PEI Munian's fingertips touched it lightly. Even though su Wanwan was already unconscious, her body still trembled from the pain.

PEI Munian pursed her thin lips, a trace of pity and heartache flashing in her eyes.

Assistant Wu brought the first aid kit over. PEI Munian took it and placed it on the table. She opened it and took out the medicine inside. She dipped it in cotton and applied the medicine on su Wanwan's forehead.

The medicine touched her forehead and it seemed to hurt a little. Su Wanwan's long and curly eyelashes trembled and her red lips unconsciously tightened.

PEI Munian's movements became even gentler. As she applied the medicine, she leaned over and gently breathed on her wound, trying to alleviate some of the pain.

Assistant Wu's heart softened when he saw his BOSS's gentle and considerate actions. He had been with him for so long, and the only time he had seen his BOSS's gentle side was when he was with young Madam. There was a period of time when young Madam had still cared about Big Boss and him. He really didn't understand how the two of them had gotten to the point of divorce.

After PEI Munian applied the medicine, she put it down and looked up at assistant Wu. "Go get a blanket."

"Alright," he said.

Assistant Wu turned around and walked to the cabinet. He took the blanket and turned back. When he handed it to PEI Munian, he glanced at the wound on su Wanwan's forehead and said, "boss PEI, this wound looks quite serious. Do you need to call the doctor over?"

PEI Munian covered su Wanwan with the blanket and carefully tucked her in. His hand gently caressed su Wanwan's face and nodded. alright, you can call Dr. Zhao and ask him to come over.

"Okay, I'll contact Dr. Zhao now."

After assistant Wu left, PEI Munian's Black eyes stared at su Wanwan, who was lying quietly in front of her. Her eyes were extremely complicated. He loved and hated this woman deeply.

He hated her heartlessness, hated her cruelty, hated that her heart never stopped on him for a moment, hated that she always played with him and used him. He could casually come up with countless reasons to hate her, but he could not find a single reason for her deep love.

Without a reason, his heart was still firmly occupied by this woman and refused to come out.

Love never needed a reason, right?

PEI Munian's lips curled up, her eyes filled with bitterness.

Suddenly, something fell from su Wan's hand and fell to the ground. PEI Munian's Black eyes swept over it. It was the divorce agreement that su Wanwan had been holding tightly in her hand.

She didn't even let go of her hand when she was knocked into like this just now.

PEI Munian's dark eyes fell on the divorce agreement and a touch of coldness flashed in his eyes. He bent down and picked up the divorce agreement with his slender fingers. When he opened the page, he could see su Wanwan's delicate signature. He could completely imagine how determined and forthright she was when she signed it.

PEI Munian, who had lost her value, was nothing in su Wanwan's eyes.

There was a sharp pain in her heart, but PEI Munian's lips were curved into a smile. His hands tightened and his eyes darkened.

Su Wanwan woke up. She opened her dazed eyes and blinked. Then, when she touched PEI Munian's face, she sat up abruptly. why am I here? "
