

Deeply 356

356 I would rather you hate me (2)

The room was very dark and only the silver moonlight poured in through the floor-to-ceiling window. The man walked to the bed step by step. He gently sat down and, with the help of the moonlight, looked at the sleeping su Wanwan.

She was curled up and did not sleep well. She did not know if it was because of the headache or the nightmare, but there was a thin layer of sweat on her forehead. Her delicate brows were tightly furrowed, forming a small peak.

The man's hand touched su Wan's face, his fingers gently rubbing. People say that pregnant women will be fatter, but she is getting thinner and thinner. There is almost no meat on her face and her chin is pointed.

He looked at her quietly, his eyes a little sour and red. He raised his hand, moved it down, and slowly fell on su Wanwan's lower abdomen. The bottom of his eyes gradually became wet.

He had already sent someone to investigate the child. Even though there were no results yet, he felt that it was his child. It was just that they were not meant to be.

He couldn't take su Wanwan's life to risk it. She could not love him, but Yingluo couldn't disappear from this world. She couldn't be so cruel and leave him behind without a care.

"Hi, little baby." PEI Munian's voice was hoarse, as if she had gravel in her mouth. This is the first time we've met. Let me formally introduce you. My Hanhan is your father. I'm very happy to have met you.

PEI Munian raised her hand and wiped her face. The hand that was on su Wanwan's lower abdomen trembled unconsciously. His voice became lower and lower. baby, I really want Yingluo to welcome you into this world. I want to see what you look like, I want to hug you, I want to give you all the beauty in this world. It's just that if this is the price of your mother's life, I'm sorry, I can only choose your mother.

"For PEI Munian, su Wanwan is the only one in this world."

PEI Munian sat by the bed for a long time. When the sky was slightly bright, he moved his stiff body. Then, he bent down and gently planted a kiss on su Wanwan's forehead. He got up and left quietly.

PEI Munian left the hotel and returned to his car. He first went back to the villa and took a shower. When he came out, the sky was already bright.

His phone rang.

PEI Munian wiped her wet hair with a towel as she walked to the bedside table. She picked up her phone and answered the call. speak.

boss PEI, I have the results of the investigation you wanted me to do.

Su Wanwan slept all the way until noon before she slowly woke up.

The sun was bright and shone on the entire room. The light was a bit glaring. Su Wan squinted her eyes and took a while to adapt to the light. She slowly sat up.

Su Wanwan's Black eyes looked around. She was in her familiar hotel room and she couldn't help but let out a sigh of relief.

She knew that her memory was getting worse and worse. She was really worried that she would wake up one day and do something strange in an unknown place, just like how Qianqian woke up in PEI Munian's office for no reason yesterday.

Su Wanwan sat on the bed and tried her best to recall what happened yesterday. However, she remembered that she went to the hospital and remembered what the doctor said to her. She just couldn't remember why she went to find PEI Munian.

Su Wanwan was still trying hard to think when her phone rang. She picked it up and saw that it was a call from PEI Munian.
