

Deeply 131

Chapter 131 I want to live a good life with you (1)

PEI Munian only saw su Wanwan's name and the anger in her body instantly soared. He didn't even look at the message and directly pressed the window and threw the phone out.

With a bang, it shattered into pieces!

—

Su Wanwan kept waiting for PEI Munian's reply. She waited and waited and fell asleep just like that until the sky outside the window brightened up. The bright sun shone directly through the floor-to-ceiling window. Su Wanwan's beautiful eyebrows slightly furrowed and she slowly opened her eyes.

Su Wanwan's eyes still carried a trace of confusion. Her head was in a daze for a while, and her eyes gradually became clear.

Why did Yueyue fall asleep last night?

Wait, text message!

Su Wanwan quickly reached out and felt around her body. After she found her phone, she picked it up and then lit up the phone screen.

However, the screen was empty. There was nothing.

PEI Munian did not reply to her message.

Su Wanwan's eyes flashed with confusion. Was it too late last night, so PEI Munian didn't see the text message? Or did he see the message and was unhappy?

Thinking of this, su Wanwan couldn't help but tremble. She had to quickly cover up for the text message from yesterday!

Su Wanwan looked at the time. It was already past nine in the morning. PEI Munian should be awake by now. She turned over and sat up, leaning against the bed. She took a light breath and then called PEI Munian.

"The number you have dialed is currently unavailable. Please call Xuxu again later."

His phone was turned off?

Su Wanwan raised her eyebrows in surprise. Could it be that PEI Munian still hadn't woken up? That shouldn't be the case, Yingluo.

Su Wanwan wanted to call again, but the phone in the room rang. She quickly put down her phone and picked up the phone. Hello.

Wanwan, are you ready? we're going to the factory to re-sign the contract today.

Terrible! She had completely forgotten about the important matter!

Su Wanwan coughed lightly and replied: yes, Grandpa. I'm almost ready. Let's meet in the lobby downstairs.

After hanging up the phone, su Wanwan couldn't care about the problem of PEI Munian turning off her phone. She got up from the bed and rushed to the bathroom.

Because of their relationship with the PEI family group, the new contract signing went very smoothly. Du Mingwei also treated them with respect from the beginning to the end, so Su Zhenhua was very pleased and kept smiling.

Before he left, du Mingwei shook hands with Su Zhenhua and said in a flattering tone, " President su, Prince PEI and miss su are going to have their wedding soon. Can I go and have a drink? "

Su Zhenhua nodded without hesitation. no problem. I'll get my grandson-in-law to personally write you an invitation.

"It's a great honor, President su. I'll be waiting for your good news."

Du Mingwei walked them all the way to the entrance of the factory and opened the car door for them. He waited for them to sit down and then closed the door respectfully. President su, miss su, take care.

The car drove away, and du Mingwei could still be seen waving from afar.

Su Wanwan glanced at the rear mirror and then looked at her grandfather beside her. Perhaps du Mingwei's fawning made him feel proud and in a good mood. His entire person looked energetic and in high spirits.

Su Wanwan didn't want to ruin his good mood, but there were some words that she had to say.

Su Wanwan pondered for a while, bit her lip, and said in a low voice, " Grandpa, it was already wrong when we told uncle du yesterday that mu Nian and I were getting married. Now, we haven't even seen the date of our wedding yet. You agreed to uncle du without permission and even said that mu Nian would personally write him an invitation. This is so embarrassing.