Su Wanwan's voice was faint, as if she was just talking about the weather today. However, how could Gong Lingyu not see how sad and bitter she was in her heart?

Liking a man who didn't love her was already hard enough, and now she had to watch him get together with another woman, even having the fruit of their love.

If he had known earlier, he wouldn't have brought this up with her. Gong Lingyu lowered his voice. Wanwan, are you alright, Wanwan? " I'm sorry, I shouldn't have told you this."

"I'm fine,"

Su Wanwan shook her head and tried hard to maintain a smile. they're all together. Sooner or later, they'll have to take this step. After all, they're in love. And, and not like me. From the beginning to the end, he never thought of giving me a wedding.

She had promised not to cry, but a tear still fell from her eye without warning.

Su Wanwan quickly reached out to wipe it away and laughed dryly. hey, why is there still sand in this restaurant? the sand has run into my eyes.

Gong Lingyu understood everything, but at this moment, for su Wanwan, it was best to see through it and not say it.

yes, there's sand in this restaurant, and my eyes are not very comfortable, " he said with a smile.

He took out a piece of tissue and handed it to su Wan. Then, he took another piece and wiped his eyes.

After the meal, Gong Lingyu sent su Wanwan back to the hotel. Before he left, he couldn't help but ask, " Wanwan, are you planning to stay in the hotel like this forever? You're not coming home? You're still angry with your grandfather?"

I should stay here for the time being, but I'm not angry with Grandpa. I can understand what he's thinking. It's just that I can't accept it now, so I don't want to go home in case he gets angry. He's always been in poor health, so I hope he can rest well.

"Then what are your plans for Yingluo after this?"

"What other plans can I have? After settling the divorce, I'll devote myself to my work. Women can live without love, but they can't live without a job. Maybe I can work hard and become a strong woman."

Gong Lingyu was amused by su Wan. After laughing for a while, he restrained his expression and looked at su Wan seriously with his black eyes. He said word by word, " Wanwan, remember, you will never be alone. I'll always be by your side, so if you have any problems, you must find me, okay? "

Su Wanwan lowered her eyes and avoided the serious light in Gong Lingyu's eyes. She replied, " of course.

However, in her heart, her answer was, " thank you, goodbye.

Perhaps it was really because the mental pressure was too great and her heart was too sad. In the following period of time, su Wan gradually felt that her memory had become worse. There were many things that she clearly remembered a second ago but forgot after turning around. Just like today, she was looking for a document. She clearly remembered where she put it just now, but after saying a few words to Xiao Mei, she didn't remember where she put it and couldn't help but look around.

Xiaomei looked at her strangely. sister Wanwan, what are you looking for? ”

“I've already signed the document you gave me just now, but I can't find it now.” Su Wanwan furrowed her eyebrows.

Xiaomei widened her eyes in surprise. sister Wanwan, isn't that document right beside you? You're the one who saw it. ”

“Is that so?”

Su Wanwan quickly looked at the document in her hand and opened it. It was indeed the document she was looking for.
