Chapter 156 I want to live well with you (26)

How are you doing, Yingluo?

Su Wanwan's beautiful eyebrows unconsciously furrowed. Mrs. PEI's question seemed ordinary, but it hit the nail on the head and was extremely sharp.

If she and PEI Munian were a normal married couple, loving and in love, there would be nothing to worry about. However, her and PEI Munian's situation was special. Their married life was simply too terrible. It was just that she couldn't say that she wasn't doing well in front of Mrs. PEI. Su Wanwan lowered her eyes and answered vaguely, "it's, it's quite good."

As soon as Su Wanwan's words fell, PEI Munian stood up without any warning. Her voice was almost cold. "Is dad in the study? I'll go up to see him." Then, without waiting for Madam PEI to speak, he walked away.

Although PEI Munian didn't say anything, this action of his was equivalent to directly denying Su Wanwan's so-called "pretty good." Su Wanwan sat there awkwardly, her whole person seemed to be at a loss.

Mrs. PEI looked at PEI Munian's cold back and then looked at Su Wan's helplessness. She sighed softly in her heart.

In order to ease the atmosphere, she pretended to be relaxed and laughed. "Look, this brat's temper is like this. He always has a long face. People who don't know might think that someone owes him a lot of money. Wanwan, I'm sorry."

Su Wanwan also knew that Mrs. PEI was trying to give her a way out. She smiled at her gratefully and said in a low voice, "I don't feel wronged. He's actually very good to my Yueyue."

Madam PEI didn't like Su Wan at first, not because of her family background or anything, but because of her relationship with her nephew, Gong Lingyu. After all, she almost became the Gong family's daughter-in-law. But when they first met, she was particularly sensible, quiet, and gentle, so she had a good impression of her. Now, seeing her son treat her like this, she didn't have any complaints and even put in a good word for him, her love for her increased a little.

Madam PEI reached out and gently placed her hand on the back of Su Wanwan's hand. She said softly, "Wanwan, although Mu Nian looks cold on the outside, he's actually very passionate on the inside, so don't be scared by him. As long as you treat him well, he'll definitely treat you well too, understand?"

"Mom, I will." Su Wanwan nodded obediently.

"Good, good child." Madam PEI smiled in satisfaction and continued, "What do you like to eat? I'll get the kitchen to prepare it."

"It's okay, mom. I can eat anything."

Alright, I'll make the decision. His father is on the second floor. You can go up and say hello. I'll go to the kitchen for a while.

“Yes.”

After Mrs. PEI got up and left, only she and the servant were left in the large living room. Su Wanwan didn't feel good sitting here alone, so she stood up.

She should have gone upstairs to greet father PEI, but PEI Munian was also on the second floor. If she went upstairs, she might be chased away by him before she could even see him.

Su Wanwan was hesitating whether to go up or not when PEI Munian's tall figure suddenly appeared at the top of the stairs and walked down the stairs step by step.

Su Wanwan was stunned on the spot.

PEI Munian walked in front of su Wanwan. Her black eyes drooped slightly and her gaze fell on her face. The light in her eyes was unfathomable, revealing a hint of danger. Su Wanwan subconsciously shrank her neck.

She suppressed her desire to escape and forced a smile, speaking as if nothing had happened. PEI ... PEI Munian, I ... I was just about to go up and say hello to dad.
