1077 Put to death (11)

When su Wanwan's car was about to arrive at Xi Zhiwei's apartment, the detective called and said that the man had already driven out.

Su Wanwan's eyes narrowed and said, "where is it?"

After the detective reported the location, su Wanwan immediately turned the car around and said to the phone, "you guys follow him first. If there's a chance, stop his car. I'll be there soon."

"Alright," he said.

Su Wan entered the location sent by the detective later and then followed the guide, driving towards the location where he was.

As long as he stopped the man and made a deal with him, he would probably be able to find out what Xi Zhiwei had done and expose her true colors.

Su Wanwan followed the red dot on the phone's GPS and the distance between them gradually closed. Suddenly, her phone rang again. She pressed the answer button on her Bluetooth headset. what's wrong? "

The voice on the other end became serious and low. miss su, I think that man's car doesn't look right.

"What do you mean?"

just now, the red light at the intersection lit up, but the man didn't stop the car. He ran the red light directly, and the speed of the car was getting faster and faster. He even drove in a crooked way.

"What?"

Su Wanwan's brows furrowed tightly and confusion surfaced in her eyes. how did this happen? " Is it his problem or the car's problem?"

"I think it's the car's problem. It's not good to fix it."

The other side had not finished answering when a huge collision sound came from the other side. Su Wanwan's heart suddenly thumped when she heard it. Her black eyes couldn't help but widen, " fa, what happened? "

"Hello? Hello? Hurry up and say something!"

the ... The car flipped. We got into an accident.

Su Wanwan's eyes turned cold. She couldn't care about saying so much. She quickly focused her mind and looked at the road in front. Then she stepped on the accelerator and sped towards the location displayed in the GPS.

After about ten minutes, su Wan's car finally arrived at the crime scene. The scene was already in a mess.

The detective's car was parked at the side. As soon as he saw su Wanwan's car coming over, he pushed the door open and got out of the car. He walked over and said to su Wanwan: "Miss su,"

Su Wan nodded her head, but her eyes did not leave the scene in front of her. That place was already surrounded by people.

She subconsciously walked in that direction and said as she walked, " "What's the situation now? Did you call the ambulance?"

Nothing must happen to that man. If something happened to him, there would be no way to get anything out of him about what Xi Zhiwei had done. Just the video in her hands was not convincing at all.

The detective followed closely behind her and answered, " the ambulance has arrived. They're doing emergency treatment on the spot, but Hanhan's condition doesn't look good.

He saw the car crash into a bus. The front of his car was crushed under the wheels of the bus. It was almost completely flattened. It was likely that he would die on the spot.

Su Wanwan quickened her pace, pushed the crowd aside, and looked over.

The paramedics struggled to pull the man out of the car and let him lie on the ground. After doing some emergency measures, they lifted him onto a stretcher bed and then carried him to the ambulance.

Su Wanwan looked at the blood all over the man's body, almost dyeing his whole body red. It was a shocking sight, and her hands couldn't help but cover her mouth.
