

Deeply 195

Chapter 195 Walking on thin ice in happiness (5)

When she and PEI Munian first did it, he had always used-condom because he hated her and did it with her for the purpose of-deal.

However, ever since they made up this time, sometimes they would be so deeply in love that they couldn't care about this at all. So during this period of time, they didn't take any safety measures.

Su Wanwan really hoped to be able to give birth to PEI Munian's children and cultivate the fruit of their love. That would be a very beautiful thing, but grandpa's words yesterday gave her a headstart!

If she were to get pregnant and give birth to the child now, the child would definitely become grandpa's bargaining chip to control the PEI family.

She knew that her grandfather was a strong and ambitious person. Whatever he wanted to do, he would do it no matter what. Since he had set his eyes on her future child, he would not give up so easily.

No matter how unwilling she was, she had no way of stopping her grandfather.

It was because she was still unable to tell PEI Munian the truth, especially after he had confessed his feelings.

Once he opened his mouth, no one knew what would happen.

She could not bear the consequences if PEI Munian misunderstood her or did not believe her again.

She was indeed very happy now, but her happiness was too fragile. It was like she was walking on a thin layer of ice, which could break at any moment.

Therefore, she couldn't get pregnant yet. She couldn't have a child yet.

She could only wait for her grandfather to dispel this thought, or wait for her to have the courage to confess everything to PEI Munian. Only then could she consider the issue of children.

No matter what, if this child would end up like her, becoming grandfather's puppet, then she would rather not have it.

She wanted her child to grow up happily.

Su Wanwan drove to the company and passed by a pharmacy. She stopped the car and walked into the pharmacy.

She could not let PEI Munian know that she did not want children, so she could only take birth control pills.

Su Wanwan asked the shop assistant to recommend a type of contraceptives that could be taken in the long term and then bought a bottle of comprehensive vitamins.

Back in the car, she unscrewed the two bottles and changed the medicine. She rolled down the window and threw the vitamin bottle into the trash can by the side of the road.

She then poured out the pill from the bottle and put it in her mouth. She unscrewed the mineral water and took a sip before swallowing the contraceptive pill.

After putting the bottle back into her bag, su Wanwan restarted the car and drove towards the company.

The project's advertisement shooting officially started. As the main person in charge of the publicity, su Wanwan had to keep an eye on the shooting process, so she had to spend most of her time at the shooting base these days.

After su Wanwan returned to the company and gave some instructions, she took Xiaomei to the filming base.

There were a few advertisers who had rented a studio to shoot the commercial. One of them happened to be Xi Zhiwei, and she was shooting in the studio next door.

When Xiao Mei saw Xi Zhiwei, she pouted and mumbled, sister Wanwan, why are you so unlucky? she's actually here too. Nothing good happens every time I see her.

Su Wanwan didn't have the mood to listen to her. Perhaps it was because she took the contraceptive pill, but she had some side effects. She felt nauseated and couldn't help but vomit.

Xiaomei was shocked. sister Wanwan, what's wrong? "
