

Deeply 373

373 You've won (7)

She was losing all the warmth in her life. Her parents, her sister, her grandfather, and the person she loved. No matter what, she could not lose this child again. She had to grab hold of the only bit of warmth in her life. Otherwise, she did not know how to continue living.

Su Wanwan tried her best to open her eyes wide and look at PEI Munian's face that was close at hand. He was still so handsome and made people's hearts beat faster. He didn't know how much she once loved him. She loved him so deeply and stubbornly. But now, she could finally end this painful and hopeless one-sided love.

The corners of su Wanwan's lips slowly curved into an arc, a sense of relief and relief.

PEI Munian held su Wanwan in his arms. He clearly saw all the expressions on her face, a little giving up, a little deathly silence. He had never been worried that she would do anything stupid because he understood her. She was persistent in wanting to do something and she would not give up easily. Back then, when she wanted to protect the SU family, didn't she also use all kinds of unscrupulous means? So, when she said she would die, he thought she was just bluffing. But now, when he saw the smile on her lips, his heart trembled fiercely.

She was serious.

If he really aborted her child, she would not live alone.

He had always been a straightforward person and also a person who cut through the tangled mess quickly. But when he met su Wanwan, she wavered him again and again. In front of her, he could never be firm.

PEI Munian closed her eyes in pain, tears slowly flowing out of the corners of her eyes. He smiled bitterly and his voice was hoarse. su Wanwan, you won, you won. I'll let you go, okay? "

He had lost. He had lost again. He had thought that he would be able to hold on until the end, but in front of his deep love, he had lost from the beginning to the end.

When su Wanwan regained her consciousness, it was already a day later. She slowly opened her eyes and stared at the ceiling for a long time before her memory gradually returned.

Regarding the memory of that night, she was a bit fuzzy again, but she vaguely remembered that she took a needle and forcefully pierced her neck, bleeding a lot. Su Wan thought about it while raising her hand to touch her neck. There was a place that was indeed bandaged.

So, Qianqian's threat of death failed again? No, that was not right. Before she fainted, she seemed to have heard PEI Munian say that she would let her go.

The sound of footsteps suddenly came to her ear. Su Wanwan moved her stiff eyes and looked over.

PEI Munian's figure was imprinted in her eyes bit by bit. Su Wanwan subconsciously bit her lower lip. Without thinking, she directly asked the question in her mind, "you said that you would let me go, right?"

PEI Munian suddenly stopped in her tracks. Then, he curled his lips in a self-deprecating manner. His lips moved slightly as if he wanted to say something, but in the end, he did not.

After a long pause, he opened his mouth again and said in his usual cold voice, "you can leave, before I regret it."

Su Wanwan's eyes suddenly widened. She didn't hear wrongly. He was really willing to let her go, Huahua.

Su Wanwan couldn't help but curve her lips and eagerly said, "okay, I'll leave now. I won't appear in front of you again in the future, so you can rest assured!"

Su Wanwan's eagerness was like a sharp knife stabbed into PEI Munian's chest. His hands that were hanging by his sides clenched tightly.
