341 Get lost (21)

All the sounds in PEI Munian's ears seemed to have stopped at this moment. Only the four words that this woman in front of her said were left.

I had an affair.

PEI Munian mumbled these words. She did not know if it was because she could not believe it or because she was too shocked. He stood there and did not react for a long time.

Su Wanwan also paused for a moment, as if to give him time to digest. Then, she took out the divorce agreement from her bag and reached out to hand it over. I'll take full responsibility for my extramarital affair, so on this divorce agreement, I'm leaving the marriage with nothing. I also stated that during my marriage with you, I'll return the total amount of money you invested in our su enterprise to you. Although I don't have the ability to return it now, I'll pay it back in installments. I'll definitely pay it all off.

PEI Munian's gaze slowly fell on the divorce agreement. On the scattered pages, he saw su Wanwan's signature. It was so clear.

PEI Munian's eyes narrowed and stared at her for a few seconds. He lifted his eyelids slightly and looked at su Wanwan with his black eyes. He was surprised that he could still be so calm at this moment and even curved his lips into a smile. su Wanwan, it seems that you came prepared today.

"I just don't want to waste everyone's time."

PEI Munian's reaction was somewhat beyond su Wanwan's expectations. But thinking about it, it was normal. He didn't love her. How could he have any violent reaction whether she cheated or not? At most, he would think that she was a disgrace to him and the PEI family.

Fortunately, she was prepared for everything. She did not believe that PEI Munian would be able to remain so calm forever.

Su Wanwan smiled and continued, "PEI Munian, I know that you can't accept the things I did in the past because you're high and mighty and can't accept that kind of humiliation. I can understand that, so you want to take revenge on me. You want me to suffer the same kind of humiliation, but you've done it, haven't you? I don't dare to say that we don't owe each other anything anymore, but can the entanglement of marriage end here?"

"Have you said enough?"

The expression on PEI Munian's face didn't change and there was no ripple in her eyes. It was just that the voice he spoke with didn't have a trace of warmth. It was so cold that it made people's hearts tremble slightly. su Wan, after all this talk, you just want a divorce. Unfortunately, your excuse is too bad and not convincing at all.

"You don't believe what I said? Yingluo, you've never believed what I said, even if it's the truth."

Su Wanwan continued to smile. if you don't believe me, then you can take it as a joke. Actually, how could I be willing to divorce you? how many people are after the position of the PEI family's young mistress? I'm the object of envy and jealousy for all women. If you don't agree to the divorce, then let's make it public. I want the whole world to know that I'm your wife, the real young mistress of the PEI family. I want to get everything I deserve, including reputation and wealth. Your net worth!"

PEI Munian really didn't expect su Wanwan's expression to change so quickly and her tone to still be so righteous. It was really her, su Wanwan. But this time, she was smart and took a step back to advance.

PEI Munian could not help but sneer.

Su Wanwan saw the coldness on PEI Munian's face, but she didn't care at all. She continued, " Oh, right, I still have something to tell you. Good news, congratulations. You're going to be a father. The child is six weeks old. You're a father now.
