Chapter 123 A brief moment of sweetness v

PEI Munian put down her pen and leaned back in her chair. Her fingers gently rubbed the space between her eyebrows as she said in a deep voice, " "For a few days?"

Su Wanwan thought about her schedule and replied, " about a week.

A week, Yingluo.

A hint of dissatisfaction flashed in PEI Munian's eyes. She opened her thin lips and said in a strange tone, " aren't the main businesses of the SU family's projects all in the city? "

"The main business is indeed in this city, but this time it's a problem with the factory production, so I have to go to the factory over there to see ran ran."

Su Wanwan subconsciously explained, but halfway through her words, she suddenly felt that something was wrong.

PEI Munian's words didn't seem like Wanwan wanted her to explain that she was on a business trip, but rather that Wanwan didn't want her to go on a business trip, or to be away for so long?

Su Wanwan's eyes shone slightly and she couldn't help but probe again: "PEI Munian, is your Yueyue reluctant to part with me?"

".....?"

Had his thoughts been so obvious without him knowing?

PEI Munian pursed her lips and was unwilling to speak.

PEI Munian was silent. Su Wanwan was not embarrassed at all and continued to talk to herself, " if you can't bear to part with me, then I'll try my best to finish my work as soon as possible and come back, okay? "

The woman's voice was soft and gentle, and her tone was slightly raised at the end with a hint of coquettishness. PEI Munian felt as if her entire heart was in her hands, and she could do whatever she wanted.

He smiled. His voice was a little helpless, but there was more sweetness in it. come back soon.

Su Wanwan's face bloomed with a big smile. yes, hubby.

Su Wanwan had hung up the phone for a long time, but PEI Munian was still in the same position as when she answered the phone, in a daze for a long time.

Su Wanwan called him hubby.

This was the first time she had called him that since they got married.

In this marriage, she married him with schemes and stayed by his side with the SU family's investment. He never saw her willingness, and he thought that ran ran really didn't care about their marriage at all.

So, she did care about it?

It wasn't that he wasn't suspicious of her sudden change. That was why he had been waiting for her since yesterday. He had been waiting for her to speak and make any requests.

When his phone rang just now, he saw her name pop up on the screen. His heart felt empty, but he also felt that it had finally come.

Is su Wanwan coming to make a request?

He stared at his phone for a while before picking it up.

However, su Wanwan didn't make a request as he thought. She only called to tell him that she was going on a business trip.

She left home to report her whereabouts to her husband.

PEI Munian thought of su Wanwan's soft voice and the string in his heart fell. He raised the corners of his lips and his whole person seemed to be shrouded in happiness. After a long time, he picked up the phone and pressed the internal line.

The person on the other end picked up the call very quickly and said respectfully, "boss PEI, what's the matter?"

"Book a plane ticket to A city."

"Yes!"

When su Wanwan arrived in city A, it was almost evening. This time, Su Zhenhua came with her, so after they dropped their luggage at the hotel, they took a car to a five-star hotel in city A.

They had an appointment to meet the person in charge of the factory there.

The person in charge had been working with the SU family for many years and had always been on good terms with them. This time, the production of the SU family's products was suddenly halted because he had heard some bad news.

Therefore, su Wanwan and Su Zhenhua specially rushed over to explain this problem to him.
