

Deeply 205

205 She was really lying to him (5)

PEI Munian had already returned home? Then why didn't he answer her calls? He didn't even reply to her messages?

Aunt Wu came out of the kitchen. When she saw su Wanwan, she quickly walked over and smiled: "Young Madam, you're back? Have you had dinner?"

Su Wanwan nodded as she took off her shoes. I've eaten. Where's mu Nian? " He's back, right?"

Aunt Wu took out a pair of slippers and put them at su Wanwan's feet. Then, she replied, " yes, young master came back a long time ago, but he went back to his room as soon as he came back. He also told me not to disturb him.

"Is that so?"

Su Wanwan furrowed her brows in confusion. She thought he was busy, but it turned out that wasn't the case. Then what was he doing?

Su Wanwan put on her slippers, took her bag upstairs, and walked towards the bedroom.

It was very quiet upstairs. Su Wanwan subconsciously lightened her footsteps. She walked to the bedroom door, twisted the door lock, and slowly pushed the door open.

The lights in the bedroom were on and the light was yellow. Su Wanwan walked in and saw PEI Munian lying on the bed. His hands were behind his head and his eyes were closed. He was lying there quietly, as if he was asleep.

The trace of uneasiness that inexplicably appeared in su Wanwan's heart before slowly disappeared. She couldn't help but laugh.

PEI Munian must have fallen asleep, that's why she didn't pick up my calls, right? She was really overthinking things.

However, this was the first time she had seen PEI Munian go to bed so early. It seemed that he had been really busy recently.

Su Wanwan quietly walked into the bedroom and tried not to wake PEI Munian. She put down her bag, changed into her home clothes, and then turned to the bedside to look at the sleeping PEI Munian.

When PEI Munian was asleep, her tough lines softened, and her entire person blended in with the soft light, looking handsome and harmless.

Su Wanwan couldn't help but squat by the bed. She reached out and gently stroked his face. Her heart seemed to be soaked in warm water, warm, warm.

Who knew that su Wanwan's hand had just touched PEI Munian's face when PEI Munian's hand suddenly covered su Wanwan's hand. Su Wanwan was shocked and her black eyes widened.

"You, you're awake?"

PEI Munian's Black eyes opened slowly. Although she had just woken up, there was no sleepiness in her eyes. He looked at her faintly and did not say anything.

Su Wanwan felt a little embarrassed as if she had been caught. She wanted to pull her hand back but couldn't. Her eyes flickered and she quickly changed the topic. mu Nian, why did you go to bed so early today? Is work very tiring?"

PEI Munian continued to stare at her, not saying a word.

Su Wanwan was a little flustered by his gaze. Although she couldn't say clearly why, she could only continue to maintain her smile and continue, " why aren't you talking? Are you not feeling well?"

"Wanwan."

PEI Munian finally spoke. His voice was unusually low and hoarse, but his tone was very serious. you said that you wanted to start over with me and bear my children. You meant it, right? "

Su Wanwan didn't expect PEI Munian to suddenly say this. She was stunned for a moment and subconsciously replied, " why are you talking about this again? "

"You just need to answer me." PEI Munian's eyes were burning as she looked at her.

PEI Munian's seriousness infected su Wanwan, and su Wanwan restrained her smile.

This answer was naturally definite, but at the moment of her answer, su Wan unconsciously thought of the birth control pill she took in the morning and her confidence was a little lacking. of, of course I'm sincere.

PEI Munian took in all of her expressions. Hearing her answer, he curled his lips, but the light in his eyes dimmed.
