Su Wanwan didn't have time to speak when the phone was hung up by PEI Munian. She listened to the beeping sound in her ear and felt speechless.

He had clearly agreed to it this morning, but he changed his mind at the last minute. Was he deliberately playing with her? But it was true, he had never liked her good life.

Su Wanwan bit her lower lip hard, took a deep breath, and calmed her anger.

It didn't matter. She would endure it. After all, they would have nothing to do with each other after they finished talking. She didn't need to endure this groundless temper and anger anymore!

Waiting, right? She would just wait! As long as she could clear things up with him at the first opportunity, she would wait no matter how much it took!

Su Wanwan got up, picked up the bag on the side, and went straight out of the office.

When su Wanwan took a taxi to PEI family group, it was almost seven o'clock. There were very few people who got off work. Su Wanwan stood in front of the gate, took out her phone, and called PEI Munian again, but no one picked up. Su Wan stared at the phone and sneered. She no longer called his number but called assistant Wu.

As soon as assistant Wu saw su Wanwan's call, she was terrified in her heart. Why did this young Madam always pick the wrong time to meet the big BOSS? Could he just pretend he didn't see it?

Assistant Wu quietly put the phone back into the drawer and locked it.

Out of sight, out of mind!

The phone on the desk suddenly rang, and assistant Wu picked it up out of habit. Hello, this is the PEI family corporation's CEO's Secretary Office. I'm assistant Wu. May I know who you are? "

Hello, assistant Wu. I'm su Wanwan.

At that moment, assistant Wu really wanted to chop off her own hand. Why did he pick up the phone so quickly? How could he have forgotten that she also knew his landline number?

Even though she was criticizing him, assistant Wu still immediately put on a smile and said in a flattering voice, " m-young Madam, long time no see. How have you been? "

Su Wanwan was not in the mood to care about assistant Wu's well-being. She went straight to the point and said, " help me tell PEI Munian that I'll be waiting for him downstairs at the company. No matter how late his meeting will last tonight, I'll wait for him until he's free and willing to talk to me!

boss PEI and Yueyue are having a meeting today. We don't know when it will happen. We might have to stay up all night. Young Madam, you should go back first. We'll sort it out when boss PEI is free.

it's alright. Just pass the message to PEI Munian as I said. Thank you.

After saying that, su Wanwan directly hung up the phone.

Assistant Wu still wanted to say something, but the words were stuck in her throat. Hearing the young Madam's tone, she probably wasn't here to say anything soft. And the big BOSS was also in a daze.

Assistant Wu sighed deeply.

PEI Munian did have a meeting to attend tonight. She had initially postponed it, but now that everyone was asked to stay for the meeting at the last minute, everyone was used to it and did not think much of it. The only depressing thing was the big BOSS's expression. It was too scary.

The atmosphere of the meeting was oppressive and heavy. Everyone looked down and did not even dare to breathe loudly.

Time passed by, but the meeting seemed to be endless. The room was very quiet, but outside, there was a sudden flash of lightning and thunder.

In the next second, heavy rain poured down.
