

Deeply 1080

1080 Karma will come (2)

As soon as this thought appeared in her mind, Su Wanwan's body unconsciously trembled.

This kind of plot that would only happen in TV dramas could actually happen in reality? Could Xi Zhiwei really disregard everything and not care?

He wanted to kill her before, and now he wanted to kill this man.

If PEI Munian had not driven her car, she would have been the one in the accident. Perhaps she might not have survived and would have been killed without knowing why.

All this while, although she hated Xi Zhiwei, she was never afraid of her. Knowing what she had gone through, she even felt that she was a little pitiful and sad.

But now, she only felt that Xi Zhiwei was scary. She was so cold-blooded that it was scary.

She had once caused the death of her child, yet she did not know how to restrain herself. Now, she even dared to scheme and kill. Such a person was too terrifying and disgusting.

He was pretending to be kind, but he was actually a cruel executioner.

Su Wanwan's mind couldn't help but float to her innocent child and PEI Munian, who she saw lying in a pool of blood. These Pixiu were all made by her.

She would not tolerate it anymore.

Originally, she just wanted to let everyone see her true face and let Mrs. PEI know what kind of person she was. But now, she wanted to bring the murderer, Xi Zhiwei, to justice!

However, since Xi Zhiwei had done all these things, with her careful methods, she definitely wouldn't have left any traces. Even if she investigated, she might not be able to find any evidence. How could she accuse her?

Moreover, any conviction required witnesses and physical evidence. Physical evidence could be checked, but what about witnesses?

Su Wanwan thought of that man and her eyebrows couldn't help but tighten.

However, she still had three days 'time. She could not give up any hope before the engagement party.

She lifted her eyes and looked at the detective in the driver's seat. There's something I need you to help me investigate.

In the past three days, Xi Zhiwei's life had been very comfortable. Because of her depression, her entire body had not been in good condition, and her spirit had also become very bad. However, recently, she had been in high spirits when there were happy events. Her body had gradually recovered, and her spirit was even better than before.

In order to be a beautiful bride, she had been doing all kinds of skincare in the beauty salon for the past few days, then shopping, in order to make the best preparations for her upcoming engagement party.

And these days, su Wanwan was basically running to the hospital.

The man was not dead. Although he had stopped breathing for a short time during the operation, the doctor had tried his best to save him. However, she had been suspicious at the time and was afraid that Xi Zhiwei was really going to kill him. So, she had asked the doctor to announce his death to the public. In fact, he had been secretly transferred to the intensive care unit.

Unfortunately, the man had yet to wake up after the operation.

Three days passed by in a flash.

PEI Munian and Xi Zhiwei's engagement party was to be held tonight at the PEI family's old mansion. The engagement party could be considered half a wedding as they would be registered after the engagement and officially become husband and wife.

At noon, su Wanwan arrived at the hospital. She looked at the man lying quietly inside through the large glass window. Her eyebrows were fiercely knitted and her eyes were dark.

There were only a few hours left, but he still looked pale.
