Chapter 103 His concern (3)

Su Wanwan was sleeping in a daze when she seemed to hear aunt Wu calling her. Her voice was full of worry, but she found it strange. She was sleeping well, why did aunt Wu have such a tone?

She wanted to respond to Auntie Wu, but something seemed to be stuck in her throat. She couldn't make a sound.

Auntie Wu touched her forehead and said in surprise, " "Why is it so hot?"

Su Wanwan couldn't help but frown. Was she sick? Wasn't she just reminiscing? Why did she go crazy from her memories?

Su Wanwan was still in a dilemma when she suddenly heard the sound of Wu Min making a phone call. She dialed the number while muttering, " young Madam has a high fever and needs to call young master.

Young master

Su Wanwan's entire body tensed up. How could aunt Wu call PEI Munian? PEI Munian wouldn't care if she was sick or not. He probably couldn't wait for her to feel uncomfortable, right?

She really wanted to get up and take Auntie Wu's phone away. She did not want to hear PEI Munian's sarcastic remarks even when she was sick. If that happened, she would really feel that there was nothing left for her to live for.

However, she could only think about it because no matter how hard she tried, her body could not move. Her consciousness gradually became blurry, and her head tilted to the side as she fell into a coma.

PEI Munian hadn't returned to the villa for a few days. It wasn't that he didn't want to go back, but he was afraid that when he went back and saw su Wanwan's appearance, he would be unable to control himself and hurt her.

He had wanted to live a good life with her, but she couldn't forget her old feelings and stayed out with her ex-boyfriend.

Even though he had not found any suspicious marks on her body after he had done that to her and knew that she had not done anything wrong to him, he was still angry and could not get over it.

He could ignore the fact that she didn't love him, but he couldn't allow her to still be in love with another man after she had married him.

He couldn't face the fact that she would really love another man!

The sky slowly turned dark. PEI Munian stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling window and looked down at the entire L city. The night was blurred and the lights were bright. The people on the streets were in a hurry, rushing towards their respective homes because their loved ones were at home, waiting for their return.

He wanted to go home too. He had a lover, but that lover would not wait for him.

Back then, he made the mistake of marrying su Wanwan and took the money to force her to stay by his side. Was he wrong?

In fact, he really didn't want much. As long as su Wanwan could look at him in the eye, just one look was enough, ah Huahua.

The phone on the desk suddenly rang. PEI Munian walked over and picked it up. She glanced at the screen-it was a call from home!

Although he knew that this phone call was most likely from aunt Wu, his heart still couldn't help but surge with traces of anticipation. Perhaps, perhaps there was a one in ten thousand chance that Wanwan called?

PEI Munian's fingers trembled slightly as she slowly swiped the screen. Hello.

The moment Auntie Wu's voice was heard, PEI Munian's heart felt as if it had been hit by a fist. It was stuffy and painful. The anticipation in his eyes quickly faded, and his eyes turned cold. His voice was also extremely cold and hard. what is it? " young master, young Madam is sick. Do you want to come back and see her? "

PEI Munian's brows furrowed for a moment but quickly relaxed. Su Wan's foot was scalded before and he rushed back in a hurry, but so what? Su Wanwan had never disdained his concern.
