Su Wanwan's eyelids lifted slightly and she looked at Shen Ziwei in a daze.

Shen Ziwei raised his hand and rubbed her head gently. He continued in a gentle voice, "Wanwan, you've never been someone who runs away. You can't run away this time either. No matter what, you have to figure yourself out first before making a decision. Don't regret it later.

He naturally didn't want Su Wanwan to be wronged, but he was even more unwilling to see her go into a dead end and be entangled and sad there.

Everyone understood the logic, but how many people could really do it? It wasn't like she wouldn't be sad just because she said so.

Su Wanwan lowered her eyes and her fingers were entangled together, heavy and sullen.

Shen Ziwei did not rush her. Instead, he changed the subject. I've booked a room next to yours. I'm a little tired after rushing here overnight. I'll go take a shower first. You should wash up too. We'll go out for dinner later.

Although Su Wanwan hadn't eaten for two days, she didn't feel hungry. However, when she saw the fatigue between Shen Ziwei's brows, she swallowed the words of rejection in her throat and nodded lightly. alright.

After about half an hour, Shen Ziwei knocked on Su Wanwan's door again.

Su Wanwan casually put on some light makeup to cover up the paleness of her face. Then, she took her bag and went out with Shen Ziwei.

Su Wanwan wasn't in the mood, so the two of them ate at a restaurant near the hotel. Shen Ziwei told Su Wanwan that he had been investigating Xi Zhiwei recently. He only knew that she was a little tight on funds recently and that the person she had previously taken a photo of was Xi Zhiwei's former manager. However, he couldn't find out if there was any ambiguous relationship between them. Moreover, he couldn't contact that person.

Su Wanwan listened and frowned.

Xi Zhiwei's side had not made any substantial progress, and PEI Munian's side now had Ning Jingting eyeing them covetously. It was really annoying.

But she could only blame herself. If only she hadn't been so kind back in the Maldives. She didn't regret saving Ning Jingting. After all, she couldn't just sit back and watch a few men bully a woman. However, she should save herself from the subsequent interactions.

But who knew that they would meet again in such a vast sea of people?

Su Wanwan suddenly lost her appetite. She held her face with both hands and looked depressed.

Shen Ziwei cut a small piece of steak and put it in his mouth. After chewing and swallowing it, he smiled and said, "Wanwan, you don't have to be so depressed. As for Xi Zhiwei, as long as that man appears, we can stop him. But as for Ning Jingting, you'll have to figure out what's going on on your own."

Of course, if you really feel that there's no need to and want to give up, I can also bring you back to China directly. Anyway, you've already divorced Pei Munian and there's no longer any relationship between you two legally. You can also choose to clear your debts with him.

After a pause, Shen Ziwei's smile deepened. "You don't have to worry about being alone for the rest of your life. You still have me, don't you?" "I don't mind marrying you."

"Tsk." Su Wanwan couldn't help but laugh at Shen Ziwei. "Am I that bad?" "Do I still need my brother to take me in?"

"If you can smile, then you're fine?"

Su Wanwan lowered her eyes and took a deep breath. She looked up again and stared at Shen Ziwei. She put her hands together and slowly said, "Brother Ziwei, you're right. Running away is not a solution and it's not my style. No matter what, let's get things clear before making a decision."

"But what should I do next?"
