

Deeply 1032

1032 Banquet at Hongmen (8)

The man's voice slowly rang out. It was unknown if the car accident had hurt his throat, but his voice was very hoarse, and it was almost impossible to distinguish his original tone.

"You spent so much effort barging in here to find me, just to ask this question?" The man seemed to sneer and his tone was extremely cold. I'm fine. You're being considerate.

Su Wanwan never would have thought that after PEI Munian woke up from the car accident, the first words she said to her when she met her were actually these six cold words.

This shouldn't be what he would say to her! He was so polite and distant, as if he was treating a stranger.

"Niannian Qian Qian Qian, what's wrong with you? I'm Wanwan. Wanwan, don't tell me you don't remember me?" After a pause, she quickly added, "or perhaps, you've misunderstood something?" I can explain everything that happened during this period of time."

"There's no need."

The man refused very simply, as if he was impatient to hear her speak. su Wan, I don't not remember you. I remember everything clearly. I also know what happened during this period. Since we are divorced, we are strangers in the future. I don't want you to disturb me and my mother again. And Wei Wei, I also don't want to see you again. If possible, please don't appear in front of me again.

Su Wanwan had prepared a bellyful of words, but before she could say them, PEI Munian's words completely shattered them.

When other people said a thousand words to her, they couldn't hurt her at all, nor could they make her feel at ease. However, such heartless words came from PEI Munian's mouth.

He wasn't even willing to listen to a word of her explanation and was rejecting her like this?

Was this man really her niannian? It was impossible for niannian to treat her like this, Yingluo.

Su Wanwan subconsciously spoke again, "niannian, I never thought of divorcing you. I didn't want to sign that divorce agreement, but if I didn't sign it, I wouldn't be able to see you. At that time, your situation was very critical and I couldn't watch you fall asleep like that, so I signed it. Besides, it wasn't like what your mother said. It was Xi Zhiwei who woke you up. I was by your side and watched over you. I woke you up, but after you woke up ... Your mother didn't allow me to get close to you, so I've been waiting for you to wake up. I've been worried about your injuries."

PEI Munian was silent. Su Wanwan's eyes couldn't help but light up.

However, in the next second, he slowly opened his mouth and said, "so what? "

Su Wanwan almost couldn't believe her ears. What did she hear? Was PEI Munian's deep affection for her only a simple reply?

“Su Wan, I was indeed confused by you before and did a lot of stupid things for you. But this car accident, this time at the edge of life and death, I finally woke up. You are not worthy of me loving you. The person who is really worthy of my love is Wei Wei. She is the one who can make me happy, and you will only bring me disaster, so don’t appear again and stay away from me.”

The words entered su Wan’s ears word by word. She shook her head in disbelief. She didn’t know where the strength came from, but she actually pushed away the two bodyguards in front of her and walked to PEI Munian’s back in two or three steps. She wanted to take off his glasses and see what kind of expression he had on when he said such words.

However, her hand was blocked by the man’s raised hand. The moment the man’s hand touched hers, she frowned and confusion flashed in her eyes.
