

Deeply 246

246 The peacemaker (6)

Su Wanwan looked at the phone screen for a while. Her fingers moved slightly and she answered the call. She opened her mouth and softly called, "mom."

Mrs. PEI sighed on the other end of the phone. Wanwan, I know about you and Munian.

She had only found out about the PEI family's mid-year celebration this morning because she had gone overseas with her father to attend a friend's wedding.

She never thought that a few days ago, her son was still talking about holding a wedding with Su Wanwan. Now, it had become like this. Feelings were like child's play. If it wasn't for her strong heart, she would have been scared to death by these things.

Su Wanwan originally thought that PEI Ziheng's parents more or less knew about the acquisition of SU group, so that night's dinner party, they didn't attend. Perhaps it was a silent agreement. That was why she was surprised when she saw Mrs. PEI's call just now. She didn't expect that she didn't know.

Wanwan, what's going on between you and Munian?"

What Su Wanwan was most afraid of right now was others asking her what was going on between her and PEI Munian. Because she didn't know how to answer.

How should she put it? she had been overthinking it. She thought that she could win PEI Munian's love and that PEI Munian had really fallen in love with her. She thought that they could get married, have children, and grow old together. In the end, it was just her wishful thinking?

PEI Munian had been hating her from the start, so she was taking revenge on her?

Su Wanwan tugged at the corner of her lips but still couldn't smile. She opened her mouth with difficulty. mom, I'm useless. I can't make Mu Nian like me. Can you just not mention it?"

Mrs. PEI heard the sadness in Su Wanwan's words and her heart ached as well. She originally wanted to ask if she and Mu Nian quarreled because of the birth control pill, but now it was not appropriate to ask, lest it poked at her sad things.

okay, I won't say anything more. But Wanwan, I think that Mu Nian said that he wanted to acquire your company because he was angry. You can coax him. When he's not angry anymore, everything will be fine.

Coax him?

Previously, she was confident that she could coax him back.

However, after yesterday, if she continued to deceive herself, she would really be asking to be humiliated again. So, she had learned to give up.

Su Wanwan naturally couldn't talk to Mrs. PEI about these things. She pursed her lips and said in a faint voice, "mom, I still have things to do. I won't talk to you first."

Su Wanwan's obviously evasive attitude made Mrs. PEI frown.

She listened to su Wanwan's words. She was so negative. If the two of them really went head to head like this, if you don't take the initiative and I don't take the initiative, how can we continue to be husband and wife in the end?

Moreover, if mu Nian really bought over the SU family, their hard-earned fate would really come to an end!

Her feelings towards su Wanwan had always been very strange. In her heart, su Wanwan was not the daughter-in-law she was most satisfied with. She was more fond of Xi Zhiwei, but su Wanwan was the person mu Nian liked, so she also worked hard to accept su Wanwan. After getting along with her, her temper was docile, she was well-behaved and obedient. She also slowly changed her opinion of her. The most important thing was that she could make her son happy, so she didn't want to see the two people separate.

She had to find a way to help them.

Mrs. PEI thought about it and said before su Wanwan hung up the phone, " "Wanwan, are you free tonight? Let's go home and have a meal."