

Deeply 1047

1047 Why is she here?(1)

If Mrs. PEI really came to the hospital, then her guess should be right. PEI Munian was probably in this hospital, right? She would be able to see him soon, right?

Su Wanwan's hand gently covered her chest and felt her heart beating violently. She took a deep breath, calmed down, and watched Mrs. PEI get off the car in front of her. She quickly paid the fare and got off the car with her luggage.

She maintained a distance that was neither too close nor too far behind Mrs. PEI. She followed her all the way to the VIP Ward area, walked to the last room on the left corridor, and then walked in.

Su Wanwan quickly walked over and looked at the nameplate at the door. PEI Munian's name was written in English on it. Her black pupils contracted slightly. Su Wanwan stared at the nameplate and her eyes became wet.

After almost two months, she had finally found him and could finally see him again.

She had been worried that she would never see him again. Luckily, Wanwan had never given up and she knew that he was waiting for her.

Su Wanwan raised her hand to wipe her eyes, calmed her breathing, then reached out and gently twisted the door lock.

She didn't dare to attract the attention of the people inside, so her movements were very light. She only quietly pushed open a small gap and went inside. The first thing she saw was the figure of Mrs. PEI. She was sitting on the bed with her back facing the door, and Butler Xi was standing beside her. There was a person lying on the bed. Because Mrs. PEI and Butler Xi were blocking her view, she could only see a little side profile of the person on the bed. However, she could recognize that it was her niannian with just one look.

Su Wanwan's hand couldn't help but cover her mouth. It turned out that he was already awake. It's good that Huahua wasn't always unconscious like she thought. He had already woken up, which meant that his life was no longer in danger. She could finally rest assured. It's just that Huahua's face still seemed very pale and there was no color in his lips. His body should still be very weak.

Was this the reason why he did not contact her?

However, she was already satisfied to see him fine. She would not care about these things anymore. Anyway, even if he did not contact her, she could still come to him.

Su Wanwan looked at the man's side profile greedily and listened to the faint voices coming from inside. It was probably Mrs. PEI asking about PEI Munian's physical condition. PEI Munian didn't know if it was because of her body or something else. His answer was very short and his voice was very low. She didn't hear what he said and didn't know if he mentioned her.

She subconsciously took a step closer to the door, trying to hear what was being said inside. As soon as she got closer, she saw a familiar figure coming out of the bathroom.

Su Wanwan's Black eyes couldn't help but widen. Her eyes were filled with surprise. She wondered why she was here?

Su Wanwan's gaze followed the person's movement until she walked to the bed and sat down. Then she picked up the fruit knife and peeled the Apple she had washed.

After being stunned for a moment, su Wanwan blinked and slowly reacted.

She had never thought that she would see ning Jingting again. She had thought that the last time she would see her was in the Maldives, but she did not expect to see her again in this situation.

Why was she in PEI Munian's ward and even having a good conversation with Mrs. PEI?

Moreover, she looked very relaxed and at ease. She didn't look like she was visiting a guest for the first time in the ward. Instead, she looked like the hostess.
