PEI Munian looked on steadily as she walked towards her car, sat in it, drove away, and watched as her car slowly disappeared from his sight. Only then did he say in a low voice, " because of Wanwan, I've never really thought of taking revenge on her.

He was just very angry. Why was it that no matter what he did, she didn't care about him at all? no matter what he did, she only saw benefits. If their relationship was no longer related by benefits, would she be able to really look at him? however, he still couldn't let her see him.

He was unwilling to accept this, but so what? Love was never something that could be obtained just because one was unwilling.

After that night, she never came to look for him again. Even when he and Xi Zhiwei had such a scandal, she did not care. The acquisition continued. He knew that she had been using all sorts of ways to save herself in private, but she never had any ideas about him again.

Even if she knew that she could not win against him, she would not beg him anymore.

Only then did he understand that without their relationship of interests, they wouldn't be getting close to each other. Instead, Wanwan would never have the chance to get close again!

No matter how desperate he was, he still wanted Wanwan to leave a path of retreat for them. If he could retreat, he hoped that she could move forward.

SU's company's victory was in their hands. Su Wanwan felt a sense of pride in her heart and her eyebrows were dyed with bright and beautiful colors.

This was the first time that she had saved and protected the company with her own efforts. She was no longer like before, always begging and relying on others. How could she not be happy?

This time, she could finally prove that she was capable and that she did not let her parents down. She could also prove to Grandpa that even if she was a girl, she could still achieve something and not lose to men!

Su Wanwan turned her face and glanced at the equity Agent document on the front passenger seat. The corners of her lips rose and she couldn't help but hum a song.

The heavy mountain that had been pressing down on her heart during this period of time was lifted in an instant. She really felt relaxed and refreshed. Even the symptoms of the headache that she had been having recently were relieved.

Her phone suddenly rang. Su Wanwan thought it was Xiao Mei calling to ask about the situation, so she put on her Bluetooth headset and directly picked up. Her voice was light and happy, " Hello, little Yingluo.

Su Wanwan hadn't finished speaking when the other side directly interrupted her, " it's me.

Su Wanwan's smile froze slightly.

The voice on the other side continued to ring. It was unknown what it said, but su Wanwan's eyes were in a daze. Suddenly, a cat jumped out in front of her. Su Wanwan was a few seconds late before she suddenly stepped on the brakes.

Fortunately, the cat ran fast and didn't get crushed by the car wheels. However, su Wanwan braked too hard and her body rushed forward due to inertia. Her head hit the steering wheel heavily again. She was in so much pain that she broke out in a cold sweat.

Su Wanwan leaned on the steering wheel. After a long time, she finally didn't feel so dizzy. She slowly sat up straight and leaned against the back of the chair.

The call had already ended, but the words she heard were still ringing in her ears.

Su Wanwan leaned against the back of the chair. The arc of a shallow smile was still curved at the corner of her lips, but it was full of sorrow.

God was indeed fair. When he opened a door, he would close a window. She could save her company, but she could not save her love.
