

Deeply 1051

1051 What is she doing here (5)

Su Wanwan went to the hospital and went to the ward that PEI Munian stayed in last night. There were no bodyguards guarding the door and the door was wide open. She subconsciously rushed in, but PEI Munian was no longer inside. There was only a nurse cleaning the room.

She looked around in surprise and couldn't help but grab the nurse. "Nurse, isn't this PEI Munian's ward? Where were his people? How did it disappear?"

miss, PEI Munian has been discharged from the hospital this morning. She has left.

"What?"

Yesterday, she saw that PEI Munian's complexion was not very good. Why was she discharged so quickly? And he left too suddenly, right?

then, then do you know if he will be transferred to another hospital or go home? "

"I'm sorry, I'm not sure about that." The nurse replied apologetically.

Su Wanwan stood in the ward for a while before she walked out of the room in a daze. She leaned against the wall so that she wouldn't have no strength to support her body.

It was not easy for her to find out that PEI Munian was in this hospital. It was not easy for her to find out about his condition. However, he disappeared again before she had the chance to meet and talk to him.

Yesterday, she had only heard Mrs. PEI say that PEI Munian would be discharged next Tuesday. Why was she in such a hurry?

What should he do now? The lead was cut off again?

No, she still had ning Jingting!

Su Wanwan quickly took out her mobile phone from her bag, wanting to see if ning Jingting had replied to her text message. However, the screen was blank, there was no phone call or text message.

Did ning Jingting not see her message?

She subconsciously called her again. Just like in the morning, the call went through, but no one picked up until she finally hung up!

Su Wanwan's brows couldn't help but tighten even more. If ning Jingting didn't pick up the phone, then she wouldn't be able to help her inform PEI Munian. And she didn't know where Mrs. PEI was staying after coming to the United States. Where could she go to find PEI Munian?

Su Wanwan anxiously grabbed her hair and bit her lower lip. Suddenly, a light flashed in her head.

Didn't she hear ning Jingting say yesterday that it was her birthday next Tuesday and that she would be inviting Mrs. PEI and PEI Munian to her birthday party? In that case, as long as she knew where ning Jingting's birthday party was, she would be able to meet PEI Munian if she sneaked into the party.

That's right, so she couldn't panic. She had to calm down before she could think of a solution.

What she needed to do now was to find out ning Jingting's information and find out where she was holding her birthday party.

However, Yingluo was unfamiliar with the people and the place in the United States. Even if she wanted to find a private detective, she didn't know where to find one. How could she investigate ning Jingting?

It was only a few days away from next Tuesday. If she sent the information back to assistant Wu or brother Ziwei to check, she was worried that it would be too late. After all, water from far away could not put out a fire nearby!

But who could help her in America?

Almost in an instant, her sister's face floated into su Wanwan's mind and her hands couldn't help but clench.

To be honest, if she didn't have to, she didn't want to disturb her sister's life. However, her sister had been in the United States for such a long time and was the daughter-in-law of the Qin family. The Qin family was one of the four major Chinese families in the United States. It should be easy for her to help her find out information about a person.

The matter was urgent and she couldn't care so much. Su Wanwan took her phone, found her sister's phone number, and dialed it.
