

Deeply 104

Chapter 104 His concern (4)

The corners of PEI Munian's lips curled up slightly as she laughed at herself. Her voice was cold and without any warmth. if you're sick, you should look for a doctor. Why did you look for me? I don't know how to treat illnesses!"

What's more, su Wan would rather see a doctor than him!

After saying that, PEI Munian wanted to hang up the phone without hesitation. However, just as his finger was about to press the button, he suddenly heard a weak call from the other end of the phone.

"PEI mu nianwan."

PEI Munian's hand froze, and her eyes widened in disbelief.

Wasn't this voice Yingluo su Wan's? Was she calling him in Yingluo? How could that be possible?

PEI Munian still didn't dare to believe what he heard. Su Wanwan's voice came from the other side again. It was still so weak and almost inaudible, but this time he clearly heard su Wanwan calling his name.

He didn't know why Su Wanwan would call his name when she was so sick that she was in a daze. Perhaps it didn't mean anything, but his heart was still involuntarily drawn.

He gripped his phone tightly and took a deep breath. I'll go back now.

—

When PEI Munian returned to the villa, the doctor was giving su Wanwan an injection. Su Wanwan had always been afraid of pain, so even though she was in a daze now, her hands still retracted unconsciously. The doctor couldn't do anything and could only ask aunt Wu to hold su Wanwan's hands down.

Aunt Wu responded and was about to walk over when PEI Munian suddenly walked up from behind her and sat on the bed. She carefully picked su Wanwan up and let her lean in his arms. Then, he held her slender arm.

Seeing this, Auntie Wu stopped in her tracks.

The doctor applied medicine on the back of su Wanwan's hand and gently patted it to let the blood vessels float. He took the needle and slowly inserted it into the back of su Wanwan's hand.

Su Wanwan frowned in pain and her body struggled unconsciously. PEI Munian fixed her arm with one hand and wrapped the other hand firmly around her waist. Then, she lowered her head skillfully and gently breathed on the back of her hand.

Auntie Wu was stunned by what she saw.

She had indeed heard from her son that the young master had feelings for the young Madam. However, she had been working as a maid for quite some time, yet she had not seen the young master act intimately with the young Madam. The young master clearly cared about the young Madam, yet he always pretended to be cold and distant in front of the young Madam. Sometimes, she even wondered if the young master really liked the young Madam. Why would he be like this when he liked someone?

So it wasn't that young master didn't love her, it was just that he had hidden his love too deeply. Looking at his skillful movements, he had clearly done it many times in the past.

It was a pity that the young master was not willing to show his love in front of the young Madam.

After the doctor finished su Wanwan's injection, he softly instructed, " young Madam has too much worry and suppressed it too much. It has been accumulating in her heart, so she has fallen ill. Tonight, you must cover it well and let her sweat. Only then can the fever subside, otherwise it will only aggravate the condition.

PEI Munian nodded, then turned to Wu Ju and said, " "Go and send the doctor."

"Alright," he said.

After the doctor and aunt Wu left the bedroom, PEI Munian put su Wan's hand in front of her and wanted to move her away from his arms and put her back on the bed. But just as his body moved, su Wanwan's hand grabbed his clothes without warning. That pair of small hands were tightly clenched.