Su Wanwan didn't want to lie to her grandfather, but now, she had to tell some white lies. Otherwise, she was afraid that her grandfather wouldn't be able to accept this reality. His body couldn't bear any stimulation.

Su Zhenhua was indeed very disappointed, but he didn't have any other way at the moment. His only hope was on su Wanwan. If she couldn't convince PEI Munian, then the SU group would really be gone.

Wanwan, you'll definitely think of a way to make PEI Munian let the SU family off, right? "

Su Wanwan bit her lower lip hard with her pearly white teeth. She suppressed the sourness that surged up her nose and softly said, " I, I will.

"That's good, that's good, Yingluo."

Su Wanwan swallowed her saliva heavily, restrained the trembling in her voice, and continued, " Grandpa, I probably won't be able to go back to accompany you these few days. You have to take good care of your body and yourself. If there's anything, you must ask nanny li to call me.

"Alright, you take care of yourself too."

Su Wanwan bit her hand hard, afraid that she would cry out in the next second, and only dared to vaguely say "en."

The green light suddenly lit up. Su Wanwan's car was stuck at the intersection and didn't drive, causing the cars behind to honk in dissatisfaction. Su Wanwan quickly said: Grandpa, I'm driving. I'll hang up now.

After saying that, su Wanwan hung up the phone without any explanation. The choking in her throat also came out in the next second.

She raised her hand to wipe her tears, sniffled, restarted the car, and drove forward. However, as she drove, she lost the direction and didn't know where to go.

She couldn't return to the SU residence because she didn't want Grandpa to see that there was something wrong with her and raise his suspicions. She couldn't return to the villa either, which belonged to PEI Munian. He said that he didn't want to see her, but that wasn't a place she could go back to either. So, where else could she go?

Yu Jia performed two operations that day, and he worked from morning to night. When he got home, he was so tired that he just wanted to lie on the bed and do nothing.

As soon as she got into bed, the doorbell rang. She frowned and tried to ignore it, but the doorbell continued to ring. Yu Jia got up in a rage and walked out while thinking hard about who was the one who dared to disturb her at this time! If there was nothing urgent, she would definitely beat him up!

As soon as Yu Jia opened the door and saw the pitiful figure at the door, all his anger disappeared.

She widened her eyes in shock. Wanwan? ”

Su Wanwan squeezed out a smile and her voice was a little weak, ” Yu Jia, can you take me in these few days? ”

It wasn't that she couldn't stay in a hotel, but she was really scared by the terrible thought just now. She was afraid that if she stayed alone, this idea would come back again. And of all her friends, Yu Jia was the only one she could rely on.

Yu Jia was surprised for a while before she regained her senses. She quickly pulled su Wanwan into the house and looked her up and down. “Wanwan, what's wrong with you? Why was there blood flowing from his forehead? You were robbed?”

If Yu Jia didn't say it, su Wanwan really didn't know that her forehead was bleeding. No wonder she felt so dizzy. Her hand unconsciously touched her forehead and it was full of sticky liquid.

She wanted to say something, but her vision went black and her body fell limply to the ground.
