

Deeply 207

207 She was really lying to him (7)

PEI Munian stopped in her tracks and lowered her eyes to look at the mess on the ground.

Fortunately, the floor was carpeted, so it didn't make any noise and didn't wake the person sleeping on the bed.

PEI Munian squatted down and picked up the things that were scattered on the ground one by one, putting them back into her bag. The last thing she picked up was the bottle. He picked it up in his hand and casually glanced at it. It was written with the words 'comprehensive vitamins'.

He was about to put this back into his bag, but something suddenly flashed in his mind, and his hand stopped.

Ever since he and su Wanwan got married, he had never seen her take any vitamins, but there was suddenly an extra bottle in her bag. Looking at the outer shell of the bottle, it should be a new one.

There were some things that PEI Munian really did not want to think too much about. However, at this moment, he could not suppress the terrifying thoughts in his mind.

Were these vitamins real? Or did Qingqing steal the birth control pill?

He really didn't want to believe that su Wanwan would take birth control pills behind her back, but Su Zhenhua's words, his mother's words, and his test last night had already wavered his heart by 70 to 80 percent.

This bottle might be the answer to whether she had taken birth control pills or not.

Should he reveal the answer to this question?

PEI Munian stared at the bottle in her hand for a long time. There was hesitation in her eyes and she was struggling. He could also choose not to see the bottle, choose to ignore everyone's words, choose not to know anything and continue living with su Wanwan.

As long as she was willing to stay by his side, as long as she could still smile at him, even if it was fake.

However, there was already a grudge in his heart. He had doubts and was 80% shaken. Could he really pretend that nothing had happened and continue to deceive himself?

He knew that he could not.

He already didn't care about many things. He didn't care if su Wanwan loved him or not, didn't care if su Wanwan was using him or not, and didn't even care if su Wanwan lied to him, if she could lie to him for a lifetime.

However, she was so perfunctory and insincere even when she lied. How could he tolerate it?

His heart was also made of flesh and had feelings. Because he loved her, he had already placed himself in the lowest and most humble position. He could no longer give in.

PEI Munian's hands suddenly tightened, and the hesitation in her eyes was gradually covered by darkness. He unscrewed the lid and poured out a few pills. Then, he pulled out a piece of paper and wrapped them.

He didn't want to live in suspicion for the rest of his life. He didn't want to not know how to face su Wanwan in the future. So, he wanted to figure out what this pill was.

He put the bottle back into his bag, stood up, and walked to the bed. He looked at su Wanwan's quiet sleeping face, leaned over slightly, and his thin lips kissed her brow.

His deep voice slowly rang in her ears. He said, "Wanwan, I'm willing to believe you. I believe that everything you said to me before was true. I hope that you can really give me your true feelings.

Pausing for a moment, he tugged at the corner of his lips and his eyes turned cold. otherwise, Zhenzhen.

He only muttered these two words, and the rest of the words disappeared between his lips.

When su Wanwan woke up, the sky was already bright. She subconsciously looked to her side, but she didn't see anyone. The bed was also quite neat.

Did PEI Munian not come back to sleep last night?
