365 I'd rather you hate me (11)

The doctors looked at each other and slowly shook their heads.

Generally speaking, having a blood clot in the brain was not a serious illness. As long as the diagnosis was made in time and the blood clot was removed through surgery, there would basically be no big problem. However, su Wan was pregnant now and couldn't be examined. If she didn't know the specific cause of the illness, even a God couldn't do anything!

PEI Munian's heart sank bit by bit. is there really no way for Wanwan to do anything? "

Dr. Zhao muttered to himself for a moment and said seriously, " boss PEI, when we encounter such a situation, we usually advise the patient to put her safety first and abort the child. After the illness is cured, the child will still be born in the future. Of course, if you really want to keep the child, you can delay it to three months later, and we'll consider if we can do an Mr scan for her. However, even after three months, we can't guarantee that it won't have any adverse effects on the child."

also, based on the young Madam's current situation, she has a headache, memory loss, and often sleeps for a long time. These are all very bad symptoms. We suspect that there's a high possibility of a blood clot, and this blood clot will slowly condense and become bigger, pressing on the cranial nerves, which will lead to many problems. We still suggest that saving master is more important.

PEI Munian sat there quietly, listening to the doctor's words. He had heard all of this when he was standing at the door of the consultation room earlier. However, he still wanted to hold on to a glimmer of hope.

So, although he told su Wanwan that he wanted her to abort the child, he still arranged for the examination tonight. He gathered these professional and skilled brain experts to do a examination for su Wanwan, hoping to get the best of both worlds.

For the first time, he wanted to be greedy. Unfortunately, in this world, there was no such thing as having the best of both worlds. There was only one thing that could not be had.

When PEI Munian returned to the ward, it was already a mess.

Su Wanwan woke up and wanted to leave, but assistant Wu was ordered to keep an eye on her. He could only ruthlessly ask people to stop her, but su Wanwan resisted violently and insisted on rushing out. He and the two bodyguards were men. If su Wanwan forced her way in, they couldn't stop her. He could only call two nurses and press su Wanwan on the bed. Unfortunately, su Wanwan didn't know where her strength came from. She struggled too hard and the two nurses almost couldn't hold her down.

Assistant Wu was sweating profusely from anxiety. When she saw PEI Munian pushing the door open and walking in, her eyes lit up like a drowning person who had just seen a piece of driftwood. boss PEI, you're finally back. Young Madam, she ...

Assistant Wu hadn't finished speaking when PEI Munian suddenly stepped forward. One hand directly pressed on su Wan's shoulder and the other hand directly pinched her chin. She lifted it up and her thin lips kissed her without warning.

No one had expected PEI Munian to do this all of a sudden. They looked at each other in shock.

Su Wanwan's struggling hands and feet were frozen by PEI Munian's kiss. It was as if she had been hit by a pressure point.

The noisy Ward quieted down in an instant, and everyone's breathing seemed to have lightened.

Assistant Wu was the first to react. He quickly made a gesture to the two nurses, and the three of them quietly left.
