Chapter 122 A brief moment of sweetness IV

PEI Munian was stunned. After a long time, he raised his hand and touched the cheek that su Wanwan had kissed. It seemed to still have her warmth on it. The corners of his lips rose slightly. His whole heart felt as if it was soaked in warm water, unbelievably warm.

He raised his head and inadvertently looked at the rearview mirror. The mirror reflected his current appearance. All the lines on his face had softened, and his lips were curled up in a smile. There was a warmth in the bottom of his eyes.

Was he actually smiling?

How long had it been since Yingying laughed like this?

It had been three years.

From that night on, su Wanwan not only took away his happiness, but also took away his smile.

He had been trying his best to find all of this, but to no avail.

But now, Yingluo seemed to have a chance to get it all back.

Su Wanwan took a shower and lay on the bed. Her mood was still not calm and she tossed and turned, unable to sleep.

She was just testing the waters today. She didn't expect to have such a big harvest. It was completely beyond her expectations. It was just that everything had gone too smoothly, and it made people feel a little unreal.

It was not that she was suspicious, but she had experienced it before.

When she pursued PEI Munian back then, no matter how hard she tried and how many ways she tried, PEI Munian would not even spare her a glance. She was always cold and unapproachable.

Then, all of a sudden, his attitude took a 360-degree turn. He no longer resisted her advances and began to respond to her pursuits. As a result, her pursuit of him became extremely smooth, and she succeeded as soon as she confessed.

At that time, he looked into her eyes, which were full of affection and gentleness. She believed him and fell for him, but who knew that these affection and gentleness hid such a terrible conspiracy.

So, she couldn't be happy too soon.

Although that was what she thought rationally, her emotions made her feel that there was no need for PEI Munian to put on an act with her now. If he hated her so much, he could continue to ignore her, torture her, or even divorce her directly, right?

Besides, even though their one night stand was exposed, if he really didn't want to marry her, no one could force him, could they?

In the past, there were many things that she did not dare to think too much about. She did not have the right to think too much about it. However, things were different now. She wished that she could find some clues that PEI Munian cared about her in everything.

This way, she would be able to gather enough courage to start over with PEI Munian. This way, she would be able to tell him how much she loved him back then. In fact, for the past three years, her love had never changed!

With a good start, she naturally had to work harder. However, su Wanwan had work the next day and had to go on a business trip for a few days. Because it was a last-minute notice, she couldn't decline it and had to go.

Before boarding the plane, su Wanwan thought for a while and still called PEI Munian.

PEI Munian seemed to be busy. His phone rang for a while before he picked it up. However, his voice was not as cold as before. Instead, it had a hint of gentleness. what's wrong? "

Just such a gentle tone, su Wanwan already felt sweet.

Her voice softened as well. no, Yueyue. It's just that I'm going on a business trip for a few days, so I wanted to tell you.

Business trip?

PEI Munian's hand that was signing paused for a moment. He looked at the documents that had piled up like a mountain on the left side of the table. He had originally thought that he would try his best to finish reading these documents today so that he could go over and accompany her.
