

Deeply 1082

1082 Retribution will come (4)

The projector should be at the back. She only needed to enter the video into the computer and click play. Then, the video would be played in the banquet hall and everyone would see it.

Even though she didn't know what the chances of winning with this video were, she had to bet on this.

Su Wanwan walked into the inner room and pushed open the doors of several rooms before she found the computer room. She quickly walked over and operated the computer with the mouse, wanting to send the video over.

At the same time, the emcee outside announced the official start of the engagement party. He invited PEI Munian and Xi Zhiwei to pop some champagne, cut the cake, and announce the good news to the guests.

There was already applause outside. Su Wanwan furrowed her brows and looked at the speed of the video uploading like a snail. She couldn't help but be anxious.

PEI Munian and Xi Zhiwei walked to the cake that was as tall as a person and smiled at the crowd.

Xi Zhiwei took the glass of champagne from the servant and looked at the smiling Mr. and Mrs. PEI, as well as her mother. Finally, she was no longer standing respectfully behind Mrs. PEI in a servant's uniform. Instead, she was wearing a beautiful dress and standing beside Mrs. PEI, walking side by side with her.

And she, also stood by PEI Munian's side, accepting everyone's envious gazes. She was no longer standing in the crowd, only able to look up to PEI Munian, only able to envy Su Wanwan, who could stand by his side.

Finally, she also stood in the position that Su Wan used to be in, and truly stood by PEI Munian's side.

Xi Zhiwei's smile became more and more smug. She raised her hand slightly and faced the reporters. Their cameras were aimed at her, and the clicking sounds of cameras could be heard. She turned her face around so that everyone could take a clearer picture. Tomorrow, her engagement banquet with PEI Munian would occupy all the front page headlines. The whole world would know that she was the future young Madam of the PEI family, PEI Munian's wife!

"Brother Mu Nian, let's pop some champagne, Qianqian." Xi Zhiwei said as she handed the glass of champagne to PEI Munian.

PEI Munian lazily opened her eyes, his handsome face carrying his usual indifference. His eyes swept across the crowd without a trace, and a strange light quickly flashed across the bottom of his eyes. He tugged the corners of his lips.

Just as he was about to speak, the big screen behind him suddenly turned black.

Everyone's eyes subconsciously turned to the big screen. A second later, an image appeared on the screen. It was a man and a woman in a confrontation.

The woman only had her back and her face could not be seen clearly. However, her figure was very similar to Xi Zhiwei's. In fact, she was even Huanhuan.

The man's face was very clear, but because he was not in this industry, no one knew who he was. However, a reporter recognized him and exclaimed, " isn't this man Xi Zhiwei's former manager? "

At first, Xi Zhiwei just frowned in confusion. However, when she turned to look at the big screen, her expression changed.

The words in the video were being transmitted word by word.

Especially when the man said, " "Did you forget? You were the one who took the initiative to sleep with me and wanted to get pregnant. That way, you could deceive that old lady of the PEI family and make her think that you're pregnant with her precious grandson. That's why she'll support you, isn't it?"

The man's words might have confused other people, but when Mrs. PEI heard it, she was filled with disbelief. Her eyes widened in shock and she stared at Xi Zhiwei. There was shock and unfamiliarity in her eyes, as if she didn't know her.
