."

you said that you would take me to eat good food. You've been so busy recently that you didn't have time to accompany me, so you can't go back on your word this time. When you wake up, you have to take me to eat a lot of good food. I've already thought of what to eat, and I'm only missing you. So, can you wake up soon? "

"PEI Munian, you can't go back on your word. You told me before that you wouldn't let yourself get hurt and that you wouldn't let me worry about you again. But now, you, Yingluo, are lying here. Why do I hurt you every time? Should I, Yingluo, really stay away from you?"

Previously, in Switzerland, he almost died trying to save her. In the Maldives, he was almost stabbed by a knife because of her. This time, because of her, Qingqing got into a car accident. As the saying goes, "there shouldn't be three incidents," but he was in danger three times because of her, and all of them happened after they got together.

"Niannian, I'm really scared. Wake up and tell me. Tell me it's not like this. Tell me that it's right for us to be together. We can be happy. Wake up, Hanhan."

As she spoke, she was already sobbing uncontrollably. She lowered her body and pressed her face against his palm, crying until she was breathless.

PEI Munian had always doted on her and loved her. He would never bear to let her be sad. How could he just fall asleep like this and ignore her?

"Niannian, quickly wake up, quickly wake up."

Su Wanwan was tired from crying and unconsciously fell asleep like this. The night gradually deepened and the large Ward was very quiet. Only the sound of the instrument rang.

Su Wanwan felt that her body was gradually burning and her head was dizzy. Her temple was constantly in pain and her throat became dry. Her whole person was extremely uncomfortable.

Her long, curly eyelashes trembled. Su Wanwan opened her eyes with difficulty. Her eyes turned stiffly and her eyes gradually became clear. This is a Ward.

That niannian Taowu

Su Wanwan sat up straight and looked up. PEI Munian was still lying quietly on the bed.

As she heaved a sigh of relief, her entire body seemed to be on the verge of collapsing.

What's wrong with her? Why did she feel so hot and cold at the same time? And why did he feel dizzy?
