280 Her chance (2)

With these five simple words, PEI Munian seemed to have been frozen and could no longer move.

Su Wanwan had told him that she liked Gong Lingyu and that she had never been able to forget him. From the beginning to the end, he was unwilling to believe this. He would rather she didn't love anyone than to hope that she didn't love him.

However, the truth was placed in front of him again and again, and he could not continue to deceive himself. He always said that su Wanwan pretended to be innocent and acted as if nothing had happened, but wasn't he the same?

She knew everything clearly in her heart, but she had to pretend to be confused, because this was the only way she could convince herself to continue persevering.

It was just that su Wan's "Lingyu" now completely shattered the last trace of hope in his heart. She bit herself and didn't want to have sex with him not to prove her innocence to him, but it was just that Wanwan didn't want to let Gong Lingyu down!

PEI Munian's lips curled up, but there was no trace of a smile. There was only endless coldness and despair in her body.

The elevator door opened. Su Wanwan forced herself to walk in and pressed the close button.

PEI Munian's emotions caused him to be unable to focus. The reaction of his body that he had forcefully suppressed rushed up again. He wanted to chase after her, but the strength in his body gradually disappeared. His knee went soft and he knelt down on one knee. In the end, he could only watch as the elevator door closed.

Su Wanwan pressed her forehead against the cold wall of the elevator. The heat was slightly relieved, but her consciousness still couldn't help but become confused.

Gong Lingyu's voice came through the phone. Wanwan, hang in there. I'll be there soon.

Su Wanwan's whole body was shockingly hot and her eyes were a little red. She gritted her teeth and said each word as clearly as possible, " I'm taking the elevator now, straight, straight to the parking lot. You, you've arrived, send, send me to the hospital, hospital. I have a good, good friend, Yu Xuanji, Yu Jia, she's a doctor Xuanji.

At that time, su Wanwan's first thought was actually Yu Jia. However, she called her and no one picked up. Helplessly, she could only choose Gong Lingyu.

She knew that it was very inappropriate and inappropriate for her to look for Gong Lingyu in her current situation, but she really had no other choice. As for Gong Lingyu, she had been with him for more than three months and she still believed in his character. He was a gentleman and would never take advantage of others when they were down. He would never take advantage of her like this to bully her.

okay, I got it. Wanwan, wait for me there!

Su Wanwan let out a soft "en. her hand couldn't support it anymore and slowly fell down. Her body also slid down the wall and her consciousness was stripped away.

Su Wanwan slept for a very, very long time and then had a very happy dream.

In the dream, she was still that proud and confident su Wan, as if she could never be beaten down. Her parents were still alive, her sister was also still alive. The family was happy and harmonious. At that time, her only distress was that the boy she loved always ignored her and rejected her. Every time he rejected her, she was very sad. Her parents always told her that he didn't like our Wanwan, that she must have no taste and that we would find someone better than him. Her sister raised her eyebrows and said: "Which brat is bullying my sister? Tell me, I'll help you teach him a lesson!"

She was very sad after being rejected, but when she heard her sister say this, her heart started to ache again. She mumbled, "sister, don't you bully him!
