Chapter 180 I need to prepare for the wedding (2)

However, PEI Munian had already pulled her over with one hand. With a " Dong ", he pressed her against the glass door. His thin lips moved close to her ear, and his warm breath sprayed on her ear. He said word by word, " Wanwan, I agree with what you said just now, especially that 'fight at the head of the bed and make up at the end of the bed'. The matters between a husband and wife should indeed be resolved in bed."

PEI Munian's enunciation was clear, especially emphasizing the word 'bed'.

Su Wanwan didn't think much of it when she said that. Who knew that PEI Munian would twist it like this? her cheeks suddenly turned red.

PEI Munian admired the red glow on su Wanwan's face. Her eyes were dark and her voice lowered. so, we can try again.

Before su Wanwan could react, PEI Munian had already lowered her head and kissed her.

Su Wanwan was stunned for a moment and even symbolically pushed PEI Munian away, but he caught her hand and pressed it to her side. She couldn't move and could only let him do whatever he wanted.

PEI Munian and su Wanwan seemed to have just gotten married. Their days began to be as sweet as newlyweds.

Before this, su Wanwan had never felt that she was married. After all, her marriage with PEI Munian was more like a sad deal. However, that day, they agreed to let go of everything in the past and start over. After they agreed to live well in the future, she really began to face her marriage, treating PEI Munian as her husband and the villa as her home.

After moving in for so long, she felt that she was just a passer-by, so she did not put much thought into the villa. Previously, she decorated it the way she did, afraid that she would mess it up. However, it was different now. This was her own home, so she wanted to decorate it herself and make her and PEI Munian's home warm.

So in the evening, su Wanwan held the home album and went to knock on the door of the study.

PEI Munian's deep and pleasant voice could be heard from inside. come in!

Su Wanwan pushed the door open and saw PEI Munian sitting behind the large desk, looking at the computer, his fingers tapping on the keyboard from time to time. He was wearing gold-rimmed glasses and when he was working seriously, he looked very restrained and extremely charming.

Su Wanwan couldn't help but be a little infatuated. For so many years, she would always be instantly charmed by his face.

She had come to ask him if she could renovate the house, but it seemed that he was busy now.

Su Wanwan saw this and didn't want to disturb his work, so she stopped. if you're busy, I'll come back later.

PEI Munian's gaze turned from the computer to su Wanwan. She took off the glasses on the bridge of her nose and said lazily, " I'm not busy. If you have something to say, say it.

Su Wanwan's eyebrows curved and she gently walked in. She said softly, " "It's nothing much. I just wanted to ask if I could redecorate the house. The colors are a little too dark now."

PEI Munian was used to using cool colors as the main color, so the entire villa was in this color system. Su Wanwan liked warm and bright colors. After all, this was the feeling of home!

At home.

Su Wanwan said these two words so naturally and blurted them out. It was as if something had slightly tugged at the string in PEI Munian's heart.

Since they got married for so long, this was the first time su Wanwan took the initiative to say such words. She seemed to have really urged them to put their marriage and even him into her heart, right?

A touch of gentleness appeared between PEI Munian's brows, and the corners of her lips curled up unconsciously. what kind of girls do you like? "

Did that mean he agreed to let her set it up?
