

Deeply 263

263 I just like him (13)

Su Wanwan's footsteps stagnated. She looked back in surprise and looked at him.

Gong Lingyu's hand unconsciously exerted a little more force. The light in his eyes was deep and dark, with deep emotions. Wanwan, you should seriously consider it and let me help you.

For the SU family, for concubine su, she had wronged herself, sacrificed marriage, sacrificed love, and from the beginning to the end, she had been revolving around the SU family, losing herself.

He only hoped that she could live for Him, that she could laugh and cry as she pleased, that she did not have to suppress herself and that she did not have to be affected by anything.

Before su Wanwan could speak, a hand suddenly came from the side and forcibly pulled her hand out of Gong Lingyu's hand. An extremely cold voice rang in the ears of the two people, ruthless and fierce, "you don't have to worry about my wife's Affairs!

Su Wanwan was pulled by that force and her whole person retreated a few steps back, almost falling down. After barely stabilizing her feet, she raised her eyes and looked. The man next to her was shrouded in a dangerous aura, as if he had come out of Asura hell. Su Wan's back couldn't help but feel cold and her body gently trembled.

What was he doing here?

Even though she did not do anything wrong, she was still afraid to see him all of a sudden.

Gong Lingyu did not expect PEI Munian to suddenly appear and was stunned for a second. However, he quickly regained his senses and the anger in his eyes suddenly burned.

Ever since he was young, he had always admired his cousin because he was smart and capable. He could complete anything easily and do it to the best of his ability. Unlike him, there were many things that he needed to put in more energy to complete.

In his eyes, PEI Munian had always been the embodiment of perfection. He had subconsciously learned from her and looked up to her. However, he did not expect that she would disappoint him so much when it came to love and marriage.

Gong Lingyu clenched his fists tightly and glared at PEI Munian. "Wife? PEI Munian, have you ever treated Wanwan as your wife? How can you treat your own wife like this?"

Gong Lingyu's question made PEI Munian, who was originally filled with anger, even more furious. He laughed in spite of his anger, and his voice was strangely calm. how I get along with my wife is our business. What does it have to do with you? Do you think she needs you to fight for her?"

"Wanwan is my friend. Her matters are my matters. I'm going to question you for treating her like this!"

"Friend?" PEI Munian repeated these two words and suddenly laughed. However, there was a deep chill in his smile as he looked straight at Gong Lingyu. friends. To be able to make her not return for an entire night, it's just a friend.

He emphasized the last word, "friend," so that every word was clear.

I didn't return for a whole night.

She had indeed not returned for the entire night, but she was not with Gong Lingyu. He did not even ask and concluded that she and Gong Lingyu had been together the entire night.

However, in his eyes, she had always been this kind of woman, a woman who only knew how to seduce men.

Even though she had already told herself not to have any expectations of him, her heart still ached.

Gong Lingyu was also infuriated by PEI Munian's words and his blood was boiling. He could ignore how PEI Munian looked at him, but how could he misunderstand Wanwan like this?

His cheeks flushed red and his voice was filled with anger. PEI Munian, you're so annoying.

Before she finished speaking, su Wanwan suddenly spoke.
